

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

3. Considering the uncertain and fluctuating nature of the expenditure for the relief of the poor, as well as of most of the other expenses charged upon the poor's rate, these variations are so slight that the receipt and expenditure may be considered as having been stationary during the two parochial years ending at Lady-day, 1844 and 1845. The expenditure for the relief of the poor, in the parochial year 1845, was less than that in the parochial year 1843, but greater than that in each of the years from 1836 to 1842 inclusive. We annex to this Report (page 42) a table, containing a complete statement of the receipt and expenditure of the poor's rate since 1834, from which these and other comparisons can be obtained. As compared with the cost of the relief of the poor in 1834, the parochial year immediately preceding the passing of the Poor Law Amendment Act, the amount for 1845 stands thus :—

1834	£6,817,255
1845	5,039,703
Diminution . . .	1,777,552

If to this amount we add the saving under the heads of law charges and the miscellaneous expenditure for "other purposes," which (as we explained in our last Annual Report, par. 17) has resulted from the Poor Law Amendment Act, the total reduction of expenditure in 1845, as compared with 1834, due to the reform of the law, may be taken at nearly two millions sterling, without making any allowance for the increase of population.

4. But although the expenditure for relief of the poor in the parochial year 1845 scarcely differed (as we have already stated) from that in the preceding year, yet the expenditure in particular counties was not stationary. In some parts of the kingdom the expense of the relief of the poor increased, in others it diminished in 1845, as compared with 1844. The following table will exhibit some of these differences.

It will be perceived, upon an inspection of this table, that the diminution has chiefly occurred in the manufacturing, and the increase in the agricultural, districts. Thus, whilst in the West Riding of York, an important seat of manufacture, there was a decrease of 11 per cent.; in the East Riding, which is purely agricultural, there was an increase of 1 per cent. This difference was mainly owing to the fact stated in our last Annual Report (par. 23), that whereas the demand for labour in the manufacturing districts was extensive and constant during the parochial year 1845, an interruption in the employment of the agricultural labourers was caused by the drought in the summer of 1844, and the length and severity of the cold during the winter of 1844-5.

5. The following table exhibits the principal heads of the poor relief expenditure in the parochial year 1845, for that part of the country in which there are boards of Guardians appointed under the Poor Law Amendment Act. From the rest of the country (including parishes under Local Acts, Gilbert Unions, and ununited parishes under the Act of Eliz., whose expenditure for the relief of the poor amounted in that year to £622,730), we do not receive returns which can be reduced to this form.

8. With regard, however, to the statements of the total number of persons who have been relieved in a quarter, which are transmitted to us by the Clerks to the Guardians, it is to be observed that their absolute accuracy cannot be safely relied on, owing to the difficulty of preventing the same person, if he becomes chargeable on several occasions, or in different Unions, from being counted more than once. Their relative accuracy, for the purpose of comparing one period with another, may, as the enumeration is made on uniform principles, be assumed without danger of serious error.

9. In the number of able-bodied paupers relieved in the workhouse during the parochial year 1845, there was (as appears from the subjoined table) a diminution of 10 per cent., as compared with the previous year. In the number of able-bodied paupers who received out-door relief on account of temporary sickness or accident, there was an increase of more than 5 per cent.; but in the number of the same class who received out-door relief, on account of all other causes, including vagrants, there was a decrease of nearly 6 per cent. In the total number of able-bodied persons relieved in the parochial year 1845, there was a diminution of 2·7 per cent.

NOTE.—An Estimate is made for places not in Union under the Poor Law Amendment Act. The above results are obtained from the Union Quarterly Abstracts.

10. We have not yet received complete returns of the receipt and expenditure of the poor rate for the year ending at Lady-day, 1846; but we can state generally that, throughout England and Wales, the working classes have, during this period, been steadily employed at wages rather above than below the average rates, as well in the agricultural as the manufacturing parts of the country. The demand for hands in the manufacturing districts has been constant, and the employment of the agricultural labourers was much facilitated by the unusual mildness of the winter. During last winter, scarcely any workhouse in a rural Union was so full as to necessitate the allowance of out-door relief to the able-bodied.

11. The partial failure of the potato crop for 1845, through a species of vegetable epidemic disease (the effects of which began to manifest themselves in the autumn), induced us to issue, in the month of November last, two circular letters* to the Boards of Guardians, suggesting certain precautionary measures in relation to this subject. In one of these we indicated the extraction of farina from diseased potatoes as a mode of employment in workhouses; in the other we pointed out the expediency of substituting in the workhouse dietaries some article for potatoes. This substitution has been made in certain cases; but the failure of the potato, to the extent to which it has proceeded, has not, in England, produced any important influence on the food of the people. From a few Unions in Devonshire and Somersetshire we have received applications to permit the out-door relief of the able-bodied on account of the failure of the potatoes. We insert in the Appendix† a report from our Assistant Commissioner, Mr. Tufnell, relative to the effects of the potato disease in that part of the country.

12. In the course of the last year, we considered it necessary to issue a general order prohibiting the crushing of bones as a kind of labour to be performed in workhouses. This order will be found in the Appendix‡ to our Report; and we think it our duty to state fully the circumstances under which it was issued.

13. The position of the Commissioners is such that, on the one hand, they often necessarily incur the reproach of interfering too much with the discretion of the local authorities, whilst, on the other, they are held responsible for practices which do not originate with themselves: practices which they would not themselves have introduced, but which are, nevertheless, consistent with the law, and have been deliberately adopted by Boards of Guardians in the exercise of the powers vested in them. The Commissioners do not consider it is their duty to interpose, by regulation or remonstrance, in every instance in which a Board of Guardians may sanction an act or practice of which the Commissioners may not approve, provided that such act or practice be not contrary to the regulations of the Commissioners, or otherwise illegal. Experience may, however, show, in particular cases, the necessity of interfering with the discretion thus left to the Boards of Guardians, when a manifest tendency to abuse is visible, and when obloquy and discredit may be thrown on the general administration of the law, for the sake of local or temporary convenience.

14. With respect to the kind of work to be performed in workhouses, the Commissioners had interfered but little. The 21st Article of their Workhouse Regulations provides that—

“The paupers of the several classes shall be kept employed according to their capacity and ability, and no pauper shall receive any compensation for his labour.”

† App. A. No. 12.

‡ App. A. No. 4.

It appeared to us that local knowledge and experience were peculiarly requisite for determining what species of labour could be best resorted to for the employment of the able-bodied inmates in each particular workhouse. We have always discouraged the Guardians from selecting their mode of labour with a view to pecuniary profit ; but we have, for the most part, left the regulation of the details to each Board of Guardians. The members of that Board necessarily know the habits of the labourers who are likely to form the mass of able-bodied inmates of the house. They are conversant with the means of employment which the materials of the neighbourhood can furnish. In some parts of the country, for instance, stone-breaking is inapplicable, because the roads are mended with gravel ; in others, the vicinity of a sea-port will make the picking of oakum a kind of work readily accessible. Persons on the spot, too, can alone know how far a particular sort of labour may interfere injuriously with the independent workmen. It appears never to have been the intention of the Poor Law Amendment Act that the control of the Commissioners should entirely supersede the judgment of the authorities on the spot, without some just and manifest reason of a general character, and which, from its general character, may possibly not be apparent to a large number of single Boards acting each in its own particular neighbourhood.

15. Upon the grounds which we have just stated, we had, by our regulations, left a discretion to the Guardians, with respect to the mode of employment in workhouses. Many of the Boards, especially in the west of England, in the exercise of that discretion, adopted the breaking and pounding of bones, by hand or by machinery, as work which was advantageous in itself, and interfered little with the labour market out of the workhouse. This mode of employment had been in many places strongly recommended, and in some few instances it had been brought under the direct notice of the Commissioners. On the other hand, objections were raised to its adoption in a particular form, which induced the Commissioners, on the 10th of November, 1842, to write a letter of caution to a considerable number of Unions, requesting them to consult with their medical officers as “to the nature of the bones usually obtained, the instrument employed, and the place where the work was carried on.”

16. After the passing of the 5 and 6 Vict. c. 57, empowering Boards of Guardians to detain casual poor or trampers for a short time, to perform a task of work, and to fix such task of work by a resolution sanctioned by the Poor Law Commissioners, the case was somewhat different, so far, at least, as regarded the application of labour of this description to that particular class for the period of four hours.

When resolutions, imposing a task of bone-crushing, were forwarded to us for our approval, in pursuance of the statute, we re-questioned that the medical officer might be called on to state in each case whether he objected to the adoption of this species of employment, as likely to be injurious to the persons employed on it, or to affect the healthiness of the inmates generally. We withheld our sanction to the resolutions until we were satisfied that no objection was raised by the medical officer. Our correspondence on this subject with the Board of Guardians of the Andover Union is annexed as an example in the Appendix* to this Report.

In a letter to the Guardians of the Plympton St. Mary Union, dated 29th August, 1844, we expressed ourselves as follows:—

“ The Commissioners desire to state that they see no objection to the erection of a shed and room at the Union workhouse, for the employment of the able-bodied. The Commissioners, however, much doubt whether bone-crushing is the best form of affording such employment, and they object to its adoption altogether, without the opinion of the medical officer of the workhouse having been obtained, that no prejudicial consequences of any kind are to be apprehended from the effluvia of the bones.”

In the Torrington Union the Guardians proposed to us oakum-picking and bone-crushing as a mode of employing the paupers in the workhouse. We admitted the first and objected to the second, until we received a special report from our Assistant Commissioner on the subject of the arrangement.

17. Thus it will be seen that whilst we avoided as far as possible any undue interference with the discretion of the several Boards of Guardians, with reference to the labour resorted to in the workhouses, we did not for the most part assent to the adoption of bone-crushing, without such conditions and such precautions as we thought sufficient to guard against abuse.

18. We were aware that many persons entertained strong objections to this kind of work. Nevertheless we did not feel justified in interposing by any general regulation to put an end to the particular mode of employment in these workhouses, until the occurrence of certain painful circumstances connected with it in the Andover Union, added to the objections already expressed, showed that a great and paramount expediency required us to overrule the discretion hitherto exercised in this matter by the several Boards of Guardians. We, therefore, issued the order referred to above; from which, however, one of the Commissioners dissented, and recorded his dissent upon the minutes, according to the provision of the Poor Law Amendment Act.

The remonstrances which we subsequently received from many Boards of Guardians, by whom the practice had been sanctioned, evince the reluctance with which it was abandoned, and the conviction which was entertained in many places that this kind of labour was unobjectionable in itself. In some instances, where there was machinery which would have suddenly stood idle, and where there was a stock of bones in hand, or where some very special circumstances existed, on the application of the Guardians, we suspended the operation of our general order, until the 1st of April. That day having now passed, it has become illegal to employ paupers in workhouses in the breaking or pounding of bones. We trust that no serious difficulty will be experienced by those Boards where bone-crushing was hitherto employed, in providing work which shall be free from the real objections applicable to that now abandoned; and we will direct our own attention, and that of our Assistant Commissioners, to the consideration of the various expedients which may be resorted to with advantage for this purpose.

19. Our attention has been recently called to two cases of infanticide committed by mothers of illegitimate children, who had left the workhouse without a sufficient provision of clothing for their infants. We will proceed to state the facts of these cases, as ascertained by us upon inquiry.

20. The first case was that of Harriet Bowkett, which occurred in the Ledbury Union. The following explanation was furnished to us by the Clerk to the Ledbury Guardians, in a letter dated the 30th of January last:—

“Harriet Bowkett is a single woman, about 23 years of age; she was admitted into the Ledbury Union Workhouse with her bastard child, about six weeks old, on the second of May, 1843, and was discharged on the 15th day of July, 1843. She was again admitted into the Ledbury Union Workhouse in a state of pregnancy, on the 22nd day of August, 1845 (she having left her child with her mother), she was delivered of her second child, in the workhouse, on the 12th of November, 1845. About a fortnight after her confinement, she gave notice to leave the house in consequence of the nurse having reproved her for neglecting and ill-treating her infant, but the matron would not allow her to leave the house, at the same time informing her that she was not in a fit state to quit her room.

“On the 29th day of November, about nine o'clock in the morning, she again gave notice to quit the house. At about 11 o'clock, the medical officer visited the house, when the matron asked him if Harriet Bowkett was well enough to leave the house; he said she was, if she wished it. The matron and the nurse then reminded the woman of her not having any clothing for her child, and begged her to remain in the house until Tuesday, the 2nd of December, when the master would bring her case before the board. She replied, that she had plenty of clothes at her mother's, and would go. She then converted her own cotton night-gown, flannel petticoat, and night-cap into clothing for her infant, in which she dressed it, and then wrapped her shawl round the child; she then dressed herself in the remainder of her own clothes, which consisted of a cotton chemise, stays, a cotton petticoat with a body to it, a gown, stockings, shoes, and bonnet, all in good condition. She quitted the workhouse about one o'clock (the day being very mild for the time of year). After leaving the workhouse, the matron followed her to the outer garden gate of the workhouse, and again entreated her to return to the house, and remain until Tuesday, and offered to send some one to her mother. She replied 'that she was going to a glover in the town to get two dozen of gloves to take home with her to make : that she could get 6s. per week.'

"The woman's mother is a widow, keeping a turnpike-gate in the parish of Mathon, about six miles from the Ledbury Union Workhouse, where the woman's other child was : also clothing for the infant. On her way home, and about a mile and a half from her mother's abode, she stripped the child, and left it naked under a hedge ; then went to her mother, who asked her where the child was, she replied, 'It was where she wished it to be—it was dead.'

"I also beg to state, that the said Harriet Bowkett, during the whole of the time she was in the Ledbury Union Workhouse, never made an application to the Board of Guardians (who meet every Tuesday), nor to any one of their officers, for relief of any kind out of the house. Had she applied to the Board of Guardians, and made it known to them that she had no clothing for her child, nor the money to procure it, an order would have been given to the master of the workhouse to furnish her with what was requisite.

"The Board of Guardians were wholly ignorant of the case until they met on the following Tuesday, the 2nd of December ; the woman was then committed to prison.

21. The second case was that of Elizabeth Butcher, in the Cricklade and Wootton Bassett Union. With reference to this case, we insert a statement of the facts, as ascertained upon personal inquiry by our Assistant Commissioner, Mr. Grenville Pigott (from a report dated the 31st January last).

"As regards the individual case of Elizabeth Butcher, she gave notice of her intention to quit the house at eight o'clock, a.m., on the 9th of January, and did quit it at eleven o'clock, a.m. The Board of Guardians, although sitting, were not informed of the fact, because she had made no application of any kind to be laid before them, and because her departure from the house was of her own free will, and could not be prevented by them. The matron and Jane Cook advised Elizabeth Butcher to stay, but she refused to do so, and said that she wanted to go to her aunt for her own clothes, and that she had baby linen. Jane Cook advised her to send to her aunt for clothes for the baby before she took it away, but she refused to do so. Her residence was at Tokenham, six miles from the workhouse. The Matron and Jane Cook were both of opinion that the child, as it was wrapped up, might have been safely taken that distance on that day, which was mild. The master and matron both bear a high character for humanity, and Elizabeth Butcher made no complaint of her treatment whilst in the house.

"On the other hand, it is to be feared, that the clothing was not sufficient for herself and her child ; and although she made no applieration to the Guardians, who she knew were sitting, for additional clothing, it is admitted by the master that it was generally understood amongst the female paupers that any such application would have been refused.

22. The supply of clothing to paupers leaving the workhouse is a subject which has frequently been under the consideration of the Commissioners. The following remarks in relation to it, occur in a minute of the Commissioners, dated the 29th of October, 1839, inserted in their Sixth Annual Report (App. A., No. 3) :—

“ With respect to allowances of clothing to paupers in the workhouse, it is desirable that persons residing a short time in the workhouse should not on leaving it be furnished, except under very particular circumstances, with a fresh suit of clothes. * * * * Persons permanently domiciled in the workhouse, and especially children who have remained in it from an early age, must on quitting it be furnished with a decent outfit of clothing. Young persons who have been brought up in the workhouse, and who leave it for service or apprenticeship, ought, in the opinion of the Commissioners to be furnished with such an outfit of clothing as is usually possessed by young persons not being paupers in a similar condition.”

We are not aware that the practice of the Guardians with respect to the supply of clothing to infants born in the workhouse, and leaving it with their mothers, was ever brought specifically under our attention until the occurrence of the two cases above-mentioned. The supply of clothing to an infant leaving the workhouse with its parents if legitimate, and with its mother if illegitimate, is relief to the parent, and will, in general, come under the regulations with respect to relief of the able-bodied. If the parents of any infant child in the workhouse are, when about to leave the workhouse, desirous of obtaining an allowance of clothing for the child, they can apply to the Board of Guardians, who, if they think fit, can make the allowance as for a case of emergency. The Guardians can, moreover, empower the relieving officers, or the master of the workhouse, to allow clothing, in cases of urgency, to persons suddenly leaving the workhouse in the interval between the sittings of the Board. And it appears to us that the master and matron ought not to suffer any infant to leave the workhouse, under such circumstances, without sufficient covering to protect it against the consequences of exposure to the air.

23. One of the principal functions imposed upon the Commissioners by the Poor Law Amendment Act consists in authorising the appointment, defining the duties, and regulating the salaries of the paid officers of unions and parishes. A large part of the business of the Commissioners likewise consists in the superintendence of the body of paid officers, and in the decision of the various questions, to which new appointments, proposed increases or diminutions of salary, charges of misconduct, &c., give rise. The following statement shows the total number of each class of paid officers in the unions and parishes under the regulations of the Commissioners, with the total amount of their salaries* :—

24. In our last Annual Report, we gave a detailed account of our proceedings under the authority of the Act of 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101. We now continue that account with respect to those proceedings which were not completed at the date of that Report.

25. We stated in our last Annual Report, par. 44, that we had then framed a scheme for the division of the Metropolis into districts for the relief of casual poor, in pursuance of the provisions in the Act of 7 and 8 Vict, c. 101. This scheme was in substance founded upon the recommendations of our Assistant Commissioner, Mr. Hall, whom we had instructed to investigate the subject, and whose reports, containing the result of his inquiries, we insert in the Appendix.† In the months of July and August last, we issued a series of orders, dividing the Metropolis and its vicinity into six districts, named respectively as follows:—viz., the Central, the North-Eastern, the South-Western, the Western, the South-Eastern, the North-Western, and Metropolitan Asylum Districts. We likewise, at the same time, fixed the number of members which each union and parish, included in a district, was to return to the District Board of Management, and we defined the manner in which the election was to be conducted. We issued also other orders regulating the mode of proceedings to be pursued by the Board of Management, and authorising the appointment of certain paid officers, with specified powers and duties. The following table contains a statement of the most important particulars relative to each of the above-named six districts:—

26. At the proper times appointed by the orders in question, elections of members for the several Boards of Management took place, and a Board was constituted in each district. The local Boards of three parishes, (viz. Marylebone and St. Luke, Chelsea, in the north-western district, and St. Giles, Camberwell, in the south-eastern district,) refused, however, to proceed to an election. With these exceptions, every Union and parish comprised in the orders has returned members to its district Board. All the Boards of Management have held meetings, and three of them have taken the first steps in execution of the powers conferred upon them.

27. We have already stated that the Directors and Guardians of the parish of Marylebone, a parish important from its population and wealth, declined to return members to the district Board. In September and January last, deputations from this parish communicated to the Commissioners their wish that it should be exempted from the plan, and continue to maintain its casual poor separately as heretofore. The Commissioners stated to these deputations their opinion that there were no grounds for excepting Marylebone, which did not apply to all large parishes under local Acts, and that the plan ought to be founded on a division of the entire metropolis. They therefore declined to modify their order in the manner indicated by these deputations. In the early part of this Session of Parliament, a Select Committee of the House of Commons was appointed to inquire into the manner in which the Poor Law Commissioners have carried into effect the provisions of the 7th and 8th Vict., relating to district asylums; and since the appointment of this Select Committee, the Commissioners have abstained from taking any active steps for carrying these provisions into effect; inasmuch as they thought it desirable to wait until it appears whether any alteration of the existing law relative to the relief of the wandering and houseless poor is likely to result from the inquiries and recommendations of the Committee.

28. Having described the nature of the plan which we have formed for the division of the metropolis into asylum districts, under the 7th and 8th Vict. c. 101, we will take this opportunity of shortly stating the course which the Commissioners have pursued with respect to the relief of the houseless poor in the metropolitan Unions and parishes, since the first establishment of the Poor Law Commission.

29. In August, 1837, the Commissioners of Metropolitan Police addressed a letter to the Poor Law Commissioners, enclosing returns of persons found by the police in a state of destitution, and stating that difficulties still occurred with respect to obtaining immediate relief from the parochial authorities, in cases of urgency. The Police Commissioners desired to receive from the Poor Law Commissioners such suggestions as would enable the police to act more effectually in cases of destitute persons, of whom they were obliged to take cognizance. The Poor Law Commissioners, in answer to this communication, addressed a letter to the Police Commissioners (dated 6th September, 1837), in which they explained the state of the law on the subject, showing that destitute persons, though not settled in a parish, were nevertheless entitled to relief from it; and that relief ought, therefore, to precede inquiry into settlement. In the same letter, they indicated the duties of the local Poor Law Officers, with respect to the relief of the casual poor; they likewise suggested that professional beggars should be dealt with under the Vagrant Act.

The following are extracts from this letter:—

“If any person state that he has no food, and that he is destitute, or otherwise express or signify that he is in danger of perishing unless relief be given to him, then any officer charged with the administration of relief is bound, unless he have presented to him some facts or reasonable evidence to rebut such statement, to give relief to such destitute person in the mode prescribed by the law.

“On the occurrence of any case of destitution, or of sudden and pressing emergency, the better course will be to apply to the nearest paid officer of the Union, the Relieving Officer, or the Master of the Workhouse, who best know the most efficient remedies applicable for the relief of such cases, and who have the best means of applying them. The Commissioners will feel it their duty to make those officers responsible in their situations for any serious neglect—for the bad consequences of any omission to give prompt and adequate relief in any case of real destitution and emergency. For relief to be effectual, it must be given at the time when the emergency shall occur to the destitute person. The question as to any existing means of repayment, or as to the place to which the destitute person may be chargeable, it will be the duty of the officer to reserve for investigation after the pressing want shall have been relieved.”

“All persons who are not casually destitute, but who beg as a profession, the Poor Law Commissioners submit should be dealt with under the Vagrant Act, and be apprehended by the police, and taken before the Magistrate for his award of punishment. In those cases which the Union or Parish officers find to be cases of imposture, or where, after the destitution shall have been relieved, it is ascertained to have been brought about by misconduct or by any act of vagrancy, then it will be the duty of those officers to give the offenders into the custody of the police, that they may be taken before the magistrate.

“That which the Commissioners are most anxious to have made known is, that the relief of actual destitution, in cases of emergency, should always precede the investigation of any question as to its cause, or as to the liability of any other parties than the parish to contribute to it.”

The preceding correspondence was published in the Fourth Annual Report of the Poor Law Commissioners, Appendix A. No. 2.

The Poor Law Commissioners, by a circular letter, dated the 12th of December, 1838, and sent to the Boards of Guardians in the metropolis, called attention to this correspondence, as printed in their Fourth Annual Report, and pressed upon the attention of the Guardians the views expressed in their letter to the Commissioners of Police. They further recommended the relief of the casually destitute in workhouses, where they could be employed in suitable labour (Fifth Annual Report, App. A. No. 10). By a similar circular letter to the Metropolitan Boards of Guardians, dated the 7th of December, 1839, they renewed the expression of their opinion as to the obligation of the parish to give immediate relief to casually destitute persons, and they enforced their remarks by the following declaration:—

“The Commissioners request the Board of Guardians to warn their officers that no consideration of past services will be deemed by the Commissioners a sufficient reason for their hesitating to remove any officer, who, after this period, shall have neglected his primary duty in relieving any case of urgent casual destitution brought under his notice, by affording such relief within the workhouse in all cases in which there is ability to labour, or in which relief within the workhouse is desirable, such as cases of houseless destitution and casualty, or by affording such relief as may be appropriate in other cases, in articles of absolute necessity.”—(Sixth Annual Report, App. A., No. 6).

In their Eighth Annual Report, presented in May, 1842, the Commissioners stated fully the law with respect to the relief of wayfaring and casual poor, and explained the nature of the difficulties which had arisen on this subject in the metropolis and other large towns. They there expressed an opinion that the object to be aimed at was to secure immediate relief to this class of poor without reference to the place of their settlement, and at the same time to avoid, as far as possible, affording encouragement to habitual vagrancy (par. 67—73).

In their Tenth Annual Report, presented in May, 1844, the Commissioners further considered the subject in reference to London, and stated an opinion favourable to the establishment of separate asylums for the vagrant poor, at the cost of the poor rates in the metropolis (par. 13—29). In the same year the Act of 7 and 8 Vict. was passed, containing the provisions relative to district asylums, upon which our orders have been founded.

30. In adopting the course just described, with respect to the relief of casual poor in the metropolis, both before and after the passing of the Act of 7 and 8 Vict., the Commissioners have been guided by the following considerations.

31. The laws relating to the relief of the poor confer a right to relief irrespective of settlement. All destitute persons have a right to be relieved at the cost of the parish in which they are. This right in the first instance is absolute; but if a person so relieved has a settlement in another parish, the officers of the parish to which he has become chargeable can, if they think fit, remove him to the place of his settlement.* According, therefore, to the established law, a wandering poor person who applies for relief in a parish, metropolitan or rural, although he has not acquired any settlement in it, must, if he be destitute, there receive parochial relief.

32. It is doubtless desirable, as far as possible, to avoid all encouragement of habitual mendicancy and vagrancy, by affording undue facilities for obtaining relief to persons leading a life of this sort, which is always accompanied with laziness and vice, and almost always with crime. But a wandering mendicant, if he becomes destitute and applies for relief, has as good a legal right to it as any other poor person in a similar condition. If a wanderer of this sort died of starvation or exposure to the cold, in consequence of the refusal of relief, the local Poor Law officers would be held responsible for the result. Nor does a repetition of applications for relief constitute any offence against the law, or render the person liable to the penalties of the Vagrant Act. The 5th Geo. IV. c. 83, contains only three enactments applicable to habitual beggars. In s. 3 it declares, that "every person wandering about, and placing himself or herself in any public place, street, highway, court, or passage, to beg or gather alms, or causing, or procuring, or encouraging any child or children so to do, shall be deemed an idle and disorderly person within the true intent and meaning of this Act." In s. 4 it declares, that "every person wandering abroad, and lodging in any barn or outhouse, or in any deserted or unoccupied building, or in the open air, or under a tent, or in any cart or waggon, not having any visible means of subsistence, and not giving a good account of himself or herself;" and that "every person wandering abroad and endeavouring, by the exposure of wounds or deformities, to obtain or gather alms, shall be deemed a rogue and vagabond within the true intent and meaning of this Act." Unless a wandering beggar, applying for relief at a workhouse, has committed some act falling within one of the above descriptions, and can be proved by legal evidence, to the satisfaction of a justice, to have committed it, he cannot be transferred to the police and proceeded against under the Vagrant Act, but must be relieved like any other destitute person.

It appears, therefore, that the obligation imposed by the existing law to relieve wanderers and houseless strangers applying for relief on account of destitution, in a parish in which they have not a settlement, is unquestionable. This obligation extends equally over all parts of the country, and is binding upon rural not less than metropolitan parishes. Before the interference of the Poor Law Commissioners in the years 1837, 1838, and 1839 (as already stated), it was a general practice in the metropolitan parishes to refuse relief to wanderers, on the ground that they had no settlement in the parish. This practice has to a considerable extent, been changed in consequence of the measures taken by the Commissioners; and less distinction has been made between settled and other poor with respect to relief. But the measures taken by the Commissioners altered not the law, but the practice which had been established in the London parishes; on the contrary, their interference was, as they stated in their letters, founded on a desire to bring the practice into accordance with the law.

33. The distribution of workhouses at short distances over the entire country, and the regular enforcement of the right of strangers and wayfarers to relief, may, in some cases unduly encourage wandering habits among the poor, notwithstanding the provision of the 5th and 6th Vic. c. 57, which authorizes the detention of this class of paupers in a workhouse for four hours in the morning, in order that they may be set to work. Nevertheless this disadvantage, as far as it exists, appears to be a necessary incident to the existing law, which (rightly, as it seems to us) extends the benefit of relief to all destitute persons, without reference to their settlement or place of residence.

34. In the majority of the country workhouses the number of applications from vagrants is not in general so great as to cause material inconvenience, provided there be proper wards for their reception, and adequate means of setting them to work. If the burthen of this class of poor, which is now in general concentrated upon the parish in which the workhouse is situate, were distributed over the entire union, we believe that the practical grievance arising from this branch of relief in rural unions would not be great. As respects the metropolis, the inconveniences and injustice produced by the present mode of relief will, as it appears to us, be materially alleviated by the adoption of separate establishments for the reception of the houseless poor, according to the plan which we have above described. This plan proceeds upon the assumption that the right to relief possessed by this class of poor will remain on its present footing. It involves no new principle of relief; it merely makes a different distribution of the existing workhouse arrangements and the costs of the maintenance. Instead of there being a ward for vagrants in each metropolitan workhouse, there will be a separate building devoted exclusively to the reception of this class of poor, and common to a district of unions and parishes. In this building (which will be a cheap workhouse for a limited purpose), the houseless and wandering poor will be alone admitted, and will be relieved and set to work according to prescribed regulations. Moreover, the total expenses of their relief will be divided among the several parishes and unions comprised in each asylum district, according to their respective valuations. In this manner the costs of the casual poor, which are now capriciously and unjustly accumulated upon certain parishes and unions, will be distributed equally over the entire metropolis.

35. With respect to proposals for strengthening the penal provisions against vagrants, and for rendering it more difficult for wanderers and habitual mendicants to obtain relief, it is to be observed that legal enactments on this subject would be inoperative, unless they were in accordance with public opinion; and, even under the present law, there is, on the part of magistrates, much reluctance to convict for begging, as well as great difficulty on the part of the police in obtaining the requisite evidence. Moreover, it should be borne in mind that the current of modern legislation has run in the direction of affording additional facilities for the free circulation of labour; and it is generally admitted to be an object of public policy that the law of settlement should not oppose any unnecessary obstacles to an unemployed labourer who is bonâ fide in search of work. If any change of the law, in the manner indicated, is to be made, it appears to us that the best course would be to enlarge the power of detention in the workhouse, conferred by the 5th and 6th Vict. c. 57, in cases where a casual pauper had applied for relief more than once in the union within a certain number of days.

36. In our last Annual Report (par. 45-9,) we referred to the provisions made by the Statute 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101, for the appointment of district auditors, and we described the steps which we had then taken for giving effect to those provisions.

Since our last Report, the audit arrangements have been completed throughout the country, although some few additions will probably be made to the existing districts.*

The general results of this arrangement are as follow:—

Total Number of Orders issued relating to District Auditors.	Number of such Orders for continuance of existing Auditors, and altering their Districts.	Number of such Orders for the Election of new Auditors.	Average Number of Unions to each Auditor.	Average Salary of each Auditor.
72	44	28	12.38	£.	s.	d.
				259	10	4½

In 1842, before the appointment of district auditors under the recent statute, the number of auditors in England and Wales was 454, and the average amount of salary for each Union was 22l. Under the existing arrangement, the difficulty of obtaining efficient officers for the discharge of their most important duty, is diminished, and the average salary for each Union is reduced, being 21l. At the same time the aggregate sum paid for the audit has slightly increased; the number of places, the accounts of which are subjected to audit, being larger. In 1842, the number of Unions subject to audit was 585, and the aggregate payment was 12,816l.; at present the number of Unions is 619, and the amount paid is 12,976l. being an increase of 169l. The average size of the districts would have been larger, but for our unwillingness to disturb so large a number of auditors already acting for more than one Union. We had to take our choice between two evils, that of unnecessarily removing persons fit for their duty, or that of exercising the powers conferred by the Act of Parliament, in such a manner, as in many cases to deprive the Chairman and Vice Chairman of Boards of Guardians of their vote at the first appointment of a district auditor. Their right, however, remains unimpaired, as to all future elections, and we could not have effected the object which the law appeared to contemplate, without this temporary inconvenience. That object, we assume to have been the formation of proper districts of sufficient size so as to secure the due and satisfactory audit of the accounts at as early a period as possible. Whenever we deemed it compatible with other arrangements to do so, we have continued existing auditors with a smaller district, rather than infringe upon the rights, even for one election, of the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the several Boards. In other instances, however, it was not deemed by us expedient to do so, and we regret to find that some dissatisfaction has existed in consequence.

37. Our experience of the efficiency of the district auditors is highly in favour of the alteration effected by the Statute. Many illegal practices have been checked; irregularities in the accounts of officers are more strictly investigated; greater punctuality in sending in the accounts of solicitors and others, so that the charge may fall on the rate-payers of the year in which it is incurred, is gradually being enforced, and finally a system of checking the expenditure of parish officers and Boards of Guardians, on more uniform principles, will without doubt, gradually establish itself.

38. One or two legal points connected with the appointment of district auditors and the provisions of the recent Statute have come before the superior courts. The auditor of the Eton Union was also the auditor of the Amersham Union, and having audited the accounts of the parish of Burnham in the former Union, had been required to set forth his reasons for allowing certain items, but had declined to do so. A certiorari having been moved for in the Court of Queen's Bench to bring up this allowance, he objected that he had not been continued by the Poor Law Commissioners as an auditor under the Statute; and therefore that the provisions therein contained relative to the certiorari did not apply to him. The Court of Queen's Bench, however, made the rule absolute for a certiorari, intimating a strong opinion that he could not make such an objection. We are informed that the then auditor has since made a return to the writ, and raised this objection in his formal return.

39. The decision was supposed by some persons to imply that all persons who were auditors for more than one Union, and had not been expressly removed by the Commissioners immediately after the statute was passed, became, by implication of the act, district auditors, and that it was not competent for the Commissioners subsequently to cause the Unions under the control of such an auditor to be included in a district newly formed. The Winslow Union, acting on this opinion, refused to submit their accounts to the district auditor appointed in pursuance of our order. We felt it our duty to apply to the Court of Queen's Bench for a rule to compel them to conform in this matter with what we conceived to be the requisitions of the Statute. The Court, after hearing counsel in answer to the application, made the rule absolute, without thinking it necessary to hear our counsel in support of the rule. We are bound, however, to say, that we believe the Board of Guardians to have acted in this matter in perfect good faith, and to have resisted the right of the district auditor because they believed the law to be on their side.

40. We believe that this institution of district auditors has established a class of Officers whose services may readily be made available for the superintendence and control of other local expenditure—officers for the most part conversant with accounts and with the consideration of legal questions, and who will, from day to day, gain by the experience which necessarily attends the constant discharge of their duties.

41. Section 34 of the Statute 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101, conferred on the Commissioners the power, in certain cases, of consenting to the discharge of outstanding balances which had been struck against officers, provided they had not been paid over, or proceedings taken to recover them before the passing of the Act. This provision was of a remedial character, and was calculated to set right certain irregularities apparent on the face of some accounts, as well as to relieve from the hardship of re-payment officers who might unknowingly, have offended against the law. The power of relief was, however, restricted by certain conditions necessary to prevent the re-opening of transactions already closed, and which must primâ facie be taken to have been lawful, or its interference with proceedings already before the proper tribunal, and therefore to be determined in due course of law. These conditions, imposed by the statute, have prevented our exercising this power of relief, in certain cases, which no doubt have appeared to the parties themselves to be cases of hardship. We could not enter into the consideration of their merits or demerits, since they did not come within the letter of the statute: one such instance there has been in the large and populous parish of Lambeth, in which we had, as we are advised, no discretion conferred on us by the Act. With regard to cases coming within the provisions of the Act, the course which we have hitherto pursued has been to consent to the discharge of such balances as had arisen from ignorance of the state of the law on the part of the overseers, and in reference to which the officers had acted in good faith at the time of incurring the expense. We have declined, in a few instances, to consent to the discharge, where there had been deliberate and wilful perseverance in illegal payments.*

42. We have under the powers conferred upon us by Section 38 of the 7th and 8th Vict., c. 101, by orders issued during the last year, directed the Auditors to audit the Accounts of the Unions and Parishes in their respective districts twice in every year. This change in the period of audit, from quarterly to half-yearly, has rendered some modifications in several of the Books of Account and Forms prescribed by the Commissioners in 1836, necessary. The experience of ten years in the working of the accounts then prescribed, has also suggested many improvements in the arrangement of the Books and Forms, whereby a more satisfactory check on the parties accounting may be attained, without increasing the labour of keeping the accounts. We have, therefore, availed ourselves of the occasion which the change in the period of audit has presented, for taking the whole of the present Order under our consideration, with a view to revising all the Books and Forms, and introducing such provisions as may appear best adapted for securing proper accounting. We purpose issuing the revised Order with as little delay as may be compatible with that mature consideration which the importance of its provisions demands.

43. Although the questions which have annually been submitted to us in relation to the election of Guardians have been very numerous, we have not found it necessary to exercise the power vested in us by the 8th Section of the Act of 5th and 6th Vict., c. 57, for determining such questions by Orders under Seal, in more than three cases. One of these cases occurred in the Cambridge Union, another in the Kensington Union, and the third in the West Bromwich Union.

44. In our last Annual Report (par. 34), we adverted to objections which had been made to certain provisions of the General Order issued by us on the 31st of December, 1844†, for regulating the Apprenticing of Pauper Children. In consequence of such objections, we addressed a Circular to the Boards of Guardians, intimating that we proposed to make some modifications in that Order, and should be ready to receive any observations which they might wish to offer thereon. Having duly considered the numerous communications *made to us upon the subject by Boards of Guardians, we issued an Order on the 15th of August 1845,‡ modifying the first-mentioned Order, by enabling Boards of Guardians to give premiums, other than clothing, in certain cases, and to dispense with the condition requiring the payment of a remuneration to an apprentice after the age of 17 years, and also to authorize the master to change the place of abode or service of the apprentice.

45. We stated in our last Annual Report, par. 51, our belief that some Unions in different parts of the country might be advantageously reduced in size, by means of the powers contained in the 7th and 8th Vict., c. 101, and we particularly indicated the Lincolnshire Unions, as likely to derive benefit from such a modification. During the last year, we have remodelled the Wycombe Union, and we have directed the attention of our Assistant-Commissioner, Mr. Weale, to the large size of some of the Lincolnshire Unions; but we find so much local opposition to any change in the existing boundaries of Unions, that we have only exercised this power in a few cases.

46. By an Order, dated the 27th February last, we formed the parish of Farnham, which had previously been administered under Gilbert's Act, together with the parishes of Aldershott, Dockenfield, Frensham, and Frimley, into a Union, named the Farnham Union, and we have subsequently added to the Union the Ville of Waverley. We insert in the Appendix* the statistical particulars relating to it. A Board of Guardians for the Union has been elected, and we have every reason to anticipate a favourable result from their administration of the law.

47. Upon the subject of Medical Relief, we have nothing material to state in addition to the explanations in our Annual Reports since 1842. The expenditure under this head has increased in the parochial year 1845, as appears from the following Table:—

TOTAL EXPENDITURE FOR MEDICAL RELIEF.

Years ending Lady-day.	Amount of Medical Relief.
1838	136,775
1839	148,652

48. From the steps which we took, as detailed in our last Report, we anticipated that the Vaccination Returns for the year ended 29th September, 1845, would show a large increase in the number of persons vaccinated by the public vaccinators of the several Unions; and it will be seen by the summary of these Returns, contained in the Appendix* to this Report, that the progress of vaccination during that year has been highly satisfactory, there having been 362,087 persons vaccinated, and the operation having proved successful in 347,765 cases, the successful cases being equal to 96 per cent. on the number vaccinated.

49. The following Table shows the numbers vaccinated, and the births in the Unions from which Returns have been received for the years ended respectively 29th September, 1844 and 1845:—

Years.	No. of Unions and Parishes.	No. of Persons Vaccinated.	No. of Persons successfully Vaccinated.	No. of Registered Births.	Ratio of Persons Vaccinated to the No. of Births.	Ratio of Persons successfully Vaccinated to the No. of Births.
1844	542	290,453	278,192	452,235	100 in 156	100 in 163
1845	580	362,087	347,765	486,632	100 in 134	100 in 140

50. In order to ascertain whether the number of children vaccinated under one year of age approximated to the number of births, we framed the form of Return so as to show the number vaccinated under and above that age; and we find that the numbers were as follows:—

	Under one Year.	Above one Year.	Total†
Vaccinated . . .	154,031	204,242	362,087
Successfully vaccinated	147,958	196,216	347,765

The number vaccinated under one year of age is 43 per cent. upon the total number vaccinated, and 32 per cent. upon the number of births.

In every Union in which we found that the number vaccinated under one year of age did not nearly approximate to the number of births, or in which a falling off had taken place in the number vaccinated, as compared with the previous year, we requested the Guardians of the Union to call the attention of the vaccinators to the subject, and to urge upon them the importance of extending the practice of vaccination in their districts. Though the number of children vaccinated under one year of age is only 32 per cent. upon the number of births, we still think that the relation which

* Appendix B. No. 13.

† These totals do not correspond, in consequence of the ages of the persons vaccinated not being distinguished in some of the Returns.

the births bear to the number vaccinated is a tolerably correct measure of the efficiency of the arrangements for promoting the object of the Vaccination Extension Act, as from the communications which we have received from Boards of Guardians and vaccinators; we learn that vaccination is very frequently deferred till the child attains its second or third year.

51. During the past year Small Pox has not prevailed to such an extent as it did in the year 1844, the deaths in the metropolis in 1845 being only 909, whilst in 1844 they were 1804.

The Registrars of the 115 districts, comprised in the Quarterly Tables of Mortality published by the Registrar-General, are required when the deaths are above the average, to state whether any epidemic disease has been prevailing in the districts, or if there be any other known circumstance which will account for the increase. We are thus enabled to ascertain in what localities Small Pox has recently been prevalent, and we then place ourselves in communication with the Boards of Guardians of the Unions in which the deaths occurred, and request that the public vaccinators may be instructed to use every means in their power to extend the practice of vaccination in their respective districts, and that the attention of the residents of the Union may be especially directed to the arrangements which have been made for vaccination. At the same time we feel bound to state, that the Boards of Guardians and vaccinators generally appear to be fully sensible of the importance of giving full effect to the provisions of the Vaccination Extension Act, and manifest great zeal in the extension of the practice of vaccination. The amount paid in fees to the vaccinators during the year ended 25th March, 1845, was 25,905*l.*, being an increase of 9025*l.*, or of 35 per cent. upon the amount paid in the previous year.

52. In our last Report we stated that we had received notice on behalf of some of the parishes which considered themselves members of the Alstonefield Union, of their intention to apply for a writ of certiorari to bring up our order, forming the Ashbourne Union, before the Court of Queen's Bench. That notice was abandoned, and another notice having been afterwards served, was acted upon, and a rule nisi for the writ was obtained in Trinity Term last. In the same term cause was shown by our counsel, and the rule was discharged with costs, the Court being satisfied that the several parishes which claimed to belong to the Alstonefield Union had never been legally added to it. By this decision the validity of the order forming the Ashbourne Union was established, and all the parishes comprised in it have been brought under the operation of the general law.

53. We also stated in our last Report the circumstances connected with the legal proceedings which took place in respect of the order which we issued to the Rochdale Union in October, 1844, and that a rule nisi had been obtained for setting aside the verdict, which we had obtained at the assizes on the trial of the traverse of the mandamus. We considered that the decision of the question, which was one purely of form, could not be obtained according to the ordinary course of the proceedings in that court until after a long interval. In the mean time the administration of the law for the relief of the poor in the Union was in a state of great embarrassment, in regard to the legality of any proceedings which could take place in the matter. As there had been no election of Guardians at the time for the last annual election, there was no Board of Guardians to which we could issue a fresh order. The case, therefore, was one to which the provision in the 38th section of the Poor Law Amendment Act, which requires the ex-officio Guardians to act, applied. We accordingly called upon them to do so, and at the same time issued an order, requiring the several townships in the Union to proceed to an extraordinary election of Guardians. The Justices proceeded to act in conformity with the law, and took upon themselves the administration of the law for the relief of the poor, until Guardians having been elected in some of the townships, a portion of those Guardians proceeded to carry out the provisions of the law, and during the last winter and up to the present time have acted in the complete discharge of their duties. The object of the mandamus having been thus obtained, we considered that no benefit would have resulted from our continuing the litigation in which it was involved, and consequently the proceedings were stayed at Christmas last by the ordinary course of a stet processus.

54. In furtherance of our intention to bring the Ashton-under-Lyne and Oldham Unions into operation for the administration of the law, we issued an order to the former Union, dated the 30th of September last, directing an election of Guardians to take place, and another on the 14th of December, directing the Guardians forthwith to assume the administration of the relief of the poor. Both orders were readily obeyed, and that Union is now in full operation.

55. In the Oldham Union, which was also originally formed in 1837, inasmuch as no Board of Guardians ever met for the discharge of their duties, there was no clerk who could conduct the election; consequently a question arose as to the best mode of procuring such election in this Union; and we considered it advisable to direct the several parish officers to meet, and elect a person to act as a returning officer, to conduct the election of Guardians for the several townships of which the Union is composed. This order was issued on the 15th day of November last, and directed the overseers to make the appointment on the 2nd day of December last. Some of the overseers attended at the appointed place of meeting; but as the greater part of them abstained from so doing, no election was made. We applied in last term to the Court of Queen's Bench for a writ of mandamus to the several overseers in this Union to meet and elect a returning officer, and obtained a rule nisi, which has been made absolute this Easter term. An affidavit had been made in answer by the parties who represented the township of Oldham, in which they questioned our power to direct the appointment of the returning officer, but no cause was shown against the rule, as it was proposed by the defendants to argue the question, whatever it may be, on the return to the writ, which we shall forthwith cause to be prepared and served.

56. As it was found that considerable difficulty existed in framing proceedings under the new provisions relating to Bastardy in the 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101, so as to be free from technical objections, the Legislature passed, in the commencement of the Session of 1845, a short Act (8 and 9 Vict. c. 10) upon the subject, which supplied a complete series of forms to be used in such proceedings, and also removed some few doubts which had arisen in the construction of the former Statute.

57. But there were three Acts of the last Session to which, as they affected the relief of Paupers, we deemed it necessary to give particular attention. We allude to the Acts for the Licensing of Houses for the reception of Lunatics, and for enforcing the establishment of Lunatic Asylums, and the Act for the removal of Scotch and Irish Paupers. Those Acts determined the course of proceedings which had previously prevailed in regard to the relief and removal of the classes of paupers to which they applied, and introduced many new regulations. We thought it expedient to prepare and circulate a letter* to all Boards of Guardians, containing an exposition of such of the regulations and provisions of those Statutes as appeared to us to require the attention of the Guardians and their Officers, in reference to the performance of their several duties in the administration of the relief to the poor. We also directed the attention of the Medical Officers to the duty imposed upon them, in regard to visiting and reporting upon Lunatic Paupers, by a separate communication.

58. The Act of the last Session, for the protection of Seamen entering on board Merchant Ships (8 and 9 Vict. c. 116); containing provisions prohibiting the engagement of seamen by other than licensed persons, appeared to affect the unions and parishes in certain districts, from which lads are frequently sought for engagement into that service. We therefore deemed it expedient to transmit a copy of this Statute,† with a brief reference to its provisions, to the different Boards of Guardians.

59. We may mention likewise, that a Statute of the present Session of Parliament (9 and 10 Vict. c. 10) having altered the mode which had been established for the repayment of Greenwich and Chelsea Pensioners, who by themselves or by their families receive parochial relief, we have taken means to communicate to the different Boards of Guardians the new provision,* which will, we believe, remove much of the mischief that has resulted from the mode of dealing with the pensions of these persons.

* Appendix A. No. 7.

† Appendix A. No. 5.

60. Before we conclude the account of our proceedings in England, we think it right to advert to the subject of parish property. Although the sales of this property have been much diminished for some time past, they have by no means ceased. We regret to find that, in many places there is a determined resolution on the part of the parishioners to retain their old workhouses, as receptacles into which they allow paupers receiving out-door relief to be crowded, instead of such paupers being relieved by the Guardians to the extent, or in the manner requisite to secure them adequate and proper lodging. Too many families are thus congregated in places which cannot be regulated or kept in proper order and repair, where no control exists, and where many evils affecting both the health and the morals of the inmates are engendered or aggravated. We constantly remonstrate with Boards of Guardians and Parish Officers upon this state of things, but have had little success in carrying into effect the only sound remedy. The appearance of a saving to the parish by allowing a pauper to reside in such dilapidated buildings rather than supply the means of providing proper lodging, or causing them to be received into the Workhouse, proves to be an unsurmountable barrier to the course which is obviously desirable—namely, the disposal of such property to persons competent and willing to attend to and improve it.

61. It is sometimes urged that the property is a profitable investment for the parish, as it may be let out to labourers at rents to be paid over in aid of the Poor Rates. But it is only under very peculiar circumstances that this can be the result. The Parish Overseers are seldom strict or accurate receivers, and the labourer who occupies the cottages is so little above the class of paupers, that the exaction of the payment of the rent would too often bring him into that condition. The rent is therefore excused, and the tenant loses that habit of punctual payment which is so important to be preserved by him. In an application which we lately received from a parish in a Northern Union for the sale of some cottages occur the following expressions:—

“The cottages act as a bounty upon pauperism; the occupiers are in a worse condition than the generality of labourers in the village; they are more insubordinate. As soon as a vacancy occurs or is in prospect, the overseers are subject to great annoyance by numbers of applications, chiefly persons with large families, who threaten that, unless a house is provided for them, they will throw themselves and families upon the PoorRate, a great and increasing evil."

We believe this to be a correct representation. We have, in many instances, stated to the District Auditors that it is their duty to enforce from the Overseers an account of the rents of such property, as we consider that the law does not empower them to dispense with the payment of those rents.

62. The Emigration of poor persons during the last year has not been so extensive as in former periods, in consequence of the greater demand for labour in this country. The number who have emigrated will appear in the Table in the Appendix* applicable to this subject. One of the shipowners usually engaged in emigration made Southampton the port of embarkation for all the emigrants who were carried by him, instead of the port of London, which has been customarily the port of embarkation for emigrants from the South-Eastern Counties. Some advantages undoubtedly resulted from this course, but we are not prepared to express any opinion in favour of its universal adoption.

63. The Colonial Land and Emigration Commissioners were enabled, by means of arrangements with the Colonial Governments of New South Wales and the Cape of Good Hope, to resume gratuitous emigration to Australia, and to provide the same to a limited extent to the Cape, and some of the persons who emigrated under the authority of our orders, availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded to them of proceeding to those colonies. We have not been accustomed to favour or forward emigration to the Cape, as we were not assured that this Colony required additional labourers, and consequently felt a difficulty in satisfying ourselves of the proper reception of emigrants of the class referred to. At the same time, the cost of the passage was generally so great as to prevent parishes from assenting to the outlay. But when the Commissioners above referred to were enabled to propose and carry out this emigration, though to a small extent, we readily approved of the various applications made to us to sanction the trifling expenditure from the parochial funds, which was sometimes required to enable the parties to accept the offers of the Commissioners. As there appeared to be no doubt of the emigrants being instantly engaged on their arrival at the Cape, we withdrew our requisite of the landing money in this instance, as we had previously done in regard to Australia. We have reason to believe that the emigrants, on arrival at the Cape, obtained immediate employment.

* Appendix B. No. 12.

64. In our 10th Annual Report, we expressed our opinion in favour of the establishment, under the sanction of the Legislature, of a fund for Superannuated Workhouse Masters, to be created by receiving a proportionate part of the salaries of these Officers, who would have a contingent claim upon it. Since that period a more comprehensive arrangement of the same kind has been in the contemplation of Parish and Union Officers in England. Our Assistant-Commissioner, Mr. Hall, has been consulted on the subject; and it appears from papers communicated to him, that more than 1030 Paid Officers have signified their assent to the formation of a Superannuation Fund on the principle of deduction from their salaries; and that 22 Boards of Guardians have passed resolutions in favour of such an arrangement. We also perceive from the printed votes of both Houses of Parliament, that several petitions have been presented, praying the Legislature to facilitate the establishment of such a fund. We observe that in the Act to amend the Laws for the provision and regulation of Lunatic Asylums in Counties and Boroughs (8 and 9 Vict. c. 126,) it is provided in the 43rd section that such superannuation annuities, payable out of the County Rates, may be granted by the Justices to any Officers of such Lunatic Asylums, on their becoming incapacitated from confirmed sickness, age, or infirmity, as they (the Justices) may in their discretion think proportionate to their merits and time of services, not, however, exceeding in amount two-thirds of the salaries payable to them at the time of their retirements. We refer to this provision as evidencing the disposition of Parliament in favour of the general principle of granting superannuation allowances to incapacitated Officers on their retirement from situations, being similar to those of Officers concerned in the administration of the relief of the poor. The particular manner which we are prepared to approve would, in its principles and details, resemble rather the system of the Police Act than that of the Lunacy Act; and we advert to the subject on this occasion, in order to express our readiness to assist in the preparation of any such measure, believing that it would be for the advantage of the Paid Officers and the Rate-payers, as well as that of the recipients of relief.

PROCEEDINGS IN IRELAND.

65. We are enabled to report favourably of the progress of the Poor Relief Act in Ireland since the date of our last Report.

We then stated that in four Unions no rate had been made, and that the number of Unions in which the workhouses still remained unopened was 12, viz., Cahirciveen, Castlerea, Clifden, Dunfanaghy, Enniskillen, Glenties, Kenmare, Lowtherstown, Milford, Swineford, Tuam, and Westport.

66. At the present time the only Union in which no rate has been made is the Clifden Union, the Guardians of which have recently, at our urgent instance, determined to open the workhouse and to make a rate. The Guardians of Dunfanaghy, Enniskillen, Glenties, Kenmare, Lowtherstown, Milford, and Swineford Unions have duly opened their respective workhouses for the admission and relief of the destitute poor. In Cahirciveen a rate was put in course of collection on the 14th of February last, and it is believed that arrangements will shortly be made for opening the workhouse.

67. We found it necessary, in Trinity Term last, to press proceedings in the Court of Queen's Bench against the Guardians of the Westport and Castlereagh Unions, for the purpose of requiring them to open their respective workhouses.

68. The Guardians of Westport Union showed no cause against the conditional Rule of the Court, and finally opened their workhouse on the 5th of November last. There are at this time nearly 100 persons receiving relief in the Westport Workhouse, and we feel now assured of the earnest co-operation of the Guardians in carrying out the objects of the law.

69. In the case of the Castlereagh Union, the legal proceedings were protracted by the opposition of the Guardians until Michaelmas Term, when the rule for a mandamus was made absolute, no cause having been shown. The writ was, in due course, served upon the Guardians, and they passed a resolution to open the workhouse, at their meeting of the 3rd January. They resolved at the same time on making a further rate of 2½d. in the pound.

70. We mentioned in the last Report that a writ of mandamus had been served upon the Guardians of the Tuam Union, returnable in Easter Term. The Guardians made a return accordingly, and the case was argued in the subsequent Term, when the Court gave judgment against the return, with full costs, and a peremptory order was issued thereon to the Guardians, requiring them to complete the appointment of collectors, and to sign the warrants. This writ was duly served on the 14th July, 1845, and on the 20th October, a few days before the commencement of Michaelmas Term, the Guardians obeyed the order of the Court, and the rate made in the year 1842 has been at length put in course of collection.

71. The subsequent proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Tuam Union were by no means so satisfactory as to lead us to hope for their cordial co-operation in carrying out the Act for the relief of the poor. With the almost certain prospect of a scarcity of provisions in the ensuing spring and summer, we felt constrained to consider most seriously the responsibility which would rest upon us, if we failed, under such circumstances, to use to their full extent the powers entrusted to the Poor Law Commissioners by the 26th Section of the Act; and if in consequence of such default, combined with the default of the Guardians, no effectual provision should be found to exist for the relief of the poor in the Tuam Union at a time of severe distress.

72. The 26th Section of the Act provides—

That in case regular meetings of the Board of Guardians of any Union shall not be holden at the times enjoined by the Orders of the Commissioners, or in case, through the default of the Guardians, the duties of such Board of Guardians shall not be duly and effectually discharged, according to the intention of this Act, the Commissioners shall declare such Board of Guardians to be dissolved, and shall order a fresh election of the Guardians of such Union; and in case the Guardians elected at such fresh election shall not hold regular meetings at the times enjoined by the Orders of the Commissioners, or in case, through the default of such Guardians, the duties of such Board of Guardians shall not be duly and effectually discharged according to the intention of this Act, then the Commissioners may appoint such and so many paid officers as they may think fit, to carry into execution the provisions of this Act, &c.

73. On due consideration of these powers and responsibilities, and of the circumstances which had arisen since the declaration of the Tuam Workhouse in August, 1842, we determined on dissolving the Board of Guardians, and the order of dissolution was accordingly issued on the 2nd of February, immediately previous to the commencement of the proceedings for the annual general election of the Board of Guardians.

74. In the Castlereagh Union the Guardians had, as already stated, determined to open the workhouse after being served with the writ of mandamus from the Court of Queen's Bench. As it was proposed to make a rate at the same time of twopence-halfpenny in the pound only, which was quite inadequate to meet the existing liabilities, and provide for the probable future exigencies of the Union, we felt it impossible to rely with confidence on the voluntary exertions of the Guardians, to provide against a period of such general and severe distress as was expected to arise, and, accordingly, pursued the same course as in the Tuam Union, by dissolving the Board of Guardians immediately before the commencement of the proceedings for the annual general election of the Board.

75. Should the new Board of Guardians, in either of these cases, fail to discharge effectually their duties as Guardians of the poor, we shall, under the section cited, be in a position to supersede them forthwith by the appointment of paid officers, whereby the provisions of the statute would be carried out under our direct control. It is satisfactory to us, prepared as we are in case of necessity to resort to the exercise of those powers, that we have, in the first instance, always endeavoured to give effect to the views of the Legislature, when resisted, by an appeal to judicial authority. We still trust that the decisions which the Court of Queen's Bench has pronounced in vindication of the law, and which have invariably been followed by submission elsewhere, will finally have their due effect in the Tuam and Castlerea Unions, and render unnecessary the appointment of paid officers to perform the functions of the Guardians in those Unions. Such a course, however effectual it might prove to be in providing a well-organized system of relief, must be attended with a serious degree of additional expense to the rate-payers; and would be still more to be regretted, perhaps, as a departure from that representative form of local government, which is elsewhere established in Ireland under the provisions of the Poor Relief Act.

76. We give in the Appendix* a Table showing the accounts of expenditure incurred in the building of the workhouses in Ireland, so far as those expenses have been supplied in advance by loans from the Government. The total amount of the loans so borrowed for these purposes in the 130 Unions has been 1,145,150*l*. Comparing this amount with the entire valuation of Ireland, now completed, the result is an average poundage of 1*s*. 8½*d*. in the pound. This poundage was stated in our last Annual Report to be 1*s*. 8¼*d*., having been calculated on the materials then existing. The degree of pressure on each Union will be seen by reference to the Table in the Appendix. The entire sum is payable by equal instalments over a period of 20 years; and the average poundage annually payable in respect of the principal sums is, therefore, a small fraction above one penny in the pound. But the degree of pressure is very different in different Unions, as will be seen from the Table.

77. The Annual Returns of Expenditure, made to Parliament under section 123, for the year ended 31st December, 1845, are given in the Appendix.† Those Returns are from 123 Unions, in which the workhouses were opened at that time. The total expenditure of that year appears to have been 316,026*l*., and the number of paupers relieved 114,205.

78. We give in the Appendix,‡ as usual, tabular statements, prepared from the audited accounts of the two half-years, which ended on the 25th March and the 29th September last respectively; and we now subjoin the usual summary of the receipts and expenditure for each of those half-years.

79. Tabular statements, showing the particulars included in the establishment charges; the separate accounts of the cost of maintenance and clothing of the inmates; the numbers relieved in each half-year, and the average weekly cost per head, are given in the Appendix.* The average weekly cost per head of maintenance and clothing for the March half-year appears to have been 1*s.* 8½*d.*, and in the half-year ended September, 1*s.* 8*d.*

80. The amount expended in vaccination during the first half-year, in 108 Unions, is 1,553*l.* 3*s.* 11*d.*; during the second, in 112 Unions, 1,813*l.* 8*s.* 2*d.* A Table showing the state of the vaccination arrangements, according to our last Returns, is given in the Appendix.†

81. The financial state of the Unions in Ireland has never been more satisfactory than it is at the present time, so far as we are enabled to judge from the Monthly Returns of the collection of the rates, and of the treasurers' balances in the several Unions. We have a series of these Monthly Returns, extending from May, 1843, to the present time.

82. In the Return for May, 1843, comprising 111 Unions, the amount collected during the month was 29,034*l.*; the amount remaining uncollected was 143,923*l.* In 52 Unions the treasurers' balance was against the Guardians to the extent, in the whole, of 25,438*l.* The balances, in favour of the remaining Unions, amounted to 19,741*l.*, leaving a net balance against the Unions of 5,697*l.*

83. In a like Return for February, 1844, comprising 113 Unions, the balance was against the Guardians, in 34 Unions, to the extent of 12,996*l.*, and in favour of the Guardians, in 79, to the extent of 26,837*l.*, affording a net balance of 13,841*l.* in favour of the Unions.

* Appendix B, Nos. 15 and 16.

† Appendix B, No. 20.

84. In the Return for February, 1845, comprising 116 Unions, the amount collected within the month was 24,958*l.*; the further amount of 145,885*l.*, being in progress of collection, and the balances at the close of that month were against the Guardians, in 24 Unions, to the extent of 10,399*l.*, and in favour of the Guardians, in the remainder, to the amount of 41,199*l.*, giving a net balance of 30,799*l.* in favour of the Guardians.

85. In the Return for February, 1846, comprising 128 Unions, the amount collected during the month was 41,871*l.*, leaving in course of collection 206,664*l.*; the balances against the Guardians, in 25 Unions, amounted to 5,294*l.* only; and in the remaining 103 Unions, the balance was in favour of the Guardians to an amount, in the whole, of 54,314*l.*, giving a net balance of 49,020*l.* in favour of the Unions. When it is considered that the current expenditure is at the rate probably of about 320,000*l.* per annum, and that in a great number of the Unions rates are made half-yearly, the sum which is stated to be now in hand, and that which is in course of collection, must be regarded as satisfactory, constituting, as they do together, assets to the amount of 260,000*l.*

86. Defalcations on the part of the Collectors of Poor Rates in some Unions having been brought to our knowledge, we have recommended the Guardians to take criminal proceedings in some cases under the 101st Section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, and in other cases, which presented special circumstances, we have ourselves caused the offenders to be prosecuted. Proceedings of this kind have been instituted during the last year in the Kilmallock, Loughrea, and Athlone Unions. We have reason to believe that proceedings so taken have been attended with beneficial effect as examples, and have been looked on with general satisfaction by the rate-payers.

87. In some of the cases adverted to, the default of the collectors has gone to a serious extent, and beyond the amount for which responsible security had been obtained; we have deemed it right, therefore, by the way of prevention for the future, to establish the means of exercising a constant control over the collection of the rates through the monthly returns transmitted to our office, and to cause to be reported both to the Board of Guardians and to ourselves, at the close of each month, every instance in which the collector is found, on the examination of his accounts by the clerk, to retain in his hands a balance, which, at the time of his so accounting, ought to have been paid over to the treasurer. Circulars prepared to effect this object were issued by us in October last, and this step has already been attended with beneficial results, and affords the fullest promise of future permanent benefit in Unions in which irregularity in this respect had previously prevailed. The particulars are given in the Appendix.*

88. Notwithstanding such instances of occasional default, the collection of the Poor Rate in Ireland has in general, considering the newness of the tax, been conducted successfully by the Boards of Guardians, and at a moderate expense in poundage for collecting. A Return made to the House of Lords at the commencement of the present Session, shows up to the 31st July last the amount of every rate made in every Electoral Division in Ireland since the passing of the Act, the amount carried forward into the new rate as arrears, and the amount cancelled. The Return is satisfactory on the whole; and we have caused a summary of its contents to be prepared, so as to exhibit the several particulars in Unions, instead of Electoral Divisions. This summary will be found in the Appendix to this Report.†

89. In some of the Unions exhibited in this Table, it will be found that the Poor Rates have been collected with a degree of fidelity and exactness, which reflects much credit on the local management, and affords to other Unions an example of what may be effected by a strict and regular course of procedure in the collection of the rates. The Unions in the province of Ulster furnish several such examples, as Castlederg, Antrim, and Newtown Limavady; in Leinster, we should point to Ardee; in Munster, to Dunitanway; and in Connaught, to Ballina Union, as instances of successful management in this respect.

90. The expense of collecting the rate will be seen by reference to the half-yearly statements of expenditure already given in paragraph 78. The sum collected in the first half-year was 144,216*l.* 10*s.* 9½*d.*, in 108 Unions, and the poundage paid to collectors appears to have been 3,869*l.* 14*s.* 2½*d.*; in the last half-year the sum collected was 138,596*l.* 12*s.* 5½*d.*, in 112 Unions, and the poundage was 4,800*l.* 7*s.* 7*d.*

91. In paragraphs numbered 171 to 190 of our 9th Annual Report, and in paragraphs 146 to 151 of our 10th Annual Report we have adverted to the dissatisfaction sometimes expressed, in regard to the established system of electoral divisions, and to the practical difficulties which we have felt when called upon to alter existing divisions. We have since received many applications of this nature, but we have not altered the electoral divisions except in the few special instances which have been already reported. The inequalities of rating, however, to which our attention has been called, are such as cannot be regarded with satisfaction.

92. In several cases in which the majority of the Guardians of a Union have expressed themselves in favour of a Union Rate, we have called their attention to the provisions of the 44th Section of the Irish Poor Relief Act, which enable the elective Guardians of the several divisions to obtain a common rating by signing an agreement to that effect. It is obvious that, under this provision, wherever the evil complained of, viz., the inequality of rating, exists in the greatest degree, the greatest difficulty will be found in effecting an agreement. The attempt to obtain a Union Rate, which has been made in several instances, has succeeded only in one, that of Dunmanway Union, in which the Guardians of all the electoral divisions signed a written consent, according to the statute, that all charges should thereafter be borne in common by all the divisions of the Union. The form of agreement, as approved and sealed by us, and deposited in our Dublin Office, and in the Office of the Clerk of the Peace of the County of Cork, is given in the Appendix.*

93. We have to refer with satisfaction to the progress which has been made during the past year in the building of Fever Hospitals, in connection with the Workhouses. In our last Report, we stated that the Guardians of 26 Unions had built or determined to build Fever Wards, and that five were then completed. We have now to report that,

The number of fever-wards actually in occupation is	16
The number completed in addition to the above	6
The number in progress of building	14
The number determined on, but not yet begun	14
Total	50

In addition to the above, which are new buildings, the Unions of Abbeyleix and Middleton are respectively provided with a house hired by the Guardians and open for the reception of fever cases, under section 16 of the Irish Poor Law Amendment Act; and in some other Unions similar provision has been made temporarily until the erection of the new fever wards is completed.

In the Appendix† will be found a Table fully descriptive of the progress of the Fever Wards and of other arrangements, by which patients are sent from the Workhouses to County Fever Hospitals, or provided for in houses hired for the purpose by the Guardians. By a Return made to the House of Lords this Session, it appears that the number of fever patients relieved in the Workhouses, or in houses hired by the Guardians, within 12 months ended 31st July last, was 8216; this number being exclusive of those sent to Hospitals by the Guardians under section 15 of 6 and 7 Vict. c. 92.

We give in the Appendix‡ a Circular Letter which we issued in December last to the Guardians of those Unions, in which it had not at that time been determined to build Fever Wards, urging upon them the propriety of giving an immediate consideration to that subject. We likewise add a Circular Letter,* which we addressed to each of our Assistant Commissioners in Ireland, respecting the erection of temporary Fever Wards in connection with Workhouses, when circumstances might appear to render such an expedient desirable.

* Appendix A, No. 15.

† Appendix B, No. 22.

‡ Appendix A, No. 18.

94. When apprehension was first entertained on account of the state of the potato crop in Ireland, we deemed it our duty to endeavour, so far as lay in our power, to mitigate the effects of a failure in the crop, by authorising the Guardians to substitute other kinds of food in the dietaries for potatoes, which article enters so largely into the consumption of the inmates of the Irish workhouses. We give in the Appendix† a copy of the General Order issued with this view in November last, and a copy of the Circular Letter which accompanied the order. The Guardians of 69 Unions have modified their dietaries in various ways since the date of this order; and the articles most commonly substituted for potatoes have been bread, or soup with bread, or stirabout prepared from Indian corn meal.

95. His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant having intimated to us his wish, that certain suggestions contained in the Reports made to His Excellency, by Professors Kane and Playfair, regarding the conversion of diseased potatoes into meal, should be carried into effect in the Workhouses in Ireland, we addressed to the Boards of Guardians a Circular Letter, apprising them of the wishes of His Excellency, and explaining our own views of the general course to be pursued in carrying on in the Workhouses the processes recommended. The Boards of Guardians gave a prompt and earnest attention to these suggestions, but were met by difficulties regarding the drying apparatus necessary to conduct the processes on a large scale, which could not be overcome without considerable expense. A copy of the Circular Letter alluded to is given in the Appendix.‡ We believe that the course of proceeding suggested was not adopted to a material extent in any of the Workhouses.

96. In connexion with this subject, we may state that, on the 8th of last December, we issued to all the Boards of Guardians throughout Ireland a Circular of Queries, respecting the extent of the disease in the potato crop; and we transmitted the answers as we received them from time to time, to the Commissioners appointed by Her Majesty's Government in reference to the apprehended scarcity. The answers returned by some of the Boards were drawn up with great minuteness and care, and were useful to a certain extent as checking accounts of the disease which might be received from other sources: although they could not be compared in point of accuracy with the Returns of the Constabulary Force, which referred to every electoral division in Ireland.

† Appendix A, No. 16.

‡ Appendix A, No. 17.

97. In conclusion, we have to observe that the number of inmates in the Workhouses of Ireland has progressively increased during every week of the present year; both absolutely, and as compared with the corresponding weeks of the previous year. We subjoin in the Appendix* a summary of the Weekly Returns, which furnish information on this head for the 15 weeks ended March 28. From these Returns it will be seen that the total number of inmates has increased from 41,118 during the week ended December 20, 1845, (being 2022 more than in the corresponding week of 1844,) to 50,717 during the week ended March 28, 1846, being 8483 more than during the corresponding week of 1845. This comparison might, perhaps, be regarded as inconclusive in some respects, from the circumstance that additional Workhouses were opened for the reception of paupers during the last year. On comparing, however, the number in Workhouses which had been open two years prior to each week of the current year, it will be observed that, in 109 Workhouses there were during the week ended March 28th of the present year 47,403 inmates, while during the corresponding week of 1845 there were only 40,931 inmates. This appears to indicate that the distress has made itself felt in the Workhouses.

98. In our Ninth Annual Report, par. 158, we stated that we had delegated to Mr. Gulson and Mr. Power, two of our Assistant Commissioners, the powers necessary for the conduct of the Irish business of our Commission. This delegation, which was dated 20th of April, 1843, continued in force until the 20th of November last, when we revoked it, in consequence of the appointment, by Her Majesty, of a fourth Commissioner under the authority of the Irish Poor Relief Act, and your direction, in conformity with the same Act, that Mr. Twisleton, the fourth Commissioner so appointed, should act in Ireland. We revoked this delegation simply in consequence of the appointment of a fourth Commissioner; inasmuch as we had every reason to be satisfied with the manner in which Mr. Gulson and Mr. Power had exercised the discretion confided to them.

We have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your very faithful and obedient Servants,

APPENDIX A.

ORDERS AND CIRCULAR LETTERS ISSUED BY THE POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS, REPORTS, &c.

ENGLAND.

No. 1.

GENERAL ORDERS as to the PAYMENT of OFFICERS' SALARIES.

To THE GUARDIANS of the POOR OF THE several UNIONS and INCORPORATIONS named in the Schedule hereunto annexed;

To the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the several Parishes and Places comprised within the said Unions and Incorporations respectively;

To the Clerk or Clerks to the Justices of the Petty Sessions held for the Division or Divisions in which the said Unions and Incorporations are situate;

To the Treasurers of the said Unions and Incorporations respectively;

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas the Poor Law Commissioners, by various orders under their hands and seal, respectively issued to the Unions and Incorporations named in the Schedule hereunto annexed, the dates whereof are set forth in the said Schedule, having provided for the audit of the accounts of such Unions and Incorporations, and the several parishes therein, quarterly, as in such orders is fully set forth, did order and direct, that each paid Officer of the Union or Incorporation, or of any of the parishes comprised therein, who was bound to account under any of such orders, should be entitled to receive his salary quarterly, as soon after the termination of the quarter as his accounts for such quarter should have been duly audited and allowed by the Auditor; and that the fact of such audit and allowance should be duly recorded in the minute-book, and be a warrant for the payment of the salary of such Officer.

And whereas, by certain other orders, bearing date respectively the tenth, eleventh, and twenty-first days of January, the eighth, twelfth, nineteenth, and twenty-fifth days of February, the seventh, tenth, eleventh, and twentieth days of March, and the second, twelfth, and seventeenth days of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, the Poor Law Commissioners have made certain provisions, under the authority of the statute passed in the eighth year of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act for the further Amendment of the Laws relating to the Poor in England," whereby the said Unions and Incorporations named in the said Schedule have been combined into districts for the audit of accounts, and the Poor Law Commissioners have thereby directed that the Auditor to be appointed to each of such districts shall, twice in every year, that is to say, as soon as may be after the twenty-fifth day of March, and the twenty-ninth day of September, examine, audit, and allow or disallow, the accounts of the several Unions and Incorporations so thereby combined, and of the several parishes comprised therein, according to the laws in force for the time being for the Administration of the Relief of the Poor; and it is expedient to alter the above-recited provision for the payment of the salaries of the paid Officers of the said Unions and Incorporations and of the parishes comprised therein.

Now, therefore, we, the Poor Law Commissioners, do hereby alter so much of the said several orders herein first recited as provides for the payment of the salaries of the Officers as aforesaid.

And we do order, that the Guardians of the Poor of the said several Unions and Incorporations may, if they think fit, pay to each Officer, other than the Auditor, entitled to receive payment of any salary from them, whether by way of annual stipend, poundage, or other emolument, on account of such salary, the amount which shall be due at the expiration of the quarters ending at Midsummer and Christmas in every year, provided the accounts of such Officer shall have been presented by him to such Guardians, duly made up and balanced, at a meeting of the Guardians, and such Officer shall receive the balance of his salary due at Lady-day and Michaelmas-day, so soon as his accounts have been audited and allowed by the Auditor, after those days respectively, but not before.

[This Order came into operation on the 11th of July, 1845.]

TO THE GUARDIANS OF THE POOR of the several UNIONS named in the Schedule hereunto annexed ;—

To the Churchwardens and Overseers of the Poor of the several Parishes and Places comprised within the said Unions ;—

To the Clerk or Clerks to the Justices of the Petty Sessions held for the Division or Divisions in which the said Unions are situate ; to the Treasurers of the said Unions respectively ;—

And to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas the Poor Law Commissioners, by various orders under their hands and seal respectively issued to the Unions named in the Schedule hereunto annexed, the dates whereof are set forth in the said Schedule, having provided for the audit of the accounts of such Unions, and the several parishes therein, quarterly, as in such orders is fully set forth, did order and direct, that each paid Officer of the Union, or of any of the parishes comprised therein, who was bound to account under any of such orders, should be entitled to receive his salary quarterly, as soon after the termination of the quarter as his accounts for such quarter should have been duly audited and allowed by the Auditor ; and that the fact of such audit and allowance should be duly recorded in the minute-book, and be a warrant for the payment of the salary of such Officer.

And whereas, by certain other orders, bearing date respectively the thirty-first day of October, the thirteenth and thirtieth days of November, and the seventeenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, and the fourth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, the Poor Law Commissioners have, under the authority of the Statute passed in the eighth year of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act for the further Amendment of the Laws relating to the Poor in England," combined the said Unions, named in the said Schedule, into districts for the audit of accounts.

And whereas, by certain orders, bearing date respectively the eighteenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, the fourth day of January, the sixth and twenty-eighth days of February, and the sixth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-five, the Poor Law Commissioners have directed that the Auditor to be appointed to each of such districts shall, twice in every year, that is to say, as soon as may be after the twenty-fifth day of March and the twenty-ninth day of September, examine, audit, and allow or disallow, the accounts of the several Unions so combined as aforesaid, and of the several parishes comprised in the said Unions, according to the laws in force for the time being for the administration of the relief of the poor; and it is expedient to alter the above-recited provision for the payment of the salaries of the paid Officers of the said Unions, and of the parishes comprised in the said Unions.

Now, therefore, we, the Poor Law Commissioners, do hereby alter so much of the said several orders herein first recited as provides for the payment of the salaries of the Officers as aforesaid.

And we do order, that the Guardians of the said several Unions may, if they think fit, pay to each Officer, other than the Auditor, entitled to receive payment of any salary from them, whether by way of annual stipend, poundage, or other emolument, on account of such salary, the amount which shall be due at the expiration of the quarters ending at Midsummer and Christmas in every year, provided the accounts of such Officer shall have been presented by him to such Guardians, duly made up and balanced, at a meeting of the Guardians, and such Officer shall receive the balance of his salary due at Lady Day and Michaelmas Day, so soon as his accounts have been audited and allowed by the Auditor, after those days respectively, but not before.

SCHEDULE to which the above Order refers.

[This Order came into operation on the 1st of January, 1846.]

ii.—CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS relating to the FOR-GOING ORDER.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
8th November, 1845.*

SIR,

THE POOR LAW Commissioners have, for some time, had under their consideration the expediency of issuing a general rule, prohibiting the employment of paupers in Workhouses, in grinding, pounding, or breaking bones.

The Commissioners are aware that there is considerable difficulty in finding work for the able-bodied inmates of a workhouse, which shall not interfere with the market for independent labour, and which shall not, at the same time, involve some loss to the rate-payers. They have been moreover unwilling in any case where the exercise of their authority is not absolutely necessary to restrict the discretion as to the sorts of labour which the Guardians, as the immediate managers of the workhouse, may reasonably be supposed to possess.

The Commissioners believe, that in the majority of Unions where this kind of labour has been employed, no serious inconvenience has resulted from its use, owing to the care with which it has been superintended by the Guardians. Moreover, in the cases in which its introduction, even for vagrants and trampers, has been brought before the Commissioners, they have constantly required a certificate from the medical officer, that no injury to the health of the inmates of the workhouse was to be apprehended from its adoption.

Notwithstanding these considerations, the Commissioners, looking to the serious objections to which this mode of employment is liable, have, after mature deliberation, decided on issuing a general rule, prohibiting bone-crushing in all workhouses, a copy of which is herewith transmitted to you. The order for this purpose will come into operation on the first day of January next.

The Commissioners will only add, that they will be ready to afford any assistance or advice to the Guardians in meeting the difficulties which may result from the discontinuance of bone-crushing in those workhouses where it has hitherto been carried on.

I am, &c.,

EDWIN CHADWICK, Secretary.

To the Clerk to the Board of Guardians.

No. 5.

CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUAR-DIANS relating to Act of 8 and 9 Vict. c. 116.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
August 20, 1845.*

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to state, that they have ascertained that various persons have lately made applications to Boards of Guardians to procure lads for the Merchant Service, upon different terms and stipulations, not being themselves either masters of vessels or ship-owners.

The Commissioners have reason to believe that very serious evils have resulted from this species of brokerage, and that many of the persons engaged in the procuring of hands for that service have adopted a course of proceeding highly demoralizing and injurious to the health and condition of the persons for whom they have undertaken to procure situations.

The attention of the Legislature has been drawn to the subject, and during the last Session of Parliament an Act has been passed entitled An Act for the Protection of Seamen entering on board Merchant Ships (8 and 9 Vict. c. 116),—a copy whereof is herewith enclosed.

It will be seen that it is thereby provided that persons may, after the 1st of September next, be licensed by the Board of Trade to provide seamen for merchant ships; and that after the 1st of November next no person, not being so licensed, or the owner, master, person in charge of a ship, or ship's husband, shall provide any seaman for a merchant ship.

Should, therefore, any application be made to the Guardians for lads to be placed on board merchant ships, it will be necessary for them to ascertain that the applicants are legally authorized to make such application.

The Guardians will observe, that by sect. 8 of the Act enclosed, if any person receive from any person other than the owner, master, or ship's husband, any remuneration, either directly or indirectly, for the providing of any seaman, he will forfeit the sum of 5*l*.

If the Guardians consider it expedient to bind any children to the sea service, they must not lose sight of the provisions contained in the 7th and 8th vic. c. 112, for the binding of poor children as apprentices to that service, and must abide strictly by the regulations therein prescribed, which statute, it may be observed, expressly enables the Guardians to provide for the cost of the outfit of the lads, while it does not appear that the same could be supplied by the Guardians under other circumstances.

I am, &c.

W. G. LUMLEY, *Assistant Secretary.*¹

To the Clerk to the Guardians.

No. 6.

CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS to MEDICAL OFFICERS, relative to Act of 8 and 9 Vict. c. 126, s. 55.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
August 25, 1845.*

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to call your attention as a Medical Officer of the Union to the Provision in the recent statute relating to Pauper Lunatics, 8 and 9 Vict. c. 126, sect. 55; which is as follows:—

“Be it enacted, that every pauper lunatic, chargeable to any parish, who shall not be in an asylum, or a registered hospital, or a house duly licensed for the reception of pauper lunatics, shall be visited once in every three months by the medical officer of the Parish or Union to which such lunatic shall belong; and a list of all such lunatics shall be sent once in every three months by such medical officer to the Clerk of the Peace of the county or borough to which such lunatic shall belong, or in which he shall be resident, to be by him laid before the justices acting for such county at their next General or Quarter Sessions, or before the justices of such borough, and to the visitors of the asylum for the county in which such Parish or Union shall be situate, and to the Commissioners in Lunacy, according to the form in schedule (F), to this Act annexed.

"And the said list shall state whether any such lunatic is or is not, in the opinion of such medical officer, fit to be at large, and is properly taken care of.

"And such list of such lunatics shall be prepared and signed by the medical officer required to make the same.

"Provided, nevertheless, that after an asylum shall be established for any county or borough under the provisions of this Act, no pauper who shall have lately become lunatic (whether such pauper shall or shall not have been previously confined in an asylum), shall be received, lodged, or detained in any house or place, other than a county or borough lunatic asylum, or a public hospital, or a house duly licensed for the reception of pauper lunatics, for a longer period than shall be requisite for obtaining an order for the removal of such lunatic to such asylum.

"And if any medical officer shall return any such pauper in any such list as fit to be at large, or shall knowingly sign any such list, untruly setting forth any of the particulars required by this Act, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit any sum not less than ten, and not exceeding fifty pounds."

I am, &c.,

To the Medical Officer.

W. G. LUMLEY, Assistant Secretary.

No. 7.

CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS relative to Acts of 8 and 9 Vict. c. 100 and c. 126.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,

SIR,

September 5, 1845.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to call the attention of the Guardians to two measures relating to the administration of the relief to the poor, which have been passed by the Legislature in the last Session of Parliament.

They relate to pauper lunatics, and the removal of poor persons born in Scotland, Ireland, and the Islands of Man, Scilly, Jersey, and Guernsey. The statutes 8 and 9 Vict. c. 100 and c. 126 apply to the former subject, and the 8 and 9 Vict. c. 117 to the latter.

Pauper Lunatics.

The statute 8 and 9 Vict. c. 100, relates to houses licensed for the reception of lunatics of all classes, and to public hospitals in which lunatics are received. The 8 and 9 Vict. c. 126, relates to the providing of asylums for lunatics in counties and boroughs.

Various provisions are contained in these Statutes to which it is particularly necessary that the attention of the Guardians and their officers should be directed.

1.—As to Licensed Houses and Hospitals.

The statute 8 and 9 Vict. c. 100, establishes a permanent Commission in Lunacy, and not only confers upon the Commissioners the power of granting licenses to houses for the reception of lunatics within a limited distance of the metropolis, but also imposes upon them the duty of visiting, and to a certain extent controlling, all such houses in England and Wales.

Hospitals in which lunatics are received are also required to be registered, and visited by such Commissioners.—Sect. 43.

In all counties and boroughs of England, not comprised within the limit above referred to, the justices at the Quarter Sessions are empowered to license such houses, and at the Michaelmas Sessions are directed to appoint visitors of the houses licensed in their respective counties and boroughs, which visitors are to visit all licensed houses within their jurisdiction four times at least in every year, and to examine the state and condition of the houses and the inmates.

Power is given to the Commissioners and the visitors to determine and regulate the dietary of the pauper lunatics in these houses and in registered hospitals, and where the regulations of the visitors and Commissioners differ, those prescribed by the latter shall prevail; it is however provided, that such regulations shall not take effect so as to affect any contract existing on the 1st of June last for the maintenance of pauper lunatics, before the 1st of June next, or the expiration of the contract, whichever shall first happen.—Sect. 82.

Two or more of the Commissioners, one at least being a physician or surgeon, and one a barrister, shall and may once or oftener in each year, on such day or days and such hours in the day, and for such length of time as they shall think fit, visit every Parish or Union Workhouse in which there are, or are alleged to be, any lunatics, and shall inquire whether the provisions of the law as to lunatics have been carried out as to the arrangement, visitation, and management of such workhouse, and as to the dietary, accommodation, and treatment of the lunatics in such workhouse, and shall report in writing thereon to the Poor Law Commissioners.—Sect. 111.

Any one of the Commissioners may at any time give an order in writing, under his hand, for the admission, to any patient confined in any house or place authorized to be visited by the Commissioners, of any relation or friend of such patient (or of any medical or other person whom any relation or friend of such patient shall desire to be admitted to him), and such order of admission may be either for a single admission, or for any admission for any limited number of times, or for admission generally at all reasonable times; and a penalty of a sum not exceeding 20*l.* is imposed upon any person refusing or preventing the admission of such person.—Sect. 85.

It will not be necessary to bring under the particular notice of the Guardians any of the provisions contained in the statute for the regulation of such licensed houses, or the various duties which are imposed upon the proprietors; but it is important that their attention should be directed to the subject of the admission and discharge of pauper lunatics into and from licensed houses and hospitals.

First, in regard to the Admission of Pauper Lunatics. Sect. 48, 49.

It is enacted, that no pauper shall be received into or detained in any licensed house or hospital without an order and statement according to the form, and stating the particulars required in the schedule to the Act, under the hands of one justice or an officiating clergyman, with the relieving officer or one of the overseers of the Union or Parish from which such pauper shall be sent (which said justice or which said clergyman and relieving officer or overseer, as the case may be, shall have personally examined such pauper previously to signing such order), nor without a medical certificate according to a form set forth in the schedule, and dated not more than seven days previously to the reception of such pauper into such house or hospital. The certificate is to be signed by a physician, surgeon, or apothecary (not being the medical officer of the Parish or Union), on the day he shall examine such pauper.—Sect. 48.

The receipt of any pauper without such order or medical certificate is made a misdemeanor.—Ib.

No physician, surgeon, or apothecary who, or whose father, brother, son or partner, is wholly or partly the proprietor of or a regular professional attendant in a licensed house or an hospital, shall sign any certificate for the reception of a patient into such house or hospital, and no physician, surgeon or apothecary who, or whose father, brother, son or partner, shall have signed the order for the reception, shall sign any certificate for the same patient.—Sect. 49.

Secondly, in regard to the discharge of the Pauper.—Sect. 74, 75.

The Guardians of any Parish or Union may, by a minute of their board, direct that any pauper patient belonging to such Parish or Union and detained in any licensed house or any hospital, shall be discharged or removed therefrom, and may direct the mode of such discharge or removal; and if a copy of such minute be produced to the proprietor or superintendent of such licensed house or hospital, he shall forthwith discharge or remove such patient accordingly, or cause or suffer him to be discharged or removed.—Sect. 74.

But no such patient shall be so discharged or removed from any licensed house or hospital, if the physician, surgeon, or apothecary who keeps the same, or shall be the regular medical attendant thereof thereat, certify that such patient is dangerous and unfit to be at large, unless the Commissioners or visitors shall consent, in writing, thereto.—Sect. 75.

Powers are given, under certain restrictions, to the Commissioners and visitors to discharge individual patients, whether paupers or not; but it is required that they shall make two visits before they do so, and they are to give seven days' notice prior to the second visit, a copy whereof is to be sent, in the case of a pauper, to the Guardians of the Parish or Union.—Sections 76 and 80.

It seems, therefore, that the Guardians would have an opportunity of expressing to the Commissioners or visitors any objection which they may entertain to the discharge of any such particular pauper.

It may be well here to observe, that the 8 and 9 Vict. c. 126, s. 54, enables any two visiting justices of any asylum, by an order in writing under their hands and seals, to direct any overseer or relieving or other officer of any Parish or Union, contributing to any asylum, to remove any pauper lunatic chargeable to such Parish or Union, now or at any time hereafter in any registered hospital or licensed house, to an asylum, and such lunatic shall be removed at the expense of such Parish or Union accordingly; and the overseer or relieving officer who, for fourteen days, shall neglect or refuse to remove any lunatic accordingly, will be liable to a penalty of not more than 20*l.*, nor less than 2*l.*

II.—As to Lunatic Asylums for Counties and Boroughs.

The 8 and 9 Vict. c. 126, proceeds in the first place to make provisions for enforcing the erection and establishment of pauper lunatic asylums in counties and boroughs, and for the appointment of committees of visitors to superintend, regulate, and visit these asylums.

A series of regulations is then enacted to secure the removal of pauper lunatics to asylums.

By section 47, a return is required to be made, by every clerk of a Board of Guardians, of all pauper lunatics chargeable to the Parish or Union, on the 1st of January in each year, to be laid before the visitors of the asylum, and copies to be transmitted to the clerk of the peace, the Commissioners in Lunacy, and the Poor Law Commissioners: the return required to be made by the 5 and 6 Vict. c. 57, § 6, on the 15th of August being henceforth dispensed with.

Admission of Pauper Lunatics.

Section 48 requires every medical officer of the Parish or Union, who has knowledge that any person chargeable to any Parish in the Union is deemed to be lunatic, to give notice thereof within three days to the Overseers, if the parish be not in Union, and to the relieving officer if it be in Union.

The overseer or relieving officer, who shall have like knowledge, whether by such notice or otherwise, must, within three days, give notice thereof to some justice of the county or borough within which such parish is situate.—Ib.

Thereupon such justice, by order under his hand and seal, shall require the overseer or relieving officer to bring such lunatic before him or some other justice of the county or borough within three days.—Ib.

The justice is to examine the lunatic when brought before him, and to call to his assistance a physician, surgeon, or apothecary, not being the medical officer of such Union or Parish; and if such physician sign a certificate as to the insanity of the pauper, the justice shall direct such person to be received into the asylum of the county or borough in which the parish shall be situate, or if there be no such asylum, or if it be full, then into some licensed house or registered hospital.—Ib.

Such overseer or relieving officer shall immediately convey such lunatic, or cause such lunatic to be conveyed, to the asylum, house, or hospital.—Ib.

If the pauper, on account of his health or other cause, cannot be brought before the justice, he may be examined at his own abode, or elsewhere, by a justice or an officiating clergyman of the parish, with the overseer or relieving officer, who, in like manner, shall call a medical man to their assistance, and if he certifies as to the insanity, such justice or officiating clergyman, with the overseer or relieving officer, may direct the pauper to be sent to such asylum, house, or hospital, as above.—Ib.

In this case there is no such restriction, as in the former, upon the medical officer of the Parish or Union certifying as to the state of sanity.—Ib.

If the medical man certify that the pauper is not in a fit state to be removed, the removal shall be suspended until a certificate be obtained that he can be removed with safety.—Ib.

Section 49 provides for two classes of lunatics, one wandering lunatics, and the other lunatics not chargeable to any parish, but under the care of relatives or other persons who neglect or cruelly treat them, so that they are not properly taken care of.

Any overseer or relieving officer who has knowledge that any person wandering within his District, Parish, or Union, is deemed to be lunatic, is required to apprehend such person and take him before a justice, who is to call in the assistance of the medical practitioner, and take the same steps as in the former section, and, if he think fit, shall issue an order for the removal of such wandering lunatic to an asylum, licensed house, or registered hospital.—§ 49.

If any overseer or relieving officer has notice of any lunatic not chargeable, who is neglected or cruelly treated as above stated, he shall, within three days, give notice to a justice, who upon receipt of such notice in writing, and a statement on oath, may require the overseer or relieving officer to bring such person before him and some other justice, within three days. Such two justices are in like manner to call in the assistance of a medical practitioner, and take such steps as above stated; and upon proof of neglect or cruel treatment, may, if they think fit, direct the lunatic to be removed to the asylum, licensed house, or hospital aforesaid.—Ib.

The overseer or relieving officer in either case must convey the lunatic, or cause such lunatic to be conveyed, according to the order.—Ib.

There is no restriction upon the medical officer of the Parish or Union in these cases.—Ib.

If the lunatic in these cases cannot be brought before the justice or justices, the lunatic may be examined by him or them at his own abode with the same assistance, and if satisfied that the party is a lunatic, and if not chargeable, has been neglected or cruelly treated, the justice or justices shall make an order as above stated.—Ib.

In reference to these last-mentioned lunatics, the justice or justices, or two visiting justices of the asylum, are required to make an order upon the Treasurer of the Guardians of the Union, or upon the overseer of the poor of the parish from which the lunatic is taken, for the payment of the charges of the examination, removal, lodging, maintenance, clothing, medicine, and care of such lunatic, and in case it shall afterwards appear that the lunatic is chargeable to any other parish, then upon the Treasurer of the Guardians of the Union in which such other parish is situate, or upon the overseers of such other parish.—Ib.

Provision is made, as in the last section, for suspending the removal in case the lunatic shall not be capable of being removed.—Ib.

Another provision is introduced to enable the property of the lunatic, if he have any, to be made applicable to the charge of his maintenance, similar to that which is contained in the previous statutes of the 9 Geo. IV. c. 40, and the 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101, § 27.—Ib.

The power of any relation or friend to retain or take charge of the lunatic, upon giving proper assurance for good treatment, is preserved.—Ib.

Penalties are imposed upon any medical officer omitting for three days, after obtaining knowledge of a chargeable lunatic, to give the notice above required; and upon the overseer or relieving officer omitting for three days to give the notices in respect of chargeable lunatics, and other lunatics not chargeable but neglected or ill-treated, or to apprehend wandering lunatics, as above described.—§ 50.

The reception of a pauper lunatic, or any such lunatic as already referred to, into any asylum, registered hospital, or licensed house, without an order of a justice or of an officiating clergyman with one of the overseers or the relieving officer, and a medical certificate, is prohibited.

Besides the above order for the payment of the costs and charges, expenses and cost of maintenance, the statute contains some other provisions upon the same subject in regard to other pauper lunatics.

It is provided in the first place that the pauper lunatic shall be deemed to belong to the parish from which he shall have been sent, until it shall be adjudged that he is settled in some other parish, or that it cannot be ascertained in what parish he is settled.—§ 57.

Two justices are empowered at any time to adjudicate as to the settlement of any pauper sent to a lunatic asylum, hospital, or house.—§ 58.

If the pauper be not settled in the parish from which he has been sent, and it cannot be ascertained in which parish he is settled, the relieving officer of the Union, or the overseers, shall give notice to the clerk of the peace to appear before two justices, who are empowered to adjudge the pauper to be chargeable to the county.—§ 59.

The guardians, their clerk or relieving officer, or the overseers, and every person duly authorized by them, are to have access to the lunatic for the purpose of examining him with reference to the question of his settlement in the presence of the medical attendant.—§ 60.

The justice or justices by whom the lunatic has been sent to the asylum, hospital, or house, or any two of the visitors of the asylum, may make an order upon the Treasurer of the Guardians, or other officer of the Union or Parish, or the overseers of the parish from which such lunatic shall have been sent, for payment to the treasurer, officer, or proprietor of the asylum, hospital, or house, of the reasonable charges of the lodging, maintenance, medicine, clothing, and care of such lunatic in such asylum, hospital, or house, and such treasurer or overseer shall pay out of the monies coming to his hands from time to time to the said treasurer, officer, or proprietor, the charges aforesaid.—§ 61.

If the lunatic be adjudged to belong to some other parish than that from which he shall have been sent, two justices may make an order upon such other Parish or Union, to repay the monies already paid within 12 months, by the first Union or Parish, and for the payment of future charges to the treasurer, officer, or proprietor of the asylum, hospital, or house. Against this order there may be an appeal, as in cases of removal.—§ 62.

If it be ascertained or adjudged that the lunatic is chargeable to a county, then an order is to be made upon the treasurer of a county, to pay the monies incurred by any Union or Parish already paid, within the same time, to the said Union or Parish, and for the payment of future charges to the treasurer, officer, or proprietor of the asylum, hospital, or house.—§ 63.

If after a lunatic has been adjudged to be chargeable to a county, it shall be adjudged that he is settled in any parish, a similar order may be made by two justices for the reimbursement of the county, upon the treasurer of the Guardians, or the overseer, who shall, out of any monies which come to his hands by virtue of his office, pay the monies ordered to be paid by him.—§ 64.

If any treasurer of a Board of Guardians, or relieving officer, or overseer, upon any order for the payment of money under the provisions of the Act, shall have been made, shall for 20 days after notice thereof, refuse or neglect to pay the sum ordered to be paid, the same with costs shall be recovered by a warrant of distress under the hands of two justices, or by an action at law against such treasurer, overseer, or relieving officer.—§ 68.

Such are the provisions in respect of the payment for the maintenance of pauper lunatics in confinement.

It is to be noticed, that power is given to any medical practitioner appointed by the Guardians of any Union or Parish, and also to the Guardians or any appointed members of the Guardians or parish, and also to the overseers of any parish, between the hours of eight in the morning and six at night, to visit and examine any pauper lunatic belonging to such Union or Parish, confined in any asylum, hospital, or house, unless the medical officer of the asylum is of opinion that such visit and examination will be injurious to such lunatic.—§ 79.

Removal and Discharge.

Any three members of the committee of visitors of any asylum may, by writing, order the removal or discharge of any person confined in any asylum, whether recovered or not; and may permit any person convalescent to be absent wholly or partly from the asylum upon trial; and to allow him to the extent of his cost in the asylum, and may discharge therefrom any person whose recovery is certified by the medical officer thereof. And every person who shall have been sent to a lunatic asylum as a pauper lunatic shall be safely kept therein until such order for his removal, trial, or discharge, shall have been given.—§ 71.

On the regular discharge or removal of any pauper from any asylum, the necessary expenses attending his discharge or removal shall be borne by the Union or Parish to which such pauper shall then be deemed to belong, or if chargeable to the county by such county, and the amount of the expenses, when allowed by the justices of the county, shall be paid by the Guardians of the Union or Parish, or the treasurer of the county.—§ 72.

Although the statute appears to require the removal of every pauper lunatic into some asylum, yet from various causes, but principally from the present want of accommodation, many lunatics must remain for some time, at large, or not under confinement in any asylum, licensed house, or hospital.

These lunatics are not to be allowed to remain unnoticed or unattended to.

Accordingly, it is required that every pauper lunatic chargeable to any parish, who shall not be in an asylum, hospital, or licensed house, shall be visited once in every three months by the medical officer of the Union or Parish to which such lunatic shall belong.—§ 55.

And a list of all such lunatics shall be sent once in every three months by such medical officer to the clerk of the peace, and to the visitors of the asylum for the county, and to the Commissioners of Lunacy, according to a form in the schedule to the Act.—Id.

In that list the medical officer shall state whether any such lunatic is or is not fit to be at large, and is properly taken care of.—Id.

It is then provided, that after an asylum shall be established for any county or borough under the provisions of this Act, no pauper who shall have lately become lunatic (whether such pauper shall or shall not have been previously confined in an asylum) shall be received, lodged, or detained in any house or place other than a county or borough lunatic asylum, hospital, or licensed house, for a longer period than shall be requisite for obtaining an order for the removal of such lunatic to such asylum.—Ib.

And the statute proceeds to enact, that if any medical officer shall return any such pauper in any such list as fit to be at large, or shall knowingly sign any such list untruly setting forth any of the particulars required by this Act, he shall forfeit a sum not less than Ten, and not exceeding Fifty Pounds.—Ib.

The object of this last provision is to secure as early attention as possible to cases of recent insanity, which are the most likely to be curable.

In all future arrangements to be made with medical officers, these new duties must be borne in mind.

Removal of Scotch and Irish Paupers.

The 8 and 9 Vict. c. 117, provides for the removal of poor persons born in Scotland or Ireland, the Isle of Man, or the Channel Islands, who, not being settled in England, become chargeable to parishes in England.

All previous statutes upon the subject are repealed, and permanent provisions are made for the future.

If any such person become chargeable to any parish in England, by reason of relief given to himself or herself, or to his wife, or to any legitimate or bastard child, such person, his wife, and any child so chargeable, shall be liable to be removed to Scotland, Ireland, the Isle of Man, Scilly, Jersey, or Guernsey.—§ 2.

And if the Guardians of such Parish, or of any Union in which the same may be comprised, or where there are no such Guardians, if the overseers of such parish complain thereof to any one justice, such justice may summon the person to come before any two justices at any time or place, and any two justices may hear the complaint, and issue a warrant to remove such person forthwith, at the expense of such Union or Parish.—Ib.

Persons executing such warrants of removal are to have the authority of constables, for the purposes of the Act, in all counties and places through which they may pass.—§ 3.

Section 4 requires the justices of the peace to make new regulations for the removal of such poor persons, which are to be approved of by one of the Secretaries of State, and when they have been so approved, they are to be observed by all justices, guardians, overseers, constables, and other persons in the removal of such poor persons; but until such regulations have been made and approved of, the regulations heretofore made shall continue in force.

Section 5 provides for the cost of removals which may be incurred by some few parishes of population under 30,000, which are not in any Union.

To these parishes the cost of the removal will be repaid by the county or borough in which they are situated, but all Unions will have to defray the cost of removals of such poor persons which are effected at the instance of the Guardians as a common charge. All parishes not in any Union, the population whereof exceeds 30,000, will bear the cost without any power of recovering the same from the county or borough.

Section 6 provides that, if Boards of Guardians of any Union in Ireland, and the Heritors and Kirk Session or Borough Magistrates in Scotland, forward a statement of their case, and give security to the Commissioners for payment of costs, the Poor Law Commissioners may appeal against the warrant of removal to the Quarter Sessions, giving notice to the Guardians or overseers on whose application the warrant was obtained.

The Quarter Session shall then hear and determine the appeal, and if the warrant be reversed, such Guardians or overseers shall pay the costs, and the expenses incurred by or on account of the Board of Guardians, or Kirk Session, or Borough Magistrates, in conveying the poor person, removed under the same, back.—Ib.

The amount may be recovered, after a refusal or neglect to pay within seven days, as penalties and forfeitures.—Ib.

Power is given to the Guardians or overseers to abandon the warrant of removal, but they shall thereupon pay the expenses incurred by reason of such warrant.—Ib.

The statute supplies forms which may be adopted.

No. 8.

i.—CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS, relative to the POTATO DISEASE.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
10th November, 1845.*

SIR,

THE enclosed number of the Official Circular of the Poor Law Commissioners contains some papers relating to the disease now prevailing among the potatoes in the United Kingdom. The first document is extracted from a Report, made in the year 1843, by the Commissioner of Patents in the United States, and is chiefly important as showing the wide range of the disease, and its existence in America before the present year.

The other papers relate principally to the mode in which diseased potatoes may be made in some degree available for human food. The Poor Law Commissioners particularly request attention to the Reports of the Commission appointed by Her Majesty's Government in Ireland to investigate the subject.

It appears to the Poor Law Commissioners, that no objection exists to the inmates of a workhouse being employed on the premises, in performing such processes as are necessary for extracting the farina or starch from diseased potatoes. The Guardians would be as much justified in purchasing every utensil necessary for setting them to work in this manner, as they would be in purchasing tools or other instruments for employing them in any other kind of labour.

The Commissioners make this suggestion, not with the intention that farina so procured should be manufactured for the use of the workhouse, or consumed therein, but that an opportunity should be given to such poor persons in the neighbourhood, as may be desirous of availing themselves of it, of bringing diseased potatoes to be scraped or bruised, and washed, as recommended in the enclosed papers. The actual produce of such potatoes should be given back to the parties without any diminution, and the Commissioners do not think it necessary that any charge should be made for the labour performed. The Guardians should employ no persons except paupers in performing the work.

The Commissioners trust that this subject will be brought under the consideration of the Board of Guardians at an early meeting, and that no time will be lost in taking such steps as the condition of the crop in the Union and other circumstances may make desirable.

Signed by Order of the Board,

EDWIN CHADWICK, Secretary.

To the Clerk to the Board of Guardians.

EXTRACT from the Official Circular (No. 53) enclosed in the foregoing Letter.

1. Potato Crops in America—Affected by Disease.

IN one of the "Executive Documents," (Document No. 177,) issued by the American Congress in 1844, is found a Report on the state of the Potato Crops, in the United States, in the preceding year. By this report, it appears that the potatoes in several of the states were affected by a disease similar to that which has attacked this important vegetable in this country.

"In Otsego and Schoharie counties," the report states, "the potatoes are said to have been subject to a dry-rot, attacking some in the hill and some in the heap, and fatal to the whole, wherever it made its appearance, causing them to rot and to emit a very offensive stench. Those who undertook to feed them out after the rot commenced, found the injury to the cattle greater than the loss of the vegetables. Although the crop was originally good as usual, there will be a great scarcity of the article. In the eastern section of the state they were, also, much lighter than usual and somewhat diseased, and rotted after being secured, owing to the unfavourable weather for gathering the crop. The estimate of the deficiency in some counties is even as high as fifty per cent., while in others it is about twelve to fifteen per cent. They have black spots, and rot in the hill and on the way to market.

"One who is esteemed high authority on this subject, speaking of the crop, says, that 'through nearly the entire extent of the state, (and it is said, also, in portions of Connecticut, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania,) it is rendered almost valueless by a disease new to farmers here, which, in most cases, attacked the potatoes before they were dug. Many crops were worthless when dug from the ground; and almost all crops began to decay immediately after drying, and rapidly decayed till they were an extremely offensive putrid mass. The diseased potatoes are said to be poisonous, and to have caused the death of hogs fed upon them. In this section of the state, the disease is not as universal as it is represented to be in other places. I have heard of no injurious effects from feeding upon them; my hogs have eaten them freely, uncooked, down to the present time, (December, 1843,) without injury. Another person, also, who enjoyed great advantages for ascertaining the condition of the crops, remarks, that 'potatoes suffered greatly from the dry weather of June and July, and the early crop was a very light one though good in quality. The later ones seem to have been injured by the long-protracted rains of August and through the fall, and did not sufficiently ripen but proved green and watery; and hence, in my opinion, the fatal disease among them. The early snows prevented their being properly gathered in the northern and western parts of the state, and there has been a great loss in consequence. The potato crop of New Jersey, likewise, as has been mentioned, suffered from the same cause; they were 'of a very inferior quality,' the deficiency is estimated to 'have been twenty per cent.' By some it is thought that the crop is even 'one-third less than an average one.'

"Pennsylvania, in 1842, stood next to New York, in the quantity of potatoes raised; and the crop there was a good one; but the past year there has been a very great falling-off, and the crop is at least thirty per cent. less than that of 1842. The particular accounts correspond well to the general estimate. In no case have we heard of an increased crop, but the language, as applied to different sections, is—'nearly fifty per cent. less, owing to a rot which seized them before the time for taking them out of the ground,' 'fifty per cent. less, owing to a rot produced by a long drought, followed by heavy rains,' 'seventy-five per cent. less; they rotted in the ground when ripe, from a week's excessive heat, day and night, while the ground was constantly wet, from which fermentation ensued, except only in dry soils,' 'an average crop, but a total loss owing to rot, supposed to be caused by the excessive amount of rain and the extreme hot weather in August; the potatoes rotted in the ground to a great extent, the residue rotted after being gathered.' Another says, 'forty per cent. less, and the quality very inferior—spoiling.' Another, 'thirty-three per cent. less, occasioned by dry weather.' Another still, 'twenty-five per cent. less, and assigns a similar cause for the deficiency. The disease mentioned above seems also to have equally injured the crop in Delaware, as according to the information obtained, although there might be in some sections, perhaps, 'a fair average,' and even 'a large one,' yet, when they came to be gathered, they were not more than one-half or three-quarters of a crop, as they rotted in the ground,' and so offensive, after being gathered, that it became necessary to remove them from the cellars. * *

"It is said that in the vicinity of Philadelphia, 'where farmers have planted from one or two to ten or fifteen acres, they have lost them almost bodily,' and in some instances, '1500 or 1200 bushels have decayed after they were dug.' In an agricultural journal of high standing, it is affirmed that the potatoes which are brought from the eastward are occasionally so heated in the vessel, as to become unfit for planting.' As an instance of this, 'some very fine mercer potatoes were obtained on board a vessel from Maine. They were planted, but about one-fourth of them only ever vegetated. Johnston, in his lectures on agricultural chemistry, remarks, in reference to this subject: 'The seeds of all cultivated plants are known at times to fail, and the necessity of an occasional change of seed is recognised in almost every district.' He mentions, that in the Lowlands of Scotland, 'potatoes brought from the Highlands are generally preferred for seed,' and that 'on the banks of the Tyne, Scottish potatoes bring a higher price for seed than those of native growth.' He adds, that 'this superior quality is supposed by some to arise from the less perfect ripening of the upland potatoes;' and alludes, in conformity with this view, to the extensive failures which have taken place during the summer of 1843, and which 'have been ascribed to the unusual degree of ripeness attained by the potatoes during the warm dry autumn of the past year.' 'This,' he says, 'may in part be a true explanation of the fact, if, as is said, the ripest potatoes always contain the largest proportion of starch; since some very interesting observations of Mr. Shrrat of Paisley, would seem to indicate that 'whatever increases the per centage of starch, increases also the risk of failure in potatoes that are to be used for seed.'

"Mr. Shrrat gives it as his conclusion, that 'if farmers were careful in raising their own seed-potatoes from land that has lain long in a state of rest, or, where that cannot be had, by bringing new soil to the surface by trenching as much as is necessary,—or by the use of the sub soil plough, failures of the potato crop, from the seed not being good, would become much less frequent.’ Professor Johnston, however, doubts ‘whether the relative proportions of starch are to be considered as the cause of the relative values of different samples of seed potatoes.’ He speaks of the value of saline matter, and says that it is ‘beautifully illustrated by the observations of Mr. Fleming, that potatoes dressed with sulphate and nitrate of soda in 1841, and used for seed in 1842, presented a remarkable contrast to the same variety of potato planted alongside of them, but which had not been so dressed in the previous season. These last came away weak, and of a yellowish colour, and, under the same treatment in every respect, did not produce so good a crop by fifteen colls (three tons and three-quarters) an acre.

“The disease with which, as has been mentioned above, the potato crop has been attacked has excited more than usual attention. The cause is generally attributed to the peculiarity of the weather. In one agricultural paper, we find the disease ascribed to a ‘premature ripening,’ which caused the first set of tubers to sprout for the second crop. In another, it is mentioned thus: ‘The cause of the disease, or sudden decay, has not as yet been satisfactorily accounted for. It has generally been attributed to their not ripening perfectly, and having been harvested prematurely. Our opinion, however, is, that it was caused by the superabundant moisture of the soil, in which they were allowed to remain too long. In support of this view, we would observe that, in one of our fields, which is low and of a retentive soil, we were compelled to leave a part of it ten or twelve days after the first part were harvested, before we could finish; and many of those last dug were affected, and soon rotted after exposure to the air. The tops of our potatoes, in one field, which were planted early, withered and dried long before we supposed the roots had ripened. They were dug early, and immediately stored in the cellar, with very little exposure to the sun; and no trace of disease, as yet, (December,) has been discovered; while others, in the same neighbourhood, under the same circumstances, but left until a later period before they were dug, have nearly all been destroyed. It does not appear to be confined to any variety; but the pink-eyes and the mercers have suffered most. In some cases, where the diseased potatoes have been fed to hogs and cattle, death ensued.’

“In another agricultural paper, we find the opinion expressed that the potato crop is almost a total failure; and the doubt is stated, if, in the general average of the entire country, the crop will turn out from one-fourth to one-fifth the usual product of former years. The editor says, ‘We have heard of several, which, on being dug, did not yield one-fifth the quantity which the ground appropriated to their growth should have produced.’ He further remarks, ‘of the cause there is no diversity of opinion. All refer the decay of the roots to the frequent heavy rains; and we apprehend that of the propriety of this reference, there can be no doubt as, from the superabundant supply of water thus afforded to the vines, the tubers were prematurely forced in ripeness; and the same cause, existing under a greatly reduced temperature of the earth, proceeding from its supersaturated condition, and the atmospheric heat arising from the obscuration of the sun, on reaching the point of ripeness, instead of commencing a second growth, (as would have been the case, had there been sufficient sunshine and heat to bring out germination,) the tubers commenced the process of decomposition weeks before the regular time of harvesting them; and in many instances, were found to be so many masses of rottenness when they were attempted to be dug, throwing out such an intolerable stench, that, in several cases, we have heard, the hands had to desist from digging them. Had these potatoes been dug just at the point of time at which they were ripe, there can be no question that they could have been saved from rotting.’ The remedy suggested is, later planting than usual; for the late-planted potatoes are said to have fared much better than the early-planted.

Another writer says, 'It is a fact not generally known, that the cause of the failure of the potato crop last summer was not caused by an excess of rainy weather, so much as the manner of ploughing the ground to receive slips. Farmers who ploughed their fields deep, and those particularly who used the subsoil plough, had a full average crop, and were more than compensated by thus deepening and pulverising the substratum; on the contrary, when the reverse was the case, two thirds of the potatoes were found to be rotten, which was caused by water having no vent settling around them. The subsoil plough obviates this difficulty, and also, in event of a drought, allows the moisture to ascend, by which the plants are nourished, and an abundant crop realized.' An eminent agriculturist also gives it as his opinion that the disease 'is a fungus belonging to the vegetable growth, as rust and smut in wheat and corn, and mould and mildew.' He recommends that 'all diseased potatoes be carefully taken out, and thrown away, and that, finally, pulverised lime, either slaked or unslaked, be sprinkled among the healthy potatoes, just enough to whiten their surfaces lightly.' No experiments to this effect, of course, have yet been tried.

"Another, also of high authority on agricultural subjects, writes: 'Potatoes on old ploughed high lands and alluvial grounds are liable to rust; in 1843 rust was more common and prevalent than usual. High pasture lands, without manure, yield the best potatoes; these do not fail to work well. Potatoes struck with rust before they are ripe, are invariably watery and unpalatable. This was the case with four-fifths of the potatoes at the lower end of the state. On high grounds, broken from the sod, the potatoes are always good. I this year raised 1,000 bushels nearly on five acres of alluvial sward land, where they were not injured by rust, and produced 200 bushels to the acre. These were planted in the sward, on a direct line, between every third furrow. The manure was all spread upon the sward, which was cut and turned over to the depth of from eight to ten inches; the manure was all out of sight. The roots of the potatoes derived all their necessary aid from the manure, the whole strength of which, for future crops, was retained in the ground. The potato vines continued green until fully ripe. Will some curious observer describe the disease of rust, and prescribe the best remedy? Four acres of the above were stirred with the subsoil plough, eight inches below the turning over of the surface plough, making sixteen inches in depth.'

"A gentleman, to whom we are indebted for much valuable information, mentions that he heard, two or three years ago, from one of the foreign ministers in this country, that a similar disease had attacked the potatoes in his country, but, as yet, we have been unable to find any notice of the same in any European publication. We find the following description of the appearance and progress of the disease in an agricultural journal: 'The pink-eyes are almost universally affected. The disease first manifests itself by a black spot on the surface of the potato, which rapidly spreads, till the whole root becomes soft and worthless. Many farmers have lost their entire crops, the disease, in many cases, destroying the roots while in the ground; and in others, the potatoes, after having been carefully stowed away in the cellar, apparently free from disease, and sound, in a few weeks were thrown away, utterly lost.'

"Again, another person says: 'The potatoes, when dug, appeared to look as fine as usual; but when put in heaps in the field, and covered as usual, they become a rotten mass. In a dry cellar they hold their usual appearance tolerably well, except somewhat darkened, and a little shrivelled; but on breaking them open, it was found that their surface, about a quarter of an inch in thickness, was of a dark brown, and some of them entirely through were of the same colour.' On feeding his hogs with them, he soon found that 'they began to cough, pant, and appear as if worried in a hot day; in about a week after they were taken, they refused to eat ; and finally, after a few days, died—no doubt from their having been fed on these diseased potatoes.’

“Another gentleman, in writing on the same subject, says : ‘This disease has spread through the whole of this crop with an amazing rapidity, from one potato to another, until the whole are more or less affected. I have frequently seen a small, dark, mortified kind of a spot, the size of a finger-nail, on the potato, whence issued bubbles of matter; soon the potato would be entirely soft, filled with yellowish matter, slimy, and somewhat resembling the rot of an egg. The touch of other potatoes would spread the disease through the whole of them.’

“Frozen potatoes are usually supposed to be unfit for use ; but if they have not been permitted to thaw, and if they are at once, while frozen, thrown into a kettle of boiling water, the frost being in them, they are said to be equally as palatable and nutritious as those which have not been frozen.

“The following table, showing the analysis of different sorts of potatoes, is quoted from Accum (a bushel of potatoes weighs about sixty-four pounds) :—

“It is well known that there is a difference in the parts of the potato, as used for seed. An experiment on this point is mentioned in some of the agricultural journals, in which the seed potatoes were cut in four equal parts, and the butt end, seed end, and two centre pieces, were separately planted. The result was, from the butt end were raised forty pounds, from the seed end sixty-two pounds, and from the centre pieces together one hundred and sixty pounds—showing the superiority of the centre pieces by fifty-eight pounds in the quantity planted ; probably owing to the greater nutriment afforded. Whole potatoes are better than the eyes only for seed.

“The following experiment for raising potatoes in the winter, without great care or cost, in the open air, is mentioned in the Berlin Polytechnic Archives as having been tried with success at Frankfort-on-the-Maine.

“On the 26th of July and 1st of August of the former year, two fields were planted with potatoes from three-fourths to one foot deep, and one and a half to two feet from each other ; which, after they were hoed and hilled, blossomed in the end of October. When the cold weather began, the stalk was cut off half a foot above the earth, and then it was placed in one place, with leaves and manure, and covered in another with some straw ; and lastly, some earth was thrown over it. In both places the potatoes were gathered on the 10th of March ; they had a perfectly fine appearance, and were of good taste.”

2. Potato Crop in England—Extraction of Farina from diseased Potatoes—Directions issued by the Hadleigh Farmers' Club.

1. Thoroughly wash the potatoes. It is unnecessary to peel them, unless a very superior article is required.

2. Rasp them to a fine pulp with a common bread-grater; such as may be procured for 5½d., or may be made by punching a piece of tin with a nail. The more finely the pulp has been rasped, the more flour will be obtained.

3. Place some of the pulp (say about a quarter of a pailful at a time) into a pail. Fill the pail with water and stir up the whole well, in order to work the flour out of the pulp. The water will soon become thick from the quantity of flour it will hold in suspension.

4. Pour the contents of the pail (before it has time to settle) upon a horse-hair or other sieve placed over a large tub. The water will readily pass through the sieve with most of the flour in suspension, whilst the pulp remains behind, and may be emptied from the sieve into another pail, to undergo a second or a third washing, after all the pulp has been similarly treated. This plan is better than putting the pulp first on the sieve and then pouring water upon it. As some small portion of the pulp often finds its way through the sieve, it may be removed at once by allowing the water to fall upon a loose coarse cloth stretched over the tub; but in this case the water must be continually stirred whilst it is filtering through the cloth, otherwise the flour is apt to clot and fill up the passages.

5. The flour will rapidly subside in the tub, and in less than ten minutes there will be a compact layer formed at the bottom. But as the finest particles remain suspended in the water much longer than the rest during this first part of the process, it is advisable to let the whole stand for three or four hours, when the water may be poured off.

6. The flour thus procured should be washed at least once or twice more, by filling the tub with fresh water, stirring it up well, and then allowing it to settle again, which it will now do very rapidly; and as soon as the water above is clear, it may be poured off.

7. The flour, on being removed from the tub, may be spread out in thin layers to dry, upon cloths, which may be changed and dried before the fire once or twice a-day. But the flour itself must not be exposed to any great heat, and even the temperature of boiling water will change it, whilst it is wet, into a mass of dough. As the process of drying is tedious, and this method of spreading out the flour troublesome, it will generally be advisable to adopt a method which has been found to be perfectly efficacious, and which gives very little trouble or inconvenience. The flour may be collected from the tub into bags of linen or calico, and these hung up in a warm or airy situation. The water then drains from the flour, which gradually dries without injury. The bags may be taken down in two or three days, and pressed and shaken, in order to break the lumps into which the flour may have collected, and then hung up again. Temporary bags may readily be made out of table-cloths, sheets, or pillow-cases.

8. When the flour is thoroughly dry, it may be kept in a dry place for any number of years fit for use, in bags, jars, or casks.

Upon the whole, it will be found that this method is more to be recommended than the plan of not passing the water through a sieve; but where no great nicety is required, or no sieve at hand, the pulp may be thrown into a large tub filled with water, and the whole stirred up and allowed to settle. In two or three minutes most of the pulp will have fallen to the bottom, whilst the heavier flour—from its being composed of so much finer particles—is still held in suspension in the water. By degrees, however, the flour, owing to its greater specific gravity, finds its way past the pulp, and at length settles below it. The water and pulp may then be poured off together, and the flour will be found in a compact mass at the bottom of the tub. These effects are readily to be seen, and may be better appreciated by a little experiment in which glass tumblers may be substituted for pail and tub. If the potato flour be mixed with wheat flour in any proportion, it will make wholesome bread; but as it is not so well calculated for making bread as for some other purposes, it is advisable not to add more than from a sixth to a third of the flour of the potatoes in this mixture. It serves better for puddings, &c. Its best use as food is under the forms to which arrow-root may be applied; and it is well understood that a very high percentage of what is sold in the shops under the name of arrow-root, is nothing more than this very flour of potatoes. It is also passed off in London under about a dozen different names, as an important and nutritious article of diet.

To prepare a cup as arrow-root, take about a tablespoonful of the flour, and a little cold water to it, and stir it up to the consistency of cream. Now pour on it water absolutely boiling, (for if cooler it will not answer,) and keep stirring it till the cup is nearly full, when it will suddenly pass to a transparent paste-like jelly. This jelly is nearly tasteless, but may be rendered very palatable in several ways. By adding salt and a very little piece of butter, it proves to be a grateful dish to the poor. With sugar and nutmeg, it is extremely pleasant to most palates, and more especially so if a little white wine is added to it. Some children of the labourers prefer it with salt and butter to having it prepared with sugar and nutmeg; also with sugar and milk it seems to be highly approved by them. A good basinful of this jelly may be prepared in less than ten minutes from a single raw potato. It takes not two minutes to wash and grate it; not a minute to stir the pulp in water and pass it over the sieve. If the strained water be then left to stand for six or seven minutes in a basin and then poured out again, a firm layer of the flour will already have settled at the bottom, and if this be stirred up whilst boiling water is poured upon it, the basin is presently filled with a mass of most excellent jelly. It would be better to re-wash the flour and allow it to settle again, as it has not been thoroughly cleaned of the crude juice of the potato, which might sometimes impart a flavour to the jelly; but if the experiment be tried in the way suggested, it proves very attractive and inviting to further inquiry, with persons who might not otherwise feel disposed to attend to the process.

Among several facts which have been named in favour of the process recommended for extracting and saving the wholesome flour contained in bad potatoes, the following may be selected.

Mr. J. Rand, the vice-president of the club, has employed women to grate about thirty sacks of bad potatoes, (grown on his own farm,) at a cost of two shillings the sack. He has ascertained that from one sack he obtained seventeen pounds of flour.

Mr. A. Smith, clerk of Layham, has extracted thirty pounds of flour from about five bushels of bad potatoes, part of the produce of his allotment, and has refused sixpence the pound, which was offered him for his sample.

Mr. W. Baker, carpenter at Hitcham, has long been in the habit of procuring arrow-root from the shops at one shilling and four-pence per pound for an invalid wife, who uses a good deal of it; but he now finds that he can prepare for himself, from his bad potatoes, an article equal to what he has been accustomed to buy.

At the Cosford Union House, about forty sacks of potatoes, grown on the premises, proved too bad for use; these are undergoing the process, and a large quantity of the flour has already been procured from them.

Since a bushel of sound potatoes, in the early part of the season, may be made to produce from eleven to twelve pounds of this flour of a most superior quality, quite equal to what is sold very frequently as arrow-root, &c., from one shilling and sixpence to two shillings and sixpence the pound; and since the prime cost of a bushel of potatoes may be estimated, in most seasons (to the growers themselves) at sixpence to a shilling, it should seem, that whilst the potato flour may command a marketable value which would remunerate the labour bestowed in its manufacture, it may often be prepared by the growers themselves, for home use, at a prime cost of a half-penny or penny per pound.

ii.—CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS relative to the ALTERATION of the WORKHOUSE DIETARY in consequence of the FAILURE of the POTATO CROP.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
SIR, 10th November, 1845.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to state, that in consequence of the failure of the potato crop, the Guardians may find it impracticable or inexpedient to supply the inmates of the workhouse of your Union with the article of potatoes as prescribed by the dietary. The Commissioners will therefore be prepared to entertain any proposition for such modification of the dietary, as will enable the Guardians to substitute any other article instead of potatoes.

I am to request that the subject may be immediately brought under the consideration of the Board of Guardians.

I am, &c.,

EDWIN CHADWICK, Secretary.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians.

CIRCULAR LETTER of the COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS relative to Act of 9 and 10 Vict., c. 10.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
SIR, 18th April, 1846.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to draw the attention of the Guardians to the provisions of the statute which has lately received the royal assent (9 Vic., c. 10), relative to the payment of the pensions of Chelsea and Greenwich Pensioners.

It will be seen that by sec. 2 so much of the former statute of the 2nd and 3rd Vic., c. 51, as related to the repayment of relief granted to Chelsea and Greenwich Pensioners, is repealed, and in sec. 9 it is enacted, that if any such pensioner be relieved or become chargeable in Great Britain or Ireland, in respect of relief afforded to himself or any person whom he is liable to maintain, or if in any case the Secretary at War and the Guardians think it desirable that the whole or any part of the pension should be advanced out of the poor rate, it shall be lawful for the Secretary at War, by writing under his hand or under the hand of any officer employed by him, to agree with the Guardians for the repayment to them, out of the pension of any such pensioner, of the amount of relief so advanced to or expended on his account, but not exceeding, in any case, where relief has been administered to his wife, or one child only whom he is bound to maintain, the amount of half of his pension, or to two or more such children, or to his wife and one or more such child or children, the amount of two-thirds of his pension so advanced.

Section 10 contains a provision in regard to lunatic pensioners.

The Guardians will observe, with reference to this enactment, that the repayment of relief to these classes of paupers must be the subject of express arrangement with the Secretary at War.

Consequently, if the Guardians have any such cases now under their administration, they should forthwith communicate with the Secretary at War, as to the mode to be adopted in future with reference to the repayment of the charge of the relief.

CORRESPONDENCE between the COMMISSIONERS and the BOARD of GUARDIANS of the ANDOVER UNION relative to a TASK OF WORK for PAUPERS, under 5 and 6 Vic. c. 57, s. 5.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,

SIR,

21st December, 1843.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to refer you to the 5th section of the 5 and 6 Vict. c. 57, by which it is rendered lawful for the Board of Guardians to prescribe a task of work, to be done by any person relieved in a workhouse, in return for the food and lodging afforded to such person; and I am also to refer you to Article 10, Section 7, of the Workhouse Rules, and to inquire whether the Guardians have made any regulations for the work to be performed by casual poor wayfarers and vagrants admitted to the house, and if so, the Commissioners request you will forward a copy of the Guardians' resolution on the subject for the consideration of the Commissioners.

I am, &c.,

(Signed)

E. CHADWICK, Secretary.

The Clerk to the Board of Guardians of the Andover Union.

GENTLEMEN,

Andover, 3rd January, 1844.

IN reply to your letter of the 21st ultimo, I am directed to inform you that the Guardians of this Union have directed that the casual poor wayfarers and vagrants admitted into the Union-house, in return for the food and lodging afforded them, do crush half a bushel of bones by hand, through a quarter-of-an-inch sieve.

I am, &c.,

The Poor Law Commissioners.

(Signed)

THOS. LAMB.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,

SIR,

12th March, 1844.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3rd January, respecting the task of work to be performed by vagrants admitted into the Andover Union Workhouse.

The Commissioners suggest that the Guardians should pass a resolution in the inclosed form prescribing, in pursuance of the 5th section of the 5 and 6 Vict. c. 57, a task of work to be performed by paupers relieved in the workhouse in return for the food and lodging afforded to them.

From the nature of the work mentioned in your letter, the Commissioners presume that it is performed by male paupers only. The Commissioners wish to be informed if it is intended to set the adult females to work as well as the males; as if so, a task of work should be prescribed for the former as well as the latter.

I am, &c.,

To Thomas Lamb, Esq.,
Clerk to the Guardians of the Andover Union.

(Signed) W. G. LUMLEY,
Assistant Secretary.

GENTLEMEN,

Andover, 7th May, 1844.

I beg to send you, for your consent and approval, an order of the Board of Guardians of this Union as to the task of work to be performed by occasional poor persons, who may be relieved in the workhouse, in return for the food and lodging afforded them. The work refers to male paupers only: as females very seldom if ever apply for relief, the Guardians did not think it necessary to order any task of work to be performed by them. Be so good as to return the same, with your approval, at your convenience.

I am, &c.,

The Poor Law Commissioners.

(Signed) THOMAS LAMB.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
11th May, 1844.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 7th instant, forwarding an order of the Board of Guardians of the Andover Union as to the task of work to be performed by occasional poor persons relieved in the Union workhouse.

I am to observe that as the task of work refers to males only, the word "male" should be inserted between the words "adult person." The resolution is returned to you herewith; and when this alteration in its form shall have been made by the Guardians, the Commissioners request that it may be retransmitted for their approval.

With respect to the nature of the task of work, the Commissioners request that the medical officer of the workhouse may be called upon to state whether he entertains any objection to it, either on the ground of its being injurious to the health of the inmates generally, from the situation of the premises where it is carried on, or to the health of the parties employed upon it.

I am, &c.,

To T. Lamb, Esq.,
Clerk to the Guardians,
Andover.

(Signed) W. G. LUMLEY,
Assistant Secretary.

GENTLEMEN.

Andover, 21st May, 1844.

I BEG to return you the order of the Board of Guardians of this Union as to the task of work to be performed by occasional poor persons relieved in the Union workhouse, with the alteration made therein as directed. The medical officer states that he entertains no objection to the nature of the work, either on the ground of its being injurious to the health of the inmates of the workhouse, or to the health of the parties employed upon it.

I am, &c.,

To crush half a bushel of bones by hand, to pass through a quarter-of-an-inch sieve.

Provided that no such person shall be detained against his will for the performance of such task of work, for any time exceeding four hours from the hour of breakfast, on the morning next after admission.

And provided also, that such amount of work shall not be required from any person to whose age, strength, and capacity it shall appear not to be suited.

Relating to Task-Work Order.

Poor Law Commission Office, Somerset House,
31st May, 1844.

SIR,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Commissioners to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st instant, inclosing a copy of an order of the Guardians of the Andover Union, prescribing a task of work for the occasional poor persons relieved in the workhouse of the Union, and in reference thereto I am directed to state that the Commissioners approve of the Order, and now transmit to you a copy thereof under their hands and seal (in testimony of their approval) for preservation amongst the documents of the Guardians, together with an additional copy under the seal of the Commissioners, to be hung up in some conspicuous place in the workhouse.

The Commissioners desire me to suggest that the Guardians should procure copies of this Order, printed in the form of a placard, for the purpose of being posted in different conspicuous parts of the workhouse, with a view of securing due publicity to the regulations. The Commissioners have ascertained that Messrs. Knight and Co., the publishers of Ludgate-street, are prepared to supply placard copies of this form.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) W. G. LUMLEY, Assistant Secretary.

*To the Clerk to the Guardians
of the Andover Union.*

GENTLEMEN,

Andover, Hants, 9th July, 1844.

I beg to forward you the report of the medical officer of the Union workhouse respecting the employment of crushing bones at the Union house.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) CHAS. COLBORNE, for MR. LAMB.

The Poor Law Commissioners,

GENTLEMEN,

Andover, 3rd July, 1844.

IN reply to your letter, I beg to state that the bones usually obtained are dry, consequently but little effluvia emitted from them, and in such a state are not injurious to health.

There can be no objection to the instrument or the place where the work is carried on.

I am, &c.,

No. 11.

REPORTS BY RICHARD HALL, ESQ., ON THE FORMATION OF THE METROPOLIS INTO DISTRICTS FOR THE RELIEF OF CASUAL POOR, UNDER 7 AND 8 VICT., C. 101.

GENTLEMEN,

London, January 17, 1845.

I HAVE the honour to submit a scheme of districts to be declared by you, for the purpose of providing and managing asylums for the temporary relief of destitute houseless poor, under the 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101.

There are 32 unions, and 21 parishes not in union, liable to be combined into asylum districts, as being either wholly or partly in the city of London, and the district of the Metropolitan police.

Eighteen unions, 21 independent parishes, and the parish of Hampstead, in the Edmonton Union, are included in the arrangement I now propose. I have excluded the other unions and parishes within the police district, because they lie clear of the suburbs of London. The same might, perhaps, be said of the Richmond Union; but it is so situated between the Brentford and Wandsworth and Clapham Unions, both of which are much burthened with vagrants or occasional paupers, that it can hardly be left out.

Within the limits of this arrangement, will be comprised all the parishes and places that appear to be now ordinarily liable to the relief of the houseless poor of the Metropolis. If it be found hereafter that an additional burthen is brought by the establishment of these districts upon any of the adjacent unions lying beyond the suburbs of the Metropolis, but within the police district, such unions may be then added to these districts, or new combinations may be made, with the requisite consent of the district Boards, which, in such case, I should apprehend no difficulty in obtaining.

I contemplate it as probable, that in each district two permanent asylums will be established, so as to insure the utmost promptitude in affording relief: in many of the cases for which the asylums will be provided, the relief to be effective ought to be given without delay, and as near the spot where the destitution exists as possible.

It may also be found occasionally expedient to establish temporary asylums to meet any extraordinary emergency, such as an unusually severe and protracted frost.

I believe the provisions of the Act of Parliament will admit of such contemplated arrangements, and it will be found that two or more small asylums, placed in different parts of a district, will be more useful and more manageable than one central asylum calculated for a large number of inmates. There are, I think, good reasons for having four districts with two asylums in each, rather than eight districts, each with its single asylum.

The peculiar class of destitute persons for whose relief the asylums are to be provided, not being legally or locally connected with any definite part of the Metropolis, ought to be provided for, as far as it can be so arranged, at the general and equal cost of the whole.

The propriety of spreading the charge for the asylums, and the cost of the relief given therein over an extended field, is one reason among others for declaring districts of large size; the class of paupers to be relieved is a fluctuating, migratory, and transient class, the burthen of whose support could not be equitably distributed amongst small districts. Many of the parishes and unions through which these paupers pursue their avocations by day, do not contain the places in which they are accustomed to congregate by night. On the other hand, the places where they pass the night are in unions or parishes in which they do not seek their subsistence by day. It would, therefore, be practically unfair to establish asylums in districts, consisting exclusively of either one or other sort of unions and parishes; it might occur, under such an arrangement, that the locality which supplied the chief inducement to the vagrant to remain in the Metropolis, might escape altogether the burthen of relieving him. The establishment of small districts would have a tendency to keep up in a degree that uncertainty in obtaining relief, which is now so frequent a subject of complaint with reference to poor persons not settled where they make application, and at the same time it would afford a facility to the habitual mendicant to avoid removal to the place of his settlement, if he have any, by more frequently shifting his quarters. With these views, I recommend extensive districts radiating from the centre of London, and terminating beyond the suburbs.

The only limitation that I would put upon the extent of the districts is that which is suggested by the usual inefficiency of very large Boards, it being necessary that every union and parish should be represented at the Board of Management, and by the necessity of avoiding the accumulation upon one Board of more business than any one Board could satisfactorily dispose of.

The unions and parishes included in this arrangement are in number 39; I propose to distribute them in four districts, to be managed respectively by four Boards, and to be denominated the North-Eastern District, the Central District, the North-Western District, and the Southern District.

I have made much inquiry, with the object of ascertaining the probable number of houseless poor persons to be provided for.

I have extracted from the weekly returns (Form A) the number of vagrants that were relieved in the workhouses of 27 of the unions and parishes included in the scheme, in every week of the year ending the 31st December, 1844. The average number for a single night is 424.

I have obtained from 33 unions and parishes (among which are included the 27 places referred to in the last paragraph) a return of the number of the vagrants relieved in the workhouses on the nights of the 30th September, 1843; 30th November, 1843; 31st January, 1844; 31st March, 1844; 31st May, 1844; and 31st July, 1844; that is, on six nights taken at intervals, throughout a year. I find that the numbers relieved in the 33 unions and parishes were as under:—

1843 .	{	30th September . . .	555
		30th November . . .	276
		31st January . . .	384
1844 .	{	31st March . . .	368
		31st May . . .	773
		31st July . . .	546

This gives a nightly average of 484, which agrees with the result obtained from the weekly returns, or does not materially disagree with it.

You are aware that for some years a society has existed in London, whose exertions are directed to the relief of the houseless poor. The operations of this society are confined to the winter season, and their asylums are usually open between the months of November and April.

On the 30th November, 1843, 31st January, 1844, and 31st March, 1844, the Eastern and Central Asylums of the Society for the Relief of the Houseless Poor were open; and on the 31st of January, 1844, and 31st March, 1844, the Western Asylum was also open; the numbers relieved in the asylums on these days were as under:—

1843 .	30th November . . .	569
— 1844 .	{ 31st January . . .	882
	{ 31st March . . .	1084

The nightly average relieved in the asylums was therefore 838: Thus allowing the additional number of 36 as the average nightly number relieved in the workhouses of the six parishes from which I did not obtain a return (and I have reason to believe the actual number to be less than 36), we have a nightly average of 520 for the Metropolitan workhouses throughout the year; a nightly average of 660 for the workhouses during that portion of the year in which the asylums were not open; a nightly average of 378 for the period in which the asylums were open; and a nightly average of 1216 for the workhouses and asylums during the period when all were in operation together.

But in estimating the extent of the provision to be made in the new asylums, we ought perhaps to look to the actual maximum number rather than to the average.

Referring to the foregoing statement, it will be seen that the greatest numbers of cases were relieved in the 33 Unions and parishes, when the workhouses and asylums were all in operation, namely—

1843 .	30th November . . .	845
1844 .	{ 31st January . . .	1266
	{ 31st March . . .	1432

And that the greatest number relieved on any one night of the six nights mentioned, was on the 31st March, 1844—1432.

Estimating the numbers relieved as vagrants on the 31st March, in unions and parishes from which I did not procure returns at 36, and adding 100 as the number relieved at the Asylum for Sailors, near the London Docks, the number of houseless persons relieved in workhouses and asylums on the 31st March, 1844, may be stated with sufficient accuracy for the purposes of this Report as 1568; and it may safely be assumed that on no night in the year does the number of such persons so relieved exceed 1568.

The Rev. W. Queckett, the incumbent of Christ Church, and chaplain of the workhouse of St. George in the East, has ascertained the numbers relieved on the nights of the 27th November, 1843, and 27th November, 1844, in 36 Metropolitan workhouses and in the principal asylums. The authenticity and truth of his information may be relied on. He has published the results, and his conclusion is, "In round numbers, the average number of these nightly wanderers is about 1000."

I am disposed to think that provision must be made for a larger number; for I find that the numbers relieved in the asylums are much greater towards the close of the period for remaining open than at its commencement. On the 31st March, 1844, 1064 persons were relieved in the same asylums as relieved on the 30th November, 1843—569; and on the 31st January, 1844, 882 persons; while the numbers relieved in the workhouses did not diminish, but rather increased during the same period.

The greatest numbers of vagrants are relieved in workhouses during the summer months. According to the previous statements, in the North Eastern, Central, and North Western Districts, the 31st May gives the greatest number. In the Southern District, the numbers on the 31st May and 31st July are nearly equal, and greatly exceed the numbers at any other time. But the maximum demand for relief upon workhouses and asylums together occurs in the month of March; and unless it can be reasonably expected that the demand will lessen, and remain stationary at a lower point, upon the establishment of the district asylums, provision must, I think, be made for that maximum.

My expectation is, that the number will not materially diminish. At the same time, there are facts which indicate that the number of persons heretofore needing and willing to accept such temporary relief as has been given in asylums and workhouses to the class denominated mendicants, or vagrants, or casuals, is fairly represented by the numbers actually relieved, as shown in the Tables I have referred to. If this were not so, the accommodation being limited, the opening and closing of the asylums would not have caused such a corresponding fluctuation in the numbers relieved in the workhouses as is observable. While the asylums were open, the vagrant wards of the workhouses were not full; during the period when the asylums were closed, the pressure of applications at the workhouses was increased. The average number relieved for the former period, was, as we have seen, 378; for the latter period, 660.

Occasionally, during the latter period, the pressure in some unions and parishes exceeded the capacity of the workhouse to meet it, but no instance of that kind is reported to me as having occurred while the asylums were open; I therefore conclude, that the maximum relieved in the asylums and workhouses together comprehended all the individuals for whom a provision need be made under the new arrangement. If it be said that the numbers relieved in the asylums increased progressively as long as they remained open, and that therefore their closing cut short the experiment by which it might have been ascertained what number really required such relief, I reply that the workhouses remain always open for the reception of vagrants, and that the numbers relieved in them has never reached the maximum that they would hold in the aggregate, and been sustained at that point.

It appears by returns obtained by me, that there is accommodation in the workhouses of the 33 unions last referred to for 1413 vagrants; but we have seen that the average number relieved in the same workhouses, when the asylums were shut, on any one night, is 624; and that the greatest number is 773. Where the maximum has been reached, which was only in some of the workhouses, the pressure was generally of short duration and attributable to transient circumstances, such as the beginning of the hay season in Middlesex, Essex, and Hertfordshire; or of the hop season in Kent and Sussex, or some local fair, or horse races; while, in one-third of the workhouses, no pressure exceeding their resources has at any time been felt.

I might add, that the system of the whole asylums, where lodging and food are afforded without requiring work in return, is such as cannot but multiply applications, and cause them to increase steadily to an extent limited only by the limit placed upon the relief given. But the system of the new asylums will resemble that of the workhouses, and will therefore impose the same check on the demand for relief as the workhouse imposes.

Such are my reasons for supposing that an increase on the maximum number hitherto relieved need not be apprehended. On the other hand, I should expect that the report of the establishment of the new asylums, their being widely distributed throughout London, and placed conveniently with reference to the localities in which they are most wanted, and the very superior accommodation that they will offer to their destitute objects, as compared with what has hitherto been provided for them, will prevent the number, for some time at least, from falling much below that maximum.

On these considerations I suppose it will be advisable to make provision in the Metropolitan asylums for the reception of 1600 destitute houseless persons, and that they be distributed among the four districts in equal proportions.

As regards the constitution of the District Board, I suggest that every parish or union, under a Board of Guardians, constituted under the provisions of the 4th and 5th Will. IV. c. 76, shall elect one manager, and every other parish or union, two managers. I make this distinction because, under the 7th and 8th Vic., c. 101, only the chairmen of Boards constituted under the 4th and 5th Will. IV. c. 76, are to be, ex officio, members of the District Board; and I think the important parishes under local Acts might with reason complain if not represented as fully at the District Board as other parishes or unions. This arrangement would give to the several districts the respective numbers for the Boards of Management as under:—

	Elected.	Ex-Officio.	Total.
North-Eastern District .	9	7	16
Central District	15	5	20
North-Western District.	16	6	22
Southern District . . .	13	11	24

The several districts are given in a tabular form in the following pages.

The parish of St. Sepulchre Without is not inserted in the table of the district in which it will be, inasmuch as I have recommended that it should be united to the Holborn Union on the 25th March, and you have decided so to unite it. This will bring it into the Central District, as part of that union.

The several existing asylums mentioned are inserted in the district within which they are situated.

I append a map, showing the proposed districts, so far as London extends; also, tables containing the statements of numbers to which I have referred in this Report.

As the alteration of the Kensington Union cannot be arranged before the 25th March, the declaration of asylum districts cannot conveniently take effect until after that day; besides which it would be an inconvenience if a change took place in the composition of the District Board so soon after its formation, which might occur by a change of chairmen of the Boards of Guardians after the annual election on the 25th March. With reference to which point I would observe, that I consider the spring to be the best time of year for bringing the measure into operation ; mendicant strangers do not resort to London at that season ; the houseless poor that have lived there through the winter are then leaving it to return in the autumn ; and the number of settled inmates of the Metropolitan workhouses is diminishing, whereby room is made for the occasional applicants for relief. Let the first steps be taken in spring, and a sufficient period will intervene for maturing the details and bringing the new system into a state of complete preparation against the trial which will be made of its efficiency in the ensuing winter,

I have, &c.,

GENTLEMEN,

London, 13th May, 1845.

There are certain details connected with the organization of the district asylums for the destitute houseless poor, on which I have to submit the following suggestions:—

I suggest that as the District Boards are to be severally designated as "The Board of Management of the District Asylum," (see 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101, s. 45), the members be denominated "Managers."

The 7 and 8 Vict. c. 101, does not say by whom the Board shall be constituted; neither does it express who is to fix the number of Guardians for the district, or the number for each Union or Parish, or the time of the year at which the election shall take place. After enacting that a Board shall be constituted for every district, which Board shall consist of members to be elected from amongst the ratepayers of the district, the Act directs the Poor Law Commissioners to fix the qualification of such members, and empowers them to determine at what periods not exceeding three years, in what proportions, and in what manner, such members shall be elected by the Guardians of every Union or Parish in the district, or by the overseers of any Parish not governed by Guardians.

It is evident some authority must decide how many managers are to be elected for a district, and how many for each Union or Parish therein; and the necessity of the case, as well as the analogy of the Poor Law Amendment Act, points to the Commissioners as the proper authority. The word "proportions," used with reference to the members of the District Board, which the Guardians of every Union or Parish are to elect in accordance with the direction of the Commissioners, implies strongly that the Commissioners are to fix the number to be elected for each Union or Parish; for, to fix the proportions without fixing the numbers could have no practical effect. I conclude, therefore, that the Commissioners must, by an order, constitute the Board of Managers, and fix the number of members to be elected for each Union or Parish in the district.

As regards qualification, it appears plain that there should be only one amount of qualification for each district. It would be inexpedient to require a qualification so high as to exclude any person qualified to be a Guardian of any Parish or Union in the district; and I therefore propose to fix the qualification in each district at the lowest amount which qualifies for the office of Guardian within that district.

As regards the periods of election, it is questionable, first, whether the periods must be settled once for all; secondly, whether all subsequent elections must take place on the same day of the year as the first election; and, thirdly, whether all the members of the Board must be elected at the same time.

As to the first point, I think the Commissioners may alter the period of service at their discretion, from time to time; as to the second, that there is nothing to prevent the Commissioners from including a portion of a year in a period of service; and, as to the third point, I incline to the opinion that the word "proportions" means only the number of representatives that each Union or Parish shall have with reference to the number of the whole Board of Management, and that the word is not to be taken in connexion with the periods, so as to make it mean that portions of the Board may, if the Commissioners so direct, be elected at different times.

Whether any advantage would be gained by making the ordinary term of service longer than one year is, I think, doubtful. It is not probable that the office of manager will be a desirable office, but the contrary; it must therefore be made as little onerous as possible. Members who are efficient, and do not dislike the duties, may be re-elected; on the other hand, no power is given to a member serving reluctantly and inefficiently, to resign. As the Boards of Guardians are the electors, and as they are elected annually on the 25th of March, I think it will be convenient to take the 29th of September as the ordinary period for electing the members of the Board of Managers; and, on the whole, I would suggest to the Commissioners, as the best way of exercising their powers in this behalf, at present, that they direct that the managers elected at the first election shall serve until the next 29th of September, and thenceforth for one year; and that the Commissioners leave the arrangement of subsequent periods for future consideration. Such a course will give time for the development of circumstances affecting the question, how far it is desirable to act upon the provision which enables the Commissioners to extend the period of service to three years.

To return to the consideration of the number of managers to be elected for each Union or Parish. It is enacted in the Poor Law Amendment Act (4 and 5 Wm. IV. c. 76, s. 38), that the Commissioners, in determining the number of Guardians, are to have due regard to the circumstances of every parish; and in the Irish Poor Relief Act, by which the Commissioners are invested with similar powers, there is a provision that those powers shall be exercised with due regard to the circumstances of each electoral division. Although this provision is not repeated in the 7th and 8th Vict. c. 101, still it will probably be inferred by the Commissioners that the circumstances of every combined Parish and Union are to be considered by them in fixing the number of managers to be elected for such Union or Parish, and the term "proportions," used in this Act (as I think it is) as an equivalent to the term "numbers" in the other Acts, seems to imply inequality. Amount of population will probably be considered by you in fixing the numbers of managers; but there is one special circumstance distinguishing a portion of the combined Unions and Parishes from the rest—namely, that the chairman of every Board of Guardians, constituted under the provisions of the 4 and 5 Wm. IV. c. 76, is entitled, if he consent, to be ex-officio a member of the District Board; it is not, however, clear to me that this is a circumstance that ought to be taken into account. Had it been said positively and imperatively that such chairman shall be an ex-officio member of the District Board, it would have been open to the Commissioners to equalize the representation in their arrangement of the proportional numbers of elected Guardians; but considering that in the same Act there is a provision making it compulsory on every Board of Guardians constituted under a local Act to elect a permanent chairman, while the power of being a member of the District Board is not conferred on such chairman, and that where the power is conferred its exercise is optional, I cannot but think that an intentional preference must be presumed in favour of the chairmen of Boards of Guardians constituted under the Poor Law Amendment Act; in which case it would not be right to neutralize that preference by an adjustment of the relative numbers of Guardians with a view to it.

It may after all be thought that the point is really of comparatively trifling importance, as the separate interest of each Union will be but trifling, the expenditure being made a common charge on the whole district. It might, however, give rise to dissatisfaction if the same number of members were assigned to every Union or Parish; I therefore suggest that some difference should be made, depending upon the population and general importance of the several places combined; but in so doing, I exclude the ex-officio members from the calculation.

It will be necessary that the chairmen qualified to be ex-officio members of the District Board, express formally their consent or refusal to be so, in order that the Board may consist of a definite number of members, as there are certain acts for which the consent of the majority of the Board is requisite.

I will only observe, that I do not find in the Act any provision for remedying defects in election, for supplying vacancies, for making an incomplete Board, or a quorum competent to act; or for fixing the minimum number which shall be competent. The general powers conferred on the Board by the 43rd section may supply what seems deficient or requisite.

As regards the mode of election, it will probably be sufficient to direct the several Boards of Guardians to elect managers on a certain day, in the same manner as they have been accustomed to elect other officers. The clerk should give special notice of the election to all the Guardians seven days previously, and should immediately after the election report to the Commissioners, in a form to be supplied for that purpose, the name and address of every person elected, the number of Guardians present and voting at the election, and the number of votes given to each person returned as elected. Directions should also be given to record the particulars of the election in the minute-book.

In like manner the determination of chairmen to be or not to be members of the District Board, should be recorded and reported to the Commissioners.

As regards the appointment of officers, a clerk and a treasurer will be the only officers that will be required until the asylums are provided for each District Board.

I have appended to this letter tables showing the particulars to which it relates, as I have arranged them for each district.

The Poor Law Commissioners.

No. 12.

REPORT by E. CARLETON TUFNELL, Esq., Assistant Poor Law Commissioner, on the FAILURE of POTATOES, and its EFFECT on LABOURERS.

GENTLEMEN,

26th January, 1846.

According to your desire I have been making inquiries respecting the proportion of the potato crop that is supposed to have failed in the west of England, and the extent to which the condition of the labouring classes will probably be influenced by such failure; and though I have not yet received all the evidence I have made arrangements for receiving, I think it best not to delay sending you the information already acquired. I have obtained the intelligence I transmit from three sources, viz., from letters sent to me by the chief landholders and residents in the west of England, being mostly chairmen of Boards of Guardians; from resolutions of Boards of Guardians, passed in consequence of my application to them; and from personal inquiries that I have made while attending Boards of Guardians.

I will commence with Somersetshire, in which county the crops around Bath are almost the only ones in the west of England of which I have received a favourable account. The Rev. Mr. Paul, Incumbent of Wellow, a large agricultural parish, informs me that in his parish the proportion of good potatoes is considered to be larger than last year; and that in his own garden, the produce exceeded that of last year by one-half, while one-third of the increase was lost from decay; and hence the sound produce is one-sixth more than last year. At the Bath workhouse, five acres of potatoes were cultivated, of which the produce was 88 sacks per acre, 80 sacks being considered an average produce. Of the whole produce, 5 per cent. has been lost from decay, which is generally considered to have stopped in the neighbourhood. The opinion of the farmers, at a meeting of the Bath Guardians, coincided with the impression to be collected from the above facts.

The Shepton Mallet Board of Guardians passed the following resolution on the 20th January, in answer to my application:—"It is the opinion of the Board that three-fourths of the potato crop have failed, in consequence of which the price is considerably increased, and the stock expected to fall short in the spring."

Colonel Luttrell, the chairman of the Williton Union, in East Somerset, writes to me on the 18th January,—"It is my opinion that more than one-half of the potato crop is lost, and that in consequence of its being the principal article of food in this neighbourhood with the labouring classes, the price of potatoes will be so high as to press hard on the poor for the next half-year."

Mr. Popham, a magistrate, and chairman of the Taunton Union, writing to me on the 19th January, says,—"From inquiries I have made, and from my own observation, I believe in the parishes immediately adjoining this the failure of the potato crop has been one-half. All our other crops in the neighbourhood were excellent, and well got in, which has enabled the farmers to expend more money in labour, and there is now a greater demand for labour than I ever remember at this time of year. All the able-bodied are employed. If the same demand continue, which will be the case, unless severe frost should set in, the labourers will not suffer so much as might be otherwise expected from the deficiency of potatoes."

The clerk of the Wincanton Union, writing on the 23rd January, says,—"I beg to state, that from my own observation, and from the best information I can collect, it may be fairly stated that about one-half of the potato crop is supposed to have been lost in this Union. The condition of the aged poor will not be materially affected by the loss, inasmuch as they are not growers of potatoes; but I regret to add, that many of the able-bodied labourers, who have families, are likely to feel the loss severely, inasmuch as they produce their own potatoes, and depend upon the crop to pay the rent of their potato ground, and to provide a sufficient stock for the family consumption until digging time again. Many families are already complaining of great distress, and I fear as the spring advances, that this distress will increase. Should the winter, however, pass off mildly, and work continue abundant, I trust that the distress, which is becoming apparent, will be greatly mitigated."

The Rev. Mr. Clarke, a magistrate, Incumbent of Clayhidon, and chairman of the Wellington Union, says, in a letter received on the 12th January,—"Yesterday, at the meeting of the Board of Guardians of the Wellington Union, there were several applications from persons having large families, on account of the failure of the potato crop; and, as at present advised, I am quite at a loss how to act: for, as other crops are at a fair price, all idea of a general scarcity, much less of famine, are quite out of the question; but the failure of this particular crop presses hard on a particular class, and that is on the 'independent labourers,' with large families. It has been the practice for many years, and since the passing of the Poor Law Amendment Act the practice has much increased, for the farmers to let to the poor labourer a certain portion of ground, say a quarter of an acre, in a few instances it is half an acre, and in some instances less than a quarter of an acre. The farmer prepares the ground, supplies the manure, and gets everything in readiness until the ground is fit to receive the seed; the labourer supplies the seed, is at the expense of planting, and everything afterwards; but as a general rule, is not allowed to take up the potatoes until he has paid the rent, which, upon an average, is about 2*l.* for the quarter of an acre; this forms the independent labourer's dependent stock for the year. Now, in many instances, this dependence has in this year entirely failed, and in some partially; and what are the poor creatures to do? I can myself see no other way, except a relaxation of the rule for giving some assistance in kind to persons so situated. It is in vain to expect any increase of wages in the case; and even if we could, those who are not affected by this peculiar want, would feel much if they were paid less than those who do. I am now in my sixtieth year, have lived all my life amongst the rural poor, and have acted as a magistrate for the counties of Devon and Somerset for more than 30 years, and have always, long before the passing of the Poor Law Amendment Act, done all that I could to make the labourer dependent on his own industry and good conduct, being always convinced that it was for the benefit of the labourer himself; but this is a case such as I never recollect, and requires to be met so as to mitigate an evil which has come upon the labourer without any fault or neglect on his part, and which no effort he has the power to make can cure."

The following is from the clerk of the Yeovil Union, dated the 21st January:—"Relative to the subject of your inquiry, 'the extent of loss of the potato crop,' there is great difference of opinion as to the actual loss. It is however allowed on all hands, that independent of any loss arising from the disease, the crop, with few exceptions, was deficient one-fourth. In our light soils the disease has been very little felt, and the apprehensions of its spreading among those secured for the spring are fast subsiding. When the crop was first dug, the price ruled from 6*s.* to 7*s.* per sack of two bushels, weighing per bushel 120 lbs., and they are now selling from 7*s.* to 8*s.* per sack, and the general opinion is, they will be as cheap or cheaper in the spring than at present. Last year they were sold at from 4*s.* to 5*s.* per sack, and it cannot be denied that the difference in the price this year has enhanced the price of bread considerably. We are contracting for bread this quarter, from 30 to 35 per cent. higher than the past quarter. Notwithstanding this, it is the opinion of our Board that in consequence of the plentiful supply of labour for the poor, it will have little or no injurious influence on the condition of the labouring classes. We have but one able-bodied man in the workhouse, and it is stated that in the agricultural districts, labour has not for years been so plentiful. The glove manufacture, the staple trade of Yeovil, and the vicinity for nearly 20 miles round, has not been so brisk for many years. Men, women, boys, and girls, in Yeovil, in full employ, and the wives and daughters of agricultural labourers in the vicinity."

Mr. T. B. Uttermare, a magistrate, and chairman of the Langport Union, writes thus on the 21st January,—“I am not prepared to give any opinion as to what proportion of the potato crop has been lost; our neighbourhood having in a great degree escaped the disease, our attention has not been particularly called to the subject. The quantity planted last season was rather greater than usual, and the produce was above an average crop. The potatoes for the Union House (250 bags of 120 lbs. each) were purchased early in the season at 2*s.* 6*d.* per bag; they are of a good quality, and the master assures me that the decay scarcely exceeds what ordinarily occurs amongst a large quantity. He has lately hand-picked over a large proportion of the whole; they are kept exposed to the air in a room. The private families of the town laid in their winter stock at 3*s.*, with the smaller ones picked over, and I have had no complaint of any serious failure; my own certainly keeps very well. The present retail price is from 3*s.* 6*d.* to 4*s.*, with a downward tendency in price. Potatoes being a rather bulky article of carriage, and not bearing at all well the cheaper mode of conveyance by water, the neighbourhood where they are grown has, of course, a great advantage in price.

“Taking into consideration that our labouring population are in general the growers of potatoes for their own use, the mildness of the season and the great abundance of labour, it is hoped and believed that the advance in price will not injuriously affect them to any serious extent; and certainly there is no pressure on the funds of the Union indicative of any distress as yet. It is generally considered, that if the crop had been free from disease, there would have been a large surplus; but the disease has affected it partially, falling heavily in some places, and avoiding others. From all I hear, the mischief has been increased by the injudicious treatment of the potatoes when first taken out of the ground. I showed your letter to some of our most intelligent Guardians yesterday, and they generally concurred in the foregoing view of the subject.”

The whole of the above evidence comes from Somersetshire. There is only a small part of Gloucestershire in this district; but on visiting the Stroud Board of Guardians on the 23rd January, I was assured by the farmers that three-fourths of the potato crop were considered to have been lost in that neighbourhood. In one instance mentioned, out of 320 sacks taken up, not 40 have been preserved, and the decay is rapidly advancing. Many labourers, who depend much on their potatoes, have not got a single one, and the distress is expected to be especially severe in April. At present, the extreme mildness of the season has produced an abundance of turnip-tops, and other description of greens, which partly supplies the deficiency.

The Union of Wheatenhurst, consisting of 14 parishes, adjoins that of Stroud, and I was informed there that the condition of the neighbourhood, as respects potatoes, was fairly represented by that of the workhouse garden, which consists of an acre and a half, that furnished an average crop, one half of which has been lost. Agricultural labourers have been unusually well employed lately, and there is even a scarcity of labourers, but it is expected that distress will be felt in April, when the potatoes are all consumed.

Mr. Taylor, a large farmer, chairman of the Chipping Sodbury Union, writes on the 17th January: "I believe all the potato fields were affected, though not to the same extent, by the want of more heat from the sun during the months of July and August last; and those on the cold sand and clay lands were generally most affected, but on the dry strong land there is not much cause for complaint; neither do I think, where proper caution has been used by allowing the potatoes to get dry, and they are put into houses instead of pits as usual, they have suffered much since the time of digging. Three samples of white potatoes were produced at our Board yesterday, all of which appeared sound, but not quite so floury as in previous years, and we contracted for as many as we require for the use of our workhouse at 6s. 9d. per sack; and I have this week purchased the very best potatoes for my own table at 10s. per sack. I consider both these prices to be about one-fourth higher than the average prices of many preceding years. The mildness of the season has certainly rendered other vegetables more abundant than usual, and wheat selling at a moderate price: we have no complaints at our Board, except from illness or accidents. All our able-bodied poor are now fully employed at rather higher wages than during the last three years, and appear to be well satisfied. From the alarm given some months since, respecting the potato crop, I am happy to say that both landlords and tenants took up the cause of the poor in this neighbourhood; and I really believe, with the blessing of Providence, we shall get through this winter as well as in former years, and I shall not be surprised if potatoes are purchased at a less price next May than at the present time."

In Devonshire, the crop appears to have extensively failed. The clerk of the Barnstaple Union writes to me as follows on the 24th January, by order of the Guardians:—"That the clerk do answer Mr. Tufnell's letter by informing him that the crop of potatoes in this neighbourhood is in general abundant, but very much injured, and that the price in the Barnstaple market is very high. With reference to the price, it is ascertained by the master's provision-book that 12 months ago the Board paid 3s. 3d. for a bag of 140 lbs., and that they are now paying 4s. 6d. for the same quantity. A great difference of opinion prevailed among the members of the Board as to the extent of damage the potato crop had sustained; some rating it at one-third, others at one-fifth,—probably by putting it at one-fourth, we shall be pretty near the mark.”

The clerk of the Southmolton Union, writing to me on 24th January, by order of his Board, says: “The Board a fortnight since contracted for a supply of potatoes for the current quarter at the price of 9*d.* per score, in previous years the price having varied from 6*d.* to 7*d.* per score; and although the crop of potatoes is generally bad, yet this Board does not contemplate any serious mischief to the labouring classes generally from such failure but what may be met by good management. At the same time this Board considers that those agricultural labourers who have been in the habit of tilling their own potatoes (a practice much followed in this district) will be seriously inconvenienced by the partial diminution of their crops; to meet which diminution they will have to provide some substitute.”

The Rev. W. Ponsford, a magistrate and chairman of the Okehampton Union, which contains 128,000 acres, writing on 19th January, says: “In some parishes of this Union the potato crop has been of good quality. In others, though there has not been much deficiency in quantity, a great proportion, at least three-fourths of the late kinds, which are commonly eaten after Christmas, have been so seriously damaged as to be scarcely fit for human food. These last have been given to pigs, and earlier and coarser sorts, which received less injury, have been eaten in families. Taking the average of the Union, I should think the condition of the labourer is worse than in ordinary seasons by about 1*s.* per week. Hitherto there has been no difficulty in procuring a supply of potatoes for the Union house at prices not very much exceeding what I remember to have been given in some former years. I think it right to add that the extreme mildness of the winter has rendered other vegetables remarkably plentiful, and that every man who is inclined to work can obtain employment.”

The following is from the clerk of Plympton St. Mary Union, near Plymouth, dated 24th January:—

“I laid your letter before the Board at their meeting yesterday; there were only five present; one said he had not saved one-tenth of his potato crop, another a sixth, and Col. Mudge, in consequence of having had them taken up from the cave and put into a house, had saved a fourth. It is hardly possible to form an opinion at present regarding the labouring classes, who are all here in full employment, and likely to continue so.”

The following is from Mr. Sillifant, a magistrate and vice-chairman of the Crediton Union, dated 20th January:—

“1st. As to the proportion of the potato crop in this neighbourhood which has failed:—One-half is, I am informed, the fair average of this neighbourhood.

“2nd. As to what extent the condition of the labouring classes will probably be influenced by such failure during the next half-year:—There is, and will be no doubt, great privation; but there is much alleviation arising from the mildness of the winter; greens being unusually abundant, labour absorbing every hand capable of work, the formation of rail-roads, and improvements carried on by landed proprietors, giving great activity to the labour market; so that we have great cause to look cheerfully on the future, and at the same time to be very thankful for such a season in the midst of obvious calamity, which would have been greatly aggravated had it been otherwise."

The Bideford Board of Guardians have made several complaints to you respecting the distress occasioned by the failure of the potatoes, and last week they sent up to you the case of a man with six children, earning 7*s.* weekly, whose main dependence was on his potato crop, the whole of which had failed. The Tiverton Union have made similar complaints, and on the 30th December they sent to you two cases of labouring men, one having a wife and four children, earning 7*s.* a week, and cider worth 1*s.*, the other a wife and five children, earning 6*s.* weekly, neither of whom had a single potato left, and were consequently wholly unable to support their families. The Guardians added that these were "only two of innumerable other similar cases."

From Wiltshire, Mr. Ravenhill, a banker and magistrate, and chairman of the Warminster Union, writes as follows on 22nd January: "I wished to see three or four parties before sending any reply to your inquiries. I do not find that there is any difference of opinion among those who are best able to form a judgment of the matter, either as to the amount of the deficiency of the potato crop, or the extent of its probable effects upon our labouring classes. The crop, if it had been good, would have far exceeded the average; as it is, the deficiency of good potatoes amounts to from 20 to 25 per cent. on the annual average, and this is about the increased price that they bear in our neighbourhood. We do not think, speaking generally, that the condition of the labouring classes will be at all worse in consequence of the wetness of the last season, to which the failure is probably traceable. The potatoes in the pit are turning out far better than we anticipated; the disease has not progressed, except with some of those dug earliest, and pitted in a very wet state. The crop of roots, turnips, carrots, parsnips, beet-root, &c., is larger than has been known for many years; and, in consequence of the extreme mildness of the season, turnip-greens are beautiful and most abundant, and much liked by the poor. The crops of corn, especially wheat, yield far better than we expected at harvest; and there being abundance of straw, the labour of thrashing is much in demand, and I think the people are better employed than I ever knew them at this time of the year. There must be some cases in which the deficiency being beyond the average hardship will be felt; but from the nature of our soil in this neighbourhood, we shall be probably better off in every way than in wetter districts."

Mr. Phipps, a magistrate in Wiltshire, and chairman of the Westbury Union, Wilts, writes thus on the 17th of January: "I do not feel able to give you an opinion of the proportion of the potato crop that has failed in this neighbourhood, but I am assured by others that on the average it is but small. I can, however, supply you with one or two facts, which may enable you to draw some conclusion for yourself.

"Yesterday, at the Board, I heard the Bratton Guardian offer my vice-chairman any quantity he required, warranted sound, at 6*s.* the sack of 240*lbs.* I purchased last week a quantity for a friend in Somerset at 8*s.*, and learnt afterwards I had given too much. My bailiff tells me my own potatoes are keeping as well as usual, and with no greater proportion of unsound ones, as they are drawn for use, than in other years.

"To these facts, however, I should add, that our soil is much of it sand and so very favourable to the potato. From the extreme mildness of the season rendering winter greens unusually plentiful, I think our poor have every chance of passing over the winter with less suffering than usual. Work still continues most abundant."

From Dorsetshire, the Rev. Mr. Hextable, who farms a considerable quantity of land in the most able and scientific way, near Shaftesbury, writes thus on the 19th of January: "Judging from my own experience, I should say that at least one-third of the potato crop will prove rotten, and I believe one-half; but then my experience is limited to a very small circle. I expect that in the months of April, May, and onwards till August, there will be a considerable pressure on the poor. But our barley crops are so excellent, and yield so well, that they will come in admirably to supply the deficiency of the root crop. There is a great abundance of barley and wheat in this neighbourhood, so that I think there will be no fear of famine. Yet the rise of price in the spring will certainly tell heavily on the labouring classes."

Mr. Floyer, a magistrate, and chairman of the Dorchester Union, writes on the 19th of January: "No doubt the crop of potatoes, in consequence of the loss from the disease, is a bad one in this neighbourhood, averaging the country through in this part from a third to a fourth short. But as far as I can learn from inquiries lately made, there has been no further reduction in the stock from the potatoes becoming injured after they were sorted and stored away. We have heard no complaints as yet at the meetings of the Board of Guardians of any distress arising from this cause; and the people being generally well employed, I should say more so than for many years past, we may hope that they have been able to 'guide' their stock of potatoes, as they call it. The pressure on the potato store is when they are for a time out of work; and therefore not having wages or but little coming in, they are unable to buy so much bread and other provisions, which when they are at work at tolerable wages, they are able to do, and thus are not obliged to draw so much from the potato crop."

From Cornwall, Sir Charles Lemon, Bart., M.P., writes thus on the 17th of January, from the neighbourhood of Falmouth, of which Union he is chairman: "I calculate from the accounts which I have received from many parts of this western district, that the loss in the potato crop has been about one-third. Amongst the poor, the quantity which was good in their little crops has kept them up to this time, and the price has not yet risen above 10s. We have purchased them for the workhouse at 7s. and 8s. the Cornish bushel, which equals three Winchester bushels. I do not look forward to much distress amongst the labourers, for the demand for labour is good. There are no good hands out of work either in agriculture or mining. The rot has proceeded much more slowly than was expected."

Mr. Scobell, a magistrate, an extensive and scientific farmer, and chairman of the Penzance Union, writes on the 22nd of January: "I consider there is about half the usual crop of potatoes. This is a great potato district, and in general one-half the quantity produced is given to the pigs and cattle. This year little or none is given, so that I think there will be plenty for seed and the table. The price of course will be high; but as our population are in full employ, it will not be so much felt as we expected. At the workhouse, our contract for this quarter has been 4s. per hundred; other years it is about 2s. 9d."

The clerk of the St. Columb Major Union, writing on the 24th of January, states by order of the Guardians: "Generally throughout the Union the deficiency in the potato crop is about one-half, except in the parish of St. Merry, where the soil being mostly of a sandy nature, the blight had less effect, and that there the crop is about a third below an average one. The condition of the labouring classes has been but little affected by the deficiency, barley and turnips being good and abundant, and having been substituted for potatoes; but as far as it will probably influence their condition, it will be prejudicially. Labour too being plentiful, is another reason why the deficiency in the potato crop has not been so much felt."

Mr. James, chairman of the Stratton Union in the north of Cornwall, writes on the 10th of January: "I have in my own neighbourhood taken some pains to collect information on the subject of the potato crop, and have arrived at the conclusion that the aggregate produce of 40 parishes, belonging to this Union and the adjoining neighbourhood, will not amount to one-third of an average crop. This is purely an agricultural district. The wages of able-bodied labourers are within 8s. per week, so that the failure in this, the depending sustenance, will be dreadfully felt after Lady-day."

The Board of Guardians of the Launceston Union complained to you on the 3rd of January of the distress occasioned from the failure in the potato crop, and mentioned the case of one poor man who had 105 yards of potato ground, 85 of which only produced to him one load of potatoes.

The general result to be collected from the foregoing statements, is that, except in a few favoured spots, the potato crop is on an average one-third less than usual. That the mildness of the season, and consequent abundance of green food, alleviates the want that would otherwise be felt at present; but that considerable distress among the labourers may be anticipated in the spring. I cannot help alluding to what seems to me a fallacy in the reasoning of most of my correspondents. They infer that the scarcity will be less felt, because work is plentiful. Now as work can have no immediate effect in adding to the quantity of food, which must remain as it is till next harvest, while abundant occupation certainly has the effect of causing the labourer to consume more food at present, it appears to me that the only result of the increased demand for labour will be to cause the stock of provisions on hand to be more quickly consumed, to prevent economy in its use, and thus hasten the arrival of the distress so generally anticipated in the spring.

No. 13.

REPORT by E. CARLETON TUFNELL, Esq., on the CONDITION of the AGRICULTURAL POPULATION in the WEST of ENGLAND.

GENTLEMEN,

Exeter, 2nd May, 1846.

I have only just succeeded in obtaining replies to your queries respecting the condition of the agricultural population in the West of England, from the various sources of information to which I had sent them; but as the statements of my correspondents may still be useful, many of them appearing to me to be of considerable interest and importance, I have thought proper, though no longer officially connected with the Poor Law Commission, to transmit them to you.

The following are the queries to which I shall refer, in giving the replies, by the numbers attached to each. I believe my correspondents are as trustworthy persons as exist; yet, as we know that all people are apt to be unconsciously biassed in their opinions by their peculiar position and pursuits, and questions of this nature, issued at such a juncture, are often supposed to have a political object, I think it right to mention that I believe the majority of my correspondents to be favourers of agricultural protection. But I shall state the condition of every person who has given the information previous to inserting his replies.

1. What are the ordinary weekly wages of agricultural labourers in the western counties of England?

2. Are the wages the same in winter and summer? Are the agricultural labourers employed throughout the year?

3. What are the ordinary earnings of the wife and children?

4. What is the ordinary amount of cottage and garden rent?

5. What has been the amount of variation in the weekly rate of wages for any given number of years past, and what are the circumstances which have caused the variation? If possible, furnish instances in which a record of wages in a given parish or district has been kept for some years past.

6. Have the variations in the rate of wages been coincident with the variations in the price of food?

7. What is the ordinary food of agricultural labourers? How much wheat enters into the weekly consumption of a family?

8. Where the total earnings of a family do not exceed 10s. a week how is the amount applied; and how does the labourer pay for house-rent, food, clothing, and medical assistance?

The following replies are from Mr. Little, a farmer, on a considerable scale, at Lower Sheldon, near Chippenham, Wiltshire. This gentleman lately gained a prize from the Agricultural Society for an essay on the agriculture of Wiltshire. His communication is dated March 21st, 1846.

No. 1.—“8s. to 9s. per week at present. They have been as low as 7s. in some instances.

No. 2.—“Often a shilling per week is given more in summer than in winter, particularly in the southern division of the county, where the men are paid 2s. per day for the harvest, which is not the case in North Wilts. In the winter of 1844 there was great want of employment, in consequence of the long continuance of drought causing great injury to the crops of the farmer. In average seasons they are usually well employed.

No. 3.—“The women's wages vary from 7d. to 10d. per day when employed, which is about eight months of the year, and children from 3d. to 1s. per day, according to age.

No. 4.—“From 2l. to 3l. per annum, including garden.

No. 5.—“The following Table is taken from my own farm accounts:—

Years.	Wages.		Price of Wheat per Quarter.†
	Winter.	Summer.
1836	s. 8	s. 8	s. ..
1837	8	9	..
1838	9	9	68
1839	9	9	70
1840	9	9	64
1841	9	9	64
1842	8	9	50
1843	8	8	53
1844	8*	8	56
1845	8*	8	54
1846	8	..	54

No. 6.—“It will be seen from the above table that the price of wages has varied with the price of wheat, and although taken from our farm accounts, doubtless the same would be found in others, for I do not pay more wages than other persons.

No. 7.—“Bread, potatoes, bacon, cheese, butter. I fear but little butcher's meat is eaten by the agricultural labourer. I find that six families on my own farm, consisting of 37 persons, consume 33 gallons of bread weekly, which amounts to about 46 gallons for each person per annum, which is near the quantity of bread made from a bag of flour, the produce of six bushels of wheat.

No. 8.—“I find more difficulty in giving an answer to this question, the circumstances of each family varying according to numbers. When the family is large, there is but little left to provide necessaries after paying for food, firing, and house-rent. For the agricultural labourer, as in all other stations of life, when there is a small fixed income, the smaller the family, there remains a greater amount for providing the comforts of life after providing the necessary quantity of food, which, of course, is the first call on every man's income. From one man in my employ, I learn he apportions his wages as follows. Number of family nine. Wages 18s. weekly:—

Bread	10	0
House-rent	1	0
Firing	1	6
Washing	1	0
	13	6
Clothing, tea, sugar, meat, &c. .	4	6

Leaving only 9d. for other necessaries.

* “7s. per week was the amount of wages paid then in some places.”

† A statement of the price of barley, which is printed in the folio edition of the report is omitted, as it appears to be erroneous.

"In the one case there are three of the children employed, earning 9s. weekly; and in the other the family is small, and not old enough to be employed."

The following replies are from the Rev. A. Huxtable, the Incumbent of Sutton Waldron, a small parish four miles south of Shaftesbury, Dorsetshire. He farms a considerable quantity of land in the most scientific manner.

No. 1.—"The ordinary wages of day labourers (who are employed on the routine work of the farm), and are not shepherds, carters, or cattle-men, amount to 8s. a week in summer, exclusive of harvest, and 7s. in winter, supposing the agricultural labourer to be employed throughout the year.

No. 2.—"Answered in No. 1.

No. 3.—"The wife, for perhaps five months in the year, in weeding, bean-setting, &c., earns 6d. a day, the children, 3d. or 4d.

No. 4.—"When the cottages belong to the landlords, the rents are about 2l. a year for a good cottage, i. e., a two or three bed-roomed cottage; but when the cottages belong to the farmer or small proprietor they are often charged 4l. a year.

No. 5.—I cannot answer this question. Within my own knowledge (a six years' space), wages average 1s. per week higher than a few years back. But it is almost impossible to learn how much a labourer really earns. For example, during harvest they earn at least 2s. a day for a month. The farmer generally hauls home their fuel: sometimes lets out at a low rate potato ground to his workmen; so that the tenant and the workmen's account of the amount of wages never tallies. The farmer over-rating and the labourer depreciating the value given and received. But I know of no record of wages in a given parish; if I did, unless it were kept by an impartial person, and really conversant with farming details, I should set small store by the record.

No. 6.—No, decidedly; that is not in any correspondent degree. A very low price of the bushel of wheat will sometimes sink the price of weekly wages, but they do not rise again proportionably.

No. 7.—"One pig a year is the ordinary amount of animal food consumed by a family; the staple food consists of wheat and potatoes. The usual allowance of wheat is seven bushels per annum for each member of the family, which would be a little more than 8 lbs. of wheat a week."

No. 8.—"How a labourer, with five or six children, lives on 10s. a week, is a problem not to be solved by human calculation. At least all the attempts I have seen are signal failures."

The following are from T. B. Uttermare, Esq., a magistrate residing at Langport, Somersetshire, and chairman, for several years past, of the Langport Union.

No. 1.—"7s. per week, with three pints of cider per diem. Job-work, thrashing 5d. per bushel, and an able-bodied man will thrash three bushels a day. Mowing, 2s. an acre, and a gallon of cider. A man will mow about one acre and a half per day. Reaping, 4s. 6d. to 7s. per acre. A man will reap about three quarters of an acre a day, but will have to pay a binder 9d.

No. 2.—"The custom is various; some masters giving the same money wages, with the addition of victuals; some less victuals, with an increase in money; but upon the whole, the increase in summer may be stated at about 2s. The greater proportion are employed throughout the year, with the addition in the summer of women.

No. 3.—"The wages of an able woman are 6d. per day, and will average about 2s. per week for eight months. Boys begin working at nine years old, and then receive 1s. per week. Girls seldom do much field work before 12, and frequently attend to the younger children during the mother's absence.

No. 4.—“From 1s. to 1s. 6d. per week.

No. 5.—“About 1s., with a great rise or depression in the price of corn. The first effect of a variation in the price of corn is the employment of more or less labour, and not in the amount of daily wages, but in the number of days of employment.

No. 6.—“No great variation in the rate of wages has taken place in the neighbourhood for some years. A year or two ago, the rate of wages was lowered 1s. per week during the winter, corn being then very low. The price of other kinds of food does not seem to affect wages.

No. 7.—“Bread and cheese, bacon, potatoes, and such other vegetables as their gardens afford.

No. 8.—“A man, wife, and five children, would consume three pecks of wheat per week, worth 4s. 6d. They have usually a garden with potatoes. A man usually earns, single handed, 20l. per annum, including every sort of work. This does not include cider, worth 1s. per week more.”

The following are from a Committee of three Guardians of the Yeovil Union, Somersetshire, appointed by the Board to draw up answers to the queries:—

No. 1.—“8s. through the year.

No. 2.—“Generally.

No. 3.—“Wife from 3s. to 4s. Boys from 9d. to 4s. per week.

No. 4.—“About 2l. 12s. per annum. Some pay no rent.

No. 5.—“The wages have varied but very little for the last seven years.

No. 6.—“Yes.

No. 7.—“Bread, potatoes, and bacon. In a family consisting of man, wife, and four children, the amount of bread consumed is about five 4-lb. loaves weekly.

No. 8.—“Very seldom any able-bodied labourers receive under 10s. per week.”

The two preceding sets of replies are from East Somerset; and I have appended at the end of this report a letter, discussing the above queries, from West Somerset, addressed to me by the Rev. W. Escott, incumbent of Brompton Ralph, brother of the member for Winchester.

The next answers are from Mr. Wippell, who holds a considerable farm at Thorverton, Devonshire, about six miles north of Exeter.

No. 1.—“The wages of labourers in this district vary, in proportion to the capabilities of the men, from 7s. to 12s. per week, together with 2½ or 3 gallons of cider or beer. But in the northern parts of Devon they vary from 6s. to 9s. per week, as in many parishes the masters pay their men partly with corn; and in other parts much depends on supply and demand, to wit, parishes near the sea-coast pay higher wages than inland parishes, by reason of the men being employed in maritime work, and the accommodation for labourers less, house-rent being higher, &c. But the general wages given to middle-class men is 8s. per week, and 2½ gallons of cider or beer.

No. 2.—“The wages are the same in summer and winter, except in mowing season and corn harvest, when wages and drink are both double, or food in lieu of the former. Agricultural labourers are generally employed throughout the year.

No. 3.—“When the woman can work, she earns about 4s. 6d. per week; but if she has young children, she cannot earn anything, except she be a needlewoman, when she may earn a little, but not much. Children earn nothing until they are 10 or 12 years of age, and then it depends much on their activity and size. They will generally at that age earn about 3s. per week. But girls can seldom earn anything until they are old enough to go into farm-houses at the age of 13 or 14 years.

No. 4.—“The rent of labourers' cottages is about 3*l.* 10*s.* per annum, with about 40 perches of land attached. Should the garden be large, about 6*d.* per pole would be demanded.

No. 5.—“In this district wages have not varied for many years, but there are parishes in this county where the wages of labourers vary with the price of wheat; these are but few, and scarcely worth mention. I do not know of any parish in which a record has been kept.

No. 6.—“I do not think it has; in short I will speak positively, and say it has not been generally so.

No. 7.—“The agricultural labourer, before he leaves his home in the morning, generally gets a basin of broth or milk. At 10 o'clock he takes his luncheon, which is a piece of bread, with cider or beer, but he does not often get any cheese or animal food. At one o'clock he has his dinner, which is also bread, and a small quantity of cheese or animal food, which is generally bacon, as most labourers keep a pig, which they fatten and consume in their own family. But I consider the principal meal of an agricultural labourer is his supper, when he gets a hot supper of potatoes and bacon, or some other meat or fish, except in cases where the family is numerous, when I believe the meat cannot be got. A man, his wife, and four children, consume about two pecks of wheat per week.

No. 8.—“I cannot answer the question, having been always entirely at a loss to conceive how such a small sum can be divided; nor have I ever succeeded in eliciting satisfactory answers from the labourers' wives to such questions. But the judicious application of it depends on the economical management of the wife. In some cases the labourers have their houses rent-free, but not generally so. Where the agricultural labourers are not in medical clubs, they generally get medical relief from the Board of Guardians. They seldom pay money for medical assistance, except in a club.”

A large landholder residing five miles from Exeter writes to me:—

“Wages were certainly higher at the end of the war than now; at that period the regular labourer was always allowed a peck of wheat at 6*s.* the bushel, whatever might be the market price. I doubt, however, that he did not always get the best sample. I remember having a contest in this parish two or three years before the New Poor Law to keep ordinary wages up to 7*s.*, from 6*s.* to which it was wished to reduce them. I succeeded in the main. About two years after the New Poor Law came into operation, they generally got up to 8*s.*”

The following replies are from Lord Clinton, chairman of the Torrington Union in North Devon.

No. 1.—“The weekly wages of agricultural labourers in the north of Devon vary from 7*s.* to 8*s.*, with or without a quart of cider per day, and a certain quantity of wheat or barley at a reduced price. They have also very generally about 15 or 20 yards of land, manured for them by their employers, for potatoes.

No. 2.—“Wages are the same in winter and summer. The able-bodied are employed throughout the year; those who are not able-bodied are usually employed by the farmers during the summer months, and in winter work is found for them by the overseers on the parish highways.

No. 3.—“Where there are children, the wife earns little or nothing. She may in the spring, by weeding corn or picking stones, and in harvest time obtain 6*d.* per day. At nine years of age the children are put out to farm-houses, as often as places can be found for them.

No. 4.—“The rent of a cottage without a garden is 2*l.* a-year, with a small garden 2*l.* 10*s.*, and with about 15 or 20 land-yards of garden ground, 3*l.*

Nos. 5 and 6.—“There is scarcely any variation in the rate of wages. For the last 12 years they have been uniform, except about the year 1837, when for a time the labourers received an increase of 1s. a-week. I am not aware that any record of wages is kept in any parish in Devonshire.

No. 7.—“Barley-bread and potatoes, and occasionally a little pork; about one peck of wheat, chiefly for pies and puddings for children. Almost every labourer keeps a pig.

No. 8.—“About 3s. is applied in corn, 1s. for house-rent; the remainder is spent in bacon, tea, a little butter, milk, fire, candles, soap, salt, pepper, clothing, and other necessities. Most of the labourers are either in a doctor's club, to which they contribute 2s. 6d. per annum, which entitles them to medicine and attendance, or they are members of a friendly society, to which they contribute 13s. a year, which entitles them to the attendance of a doctor, with 6s. a-week “bed pay,” and 3s. a-week “walking pay;” but no member is allowed to draw for more than 5l. for one and the same illness. At his death his family receives 5l. or 6l. for the funeral. Where labourers are not in any club, they commonly procure an order from the relieving officer for the attendance of the medical officer of the district.”

I add below a table showing the effect that was produced on the cost of maintaining three different-sized labourers' families in Kent by the rise in the price of necessities that took place between 1835 and 1839. The left-hand column shows the quantity of articles actually consumed in the respective families at the first or cheap period, the right-hand column what those articles cost when the prices had risen. I need not say that the wages never rose so as to compensate the labourer for this increase of price. The corn consumed is put down as flour, since the labouring classes in that part of England always buy flour, never bread. The table was drawn up in 1838, since which time it has been in my possession.

N.B. The articles are priced in the first column of prices according to the denominations of measure by which they are usually sold.

It will be perceived from the foregoing table that wages ought to have risen about 33 per cent, in order to place the labourer in the same condition when the prices had risen as previously. Such a rise of agricultural wages is unheard of. The fact is, the labourer, on the occurrence of high prices, instantly curtails what may be termed his luxuries, among which tea and sugar are the first to disappear from his board, as I have found by inquiry.

The following letters were written in answer to some queries sent to Mr. Bowring, assistant-clerk of St. Thomas Union, Devonshire, the largest Union in that county. They were written five years ago, but have such a close bearing on the subject under consideration, that I have thought it right to add them to this report. I have also annexed a detailed account, showing how a Cornish labourer lives, whose wages never exceed 10s. weekly.

DEAR SIR,

St. Thomas, 3rd Aug., 1841.

I HAVE to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, requesting the following information, viz. :—

1. The number of poor in the St. Thomas Union?
2. The consumption of bread per individual, per annum, and its cost?
3. The consumption of meat, stating the sorts consumed per head, per annum, and its cost?
4. The dietary allowance?

In answer to which I am desirous of stating, that the information herein contained will be gathered from our in-door establishment, and from the food consumed, and the necessaries used in the house for the pauper inmates.

It will be obvious that I cannot furnish you with any information very accurate, or even approaching to accuracy on so short a notice, in reference to the food in quality or quantity which is used by out-door paupers, as their exigencies are provided for by allowances in money, the only approximation to which would be in the assumption, that the dietary used in the workhouse is not much superior to the general diet of out-door paupers or labourers; although workhouse dietaries for the most part are framed upon the principle, that in-door diet should assimilate as much as possible, or not exceed either in quality or quantity that which is available to independent labourers, yet it requires no great amount of credulity to believe that the diet in use in workhouses is much superior to that of the out-door labourer; assuming this to be correct, the observations to which I will hereafter call your attention will be more apparent.

I will now proceed to answer your queries :—

1. The average number of inmates maintained in this workhouse is 305; out-door 3837.
2. The annual consumption of bread, calculated in the workhouse dietary, is 68 loaves of 4 lbs. each per head, per annum, or 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ loaves per head, per week: the average cost of the 4 lbs. loaf used in the workhouse for the last three years has been 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ d each; the cost of an individual per annum for bread alone has therefore averaged 2l. 2s. 6d.
3. The meat used in this workhouse is contracted for in quarters, we therefore get the average market meat, beef and mutton; the average price of which for the last three years has been 41s. 4d. per cwt.; the allowance by the diet table is 4 ozs. per diem, or 12 ozs. per week, of meat when cooked, exclusive of bone, or unconsumable parts, which should be taken to be 16 ozs. per week of raw meat, as the average of meat loses about a quarter in cooking; and it should be borne in mind, that as the meat used here is invariably boiled, the soup derived from this process, with the broken or left meat, is used for the dinners on those days when soup is ordered, so that to a certain extent the inmates have meat every day.

The average annual consumption of an inmate, exclusive of soup meat, will be 52 lbs. per annum, not any of which is waste or unconsumable, which at 4½d. per lb., the average cost, will give an annual individual expense of 19s. 5d.

These calculations are all founded upon a system which it is impossible for an independent labourer to adopt, viz., tender and contract; so that the loaf which has here cost but 7½d. would in all probability have cost the labourer at least 8d., and the meat, of the quality which is here consumed, would have cost them at least 6d. per lb., because we give 4½d. for all the qualities which are contained in the carcase; the rough parts of which are used as soup meat.

I will now proceed to call your attention to a few observations resulting from these matters.

The average number of children to each married couple of agricultural labourers is from four to five, say five, making a total of seven persons to each family; assuming the workhouse dietary to be the common dietary of out-door labourers, or as it is frequently alleged to be, worse, the cost per annum to an agricultural labourer will be in bread and meat alone 21l. 13s. 5d., to which must be added other articles of food, such as milk and potatoes, with fuel, clothing, rent, medicine, &c., &c., the total cost of which, at least, averages 30l. per annum to the out-door labourer.

The average cost of an inmate in the St. Thomas Union for food and necessaries, such as coal, wood, soap, candles, &c., is 2s. 3d. per week, or 5l. 17s. per individual per annum, making for a family of seven persons a total of 40l. 19s. per annum.

These observations will, I think, prove me correct in assuming, that the diet in a workhouse is superior to that of an independent labourer, as these calculations include nothing on account of clothing, medicines, or rent.

They will also I think afford you some data from which you may draw a comparison between the in-door pauper and the out-door labourer, and the attraction which exists for a labourer to become a pauper, rather than struggle with poverty and privation upon his own slender and hard-earned means.

The average amount of wages paid to an agricultural labourer in this district does not exceed 8s. per week, with two quarts of unmarketable cider per diem, which, if converted into money, would be a benefit to the whole of the family, instead of, to the value at least of 2s. per week, being consumed by the man alone, independent of his share of the 8s., which provides every necessary for himself and family. This is in fact the truck system in its worst shape, but from the segregated character of this class of labourers, has not had so much of public attention drawn towards it as its importance and the evils arising from it demand.

I am fearful that I have outstepped the limit of, or not apprehended rightly, the information you required; but I shall feel the greatest pleasure in forwarding you any observations on the state of the agricultural labourer, or the operations of the Poor Law on this the largest Union in the south-west of England, or in any other matter which my situation enables me to procure.

I am, &c.,

DEAR SIR,

St. Thomas, Aug. 31, 1841.

I HAVE to apologize for the delay in answering your letter of the 4th instant, but I was desirous that the information I might be able to gather should be as perfect as possible.

From all I can learn, the amount of animal food consumed per head, per annum, by the independent labouring classes, does not materially exceed the quantity consumed by paupers in the Union workhouses.

A sub-contractor on the roads, that is, having a contract for cleaning about two or three miles of road under the chief contractor, and drawing from 12s. to 15s. per week, with an ultimate balance in his favour in settling his accounts, stated to me that he had a wife and five children, that his consumption of animal food never exceeded 3 lbs. of mutton per week for the whole family; occasionally he purchased a little fish when the hawkers bring it in the country, but even this was a substitute for meat. The average of this quantity per head, per week, would be about 7 ozs. of uncooked meat, containing a portion of bone and other unconsumable parts; the average price he pays is about 5½d. per lb., or varying from 1s. 4d. to 1s. 6d. per week. This family, if in the workhouse, would consume, according to the dietary (of which you have a copy), 4½ lbs. of meat, when cooked, and containing no unconsumable parts, or being purchased in the market, would be equal to at least 6 lbs.

The returns for six families with 28 children, making a total of 40 persons, earning an average of 8s. 1d. per week, show something less than 3 lbs. of meat per week for a family of 6 persons.

The amount of animal food consumed in a mechanic's or artisan's family, where the earnings amount to 20s. or 25s. per week, exceeds but in a small degree the workhouse allowance.

The Rev. C. Walkey, Rector of Clist Lawrence, of whom I asked information, answers my queries thus:—

DEAR SIR,

Clist, St. Lawrence, August 19, 1841.

I IMAGINE you have only in view a comparative statement of particulars relative to wages, &c., &c., between the employed in the manufacturing districts of the north, and the agricultural labourers of the west, if so, the following replies I hope will prove satisfactory; but, if otherwise, and you should desire further information with respect to other points connected with the labourers of Devon, I shall be most ready and happy to enter largely upon the subject.

Believe me, &c.

(Signed) C. E. WALKEY.

Questions.

1st. The earnings of agricultural independent labourers?

Answers.

The independent labourers may be classed under two heads, viz., men of all work, waggoners, privileged persons, &c., such on the average gain 10s. per week; and 2nd class men not capable of doing all work, and therefore not unfrequently out of work, average 8s.; such men are numerically about 1 per cent.

2nd. What proportion paid in cash, and in kind?

The above are paid to this amount in cash, and if they receive anything in kind it is liquor, two quarts per day.

3rd. What amount of animal food is consumed per head, in the family per week?

Taking the average of families at man, wife, and two children, $4\frac{1}{2}$ ozs. each family per day, or a fraction more than 1 oz. each. The wife generally allows 1s. or 1s. 2d. per week for meat; bacon is now 8d. per lb.

4th. What amount of bread, ditto?

About 9ozs., and 1 lb. of potatoes, or 10 ozs. without loss.

5th. What other food?

Cheese is only used by the man, some allow a little butter for children, others use groats for broth. Vegetables are scarce, except where gardens are attached to cottages, or allotments are granted.

Observations.

The great evil of the whole of this district is cider. The remedy, an allotment to each family. The independent labourer is by no means well off; the object of the farmer being to bind down the labourer, and thus deal with him upon small wages, therefore very little encouragement is given to the independent, and he is only engaged when surplus labour is required.

DEAR SIR,

St. Thomas, Exeter, September 4, 1841.

SINCE my letter of August 31st, I have seen Mr. Henry Matthews of Bradninch, formerly a large paper manufacturer, and latterly an agriculturist, with whom I have had some conversation in reference to the subject of the consumption of animal food in this district: he states that the average earnings of labourers is 9s. per week, of which 1s. 6d. is given in cider; that the consumption of animal food among the labouring classes is quite nominal, never exceeding a sheep's head, or 2d. or 3d. worth of bullock's liver, per family per week, or if it does, it is only to the extent of a small purchase of the offal of a butcher's stall; the consumption of bread is about a 4lb. loaf per head per week, or 34 ozs. per head per week, under the workhouse allowance for men, and 20 ozs. for women; this, with potatoes fried, sometimes with bacon, but as often with water, constitutes the main articles of food consumed in the labourer's family.

In farmers' houses the living is better, the average amount of animal food consumed per head per diem is about 12 or 14 ozs. of rough beef or fat pork.

This information gives—

To mechanics about 1lb. or $1\frac{1}{2}$ lb. per diem per family.

To independent labourers $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. per diem per family.

To workhouse paupers 1lb. per head per week.

In Mr. Chadwick's Report, I see that convicts on board the hulks are allowed 3lbs. 8 ozs. per head per week; an agricultural family of six persons earning 13s. 6d. per week allow themselves 2lbs. of bacon per family per week.

In an extract from the Hobart Town Calendar, $10\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. of meat are allowed per head per week for males, and half the quantity for females.

From my own inquiries, which bear out the correctness of Mr. Chadwick's, felons in gaols, convicts on board the hulks, and transported thieves, are better provided for by the Government allowances than the artisan or the labourer is able to provide for himself.

Particulars of the expenses, mode of living, &c., of a cottager's family in the parish of Tywardreath, Cornwall. The family consists of a man, who is a husbandman, his wife, and 5 children: the respective ages of the children are as follows:—A girl, 12; boy, 10; ditto, 7; girl, 4; ditto, 2:—

Mode of Living.

For Breakfast.—Fish and barley bread, or fish and potatoes.

For Dinner.—The husband has a potato pasty, which he takes with him to work. The family have stew (which is made of potatoes boiled in a crock, with a little suet, with a cover of dough of the size of the crock, over the potatoes), or fish and potatoes.

It is seldom that any meat (pork, mutton, &c.) is cooked for the family's dinner, unless the husband be at home to partake of it.

For Supper.—Broth, or fish and potatoes, or a small bit of bacon baked on a large dish of potatoes; sometimes a small bit of meat is stewed, at other times boiled with potatoes and other vegetables.

I have the honour to be, &c.,

To the Poor Law Commissioners.

E. CARLETON TUFNELL.

DEAR SIR,

Brompton Ralph, Taunton, April 3, 1846.

The subject to which your questions refer is one which I have for years considered, but since I saw you I have endeavoured, by conversing and corresponding with tenants and gentlemen and by visiting the houses of the poor, to correct or confirm the opinions I had formed. I will now tell you the result, speaking particularly of the district with which I am best acquainted—from Taunton to Ninehead, including the parishes in Williton Union.

The ordinary wages of an agricultural labourer, working by the day, do not exceed one shilling and three pints of liquor, weak beer, or cider.

Some masters allow their men to choose whether they will have the liquor, or seven shillings a week without liquor; others compel them to take six shillings and liquor.

The masters also generally agree with their men to take corn for grinding—some two, some three pecks a fortnight, at six shillings a bushel, whatever the market price may be. Now this is spoken of as a privilege; but is it or is it not? I say it is not, on the following grounds:—From the years 1835 to 1845 inclusive, the average price of wheat has been scarcely above seven shillings a bushel. If, then, the labourer had the best for six shillings it would be an evident advantage; but the corn they have for six shillings is small, and light grain taken out in winnowing from the best, which goes to market; with the fairest masters, the price of this corn must be at least a shilling below the market price, even if they gave it by weight at 15 or 16 lbs. a peck; but with other masters, it is literally the refuse of the wheat, and sometimes grown corn, which would not get above five shillings in the market, where it is bought for making sea-biscuits and stock.

Whether too the weekly allowance of liquor is worth the shilling or not depends on the generosity of the master.

These wages are the same winter and summer, when the labourer is working by the day; but the variation in his wages arises from the different kinds and prices of job-work, which are as follows:—

Mowing meadow grass . . .	2s. an acre, and four quarts.
Ditto dry land grass . . .	1s. 6d. do., and three quarts.
Ditto wheat-binding and stitching, two men and one woman . . .	4s. 6d. do., and seven quarts.

But in many places wheat is cut by the day, the master giving 1s. and all the meat and drink.

Mowing barley	1s. 6d., and four quarts.
Ditto oats, binding and stitching	2s. 6d., and four quarts.
Thrashing wheat and making seed	5d. a bushel, 1d. per sheaf, and three pints of liquor.
Thrashing barley	3s. 6d. for 20 bushels.
Hedging	5d. a rope, and 3d. a score for making up the faggots.

The chief difficulty in estimating the real amount of the labourer's weekly earnings arises from fixing on the mean between the highest job-work and the usual day-wages; and again from determining the time in the year consumed in job-work, and the time in day-labour; but I think, after the closest examination I could make, and the best information I could collect on the point from labourers and masters, that you may add 6d. a week to what has been already stated as the wages of an agricultural labourer when working by the day, raising them from (that is taking the wheat to be really worth 6s. a bushel, and the liquor 1s. a week) 7s. to 7s. 6d. a week. Some have estimated this lower, saying it was not above 3d. a week, and other employers have put it higher; I think 6d. a fair estimate, and this is only gained by working extra hours, and often beyond their strength. On every farm there are always about four men to 100 acres who are in constant employment for their master, and who very frequently live in some cottage let to them by him; but, beside these, there are others who work occasionally as they may be required.

Where the family is large and young, the wife can earn very little, having generally an infant in arms, or in expectation; her earnings can hardly be said to be more than enough to make up for the days which the husband may lose in the course of the year from bad weather, or sickness. What can a woman, with four or five children under seven years old, be expected to do, besides the necessary attendance on her family, with washing, mending, baking, &c.? When the eldest children are boys, they begin to work at an earlier age; at about 10, 3d. a-day; and from 13 to 16 years, 6d. a-day; not enough to feed and clothe them, so that the earnings of the children do not put the parents in a better condition, since they are insufficient to provide that food and clothing which their advancing age and size require.

The usual wages of a woman are 3s. a-week; and where the family is small, and the woman healthy, after her family are out, she may get work for nearly three months in the year.

The rent of a cottage, with a small garden, is 1s. a-week.

The masters let their labourers potato ground at 1s. a yard, or 8l. an acre; but this is ploughed and manured, and prepared for sowing, at the master's expense, who also generally draws home the crop; it is also tithe and rate free. When the labourer has to prepare the ground himself, the price is about 2l. an acre, when let by gentlemen, measured inside the hedge.

The wages have been much the same for many years past. When wheat was 5s. 10d. last year, they were the same as they are now, when wheat is 7s. 6d. and potatoes too are higher. Any temporary change in price for a year or two does not seem to affect them, as from the experience of many past years it would be reasonable to calculate, that if there might be a depression in prices at one time they would return again to the average. But if there was a permanent decrease in the price of food, the case might be very different.

With regard to the food of agricultural labourers, you might easily imagine that it must depend on the number of which the family consists, among whom the 7s. 6d. (if it is as much, for this calculation allows the wheat to be worth 6s. a bushel, and the liquor 1s. a week) is to be divided. A single man, if sober, may live as well as, in the present state of things, can be expected, having bread, potatoes, greens, turnips, and generally a bit of bacon or cheese, every day. They also buy some tea; and make what is called tea-kettle broth, with sliced bread put into a basin, with onions and butter, or lard, pepper, and salt, upon which the boiling water is poured out of the tea-kettle. Such a one, I believe, does get enough of such simple fare to keep up his strength. And when a man has a healthy wife, and only one or two children, he may do the same. But what then is the case when, as it frequently happens, there are 4, 5, 6, or 7 children, under 9, 10, or 11 years, incapable of earning anything, and taking up the whole time of the mother, to be fed and clothed out of that which is barely sufficient to maintain three or four persons, say two parents and two children, in health and strength, with honesty? I assure you, Sir, their case is truly pitiable. For instance, take a man, his wife, and five children, their food for a week as follows:—

One peck and half of wheat, at 6s. a bushel	2	3
Half a bag of potatoes, now 6s. a bag, or 160 lb.	3	0

Whatever remains (and I am confident, in many instances, there is not more than 3d.) must serve for buying a pound now and then of coarse fat, such as comes off the intestines of sheep, and other animals, bought at the butcher's, for 3d. 4d. or 5d. a pound, or of the pot-skimming at farm-houses, to fry with their potatoes; and for soap, candles, clothing, shoes, fuel, &c., &c., and rates, which the 1s. a week for rent seldom covers. Well may it be asked, how can the labourer (I speak of one with a family, for this class which constitutes the mass of the rising generation, demands our especial attention), under these circumstances, pay for rent and rates, food, clothing, fuel, and medical attendance for himself and family. You see the funds from which he has to draw; whatever other means he has must be from private benevolence or dishonest ways. The master will not, nor can he be expected to give higher wages to a man with a family, than to one who has none, and the law allows him no help; he can, therefore, barely drag out a miserable existence without a sufficiency of the poorest food to satisfy his hunger. Their condition has certainly become worse from the operation of the New Poor Law, for without opening any new method for improving their condition, or in the least raising wages, it has deprived the many families of at least 2s. a-week. I am not an advocate for returning to the old system of head-money, but I am confident that something must be done to better the condition of these families: the poor man coming to the Board of Guardians with his tale of woe must not have his complaint always met with the same reply—"You are an able-bodied man, we can do nothing; here is an order into the house;" but his circumstances must be inquired into, and assistance given with discretion. At least some clothing to the elder children as soon as the parents would get a respectable situation, would be a great encouragement for the parents, as they would then see in prospect some end to their toil; but now, if they have a girl of 11 or 12, they have no means of buying suitable clothes, and few will take her into their houses without them. So they go into the fields to work at 2d. or 3d. a-day, spoiling the few things they may have, and doing themselves little good.

Here and there masters are to be found who do not altogether follow the custom of the country, and give their men such things as they want; and there are some in most parishes who, instead of keeping to the custom of 6s. and liquor, or 7s. without liquor, give their men 7s. and some liquor besides.

I am still expecting letters from different directions on the subject, and should anything be communicated to me which might be of value, I will write again.

Let me entreat you to give this your serious attention, and to use all the influence which your office and ability afford you, to arouse in the hearts of all men in authority a deep sense of their obligation to obey the Divine command, and remember the poor.

Believe me, &c.,
W. S. ESCOTT.

N.B.—Carters, shepherds, and cowmen generally have from 6d. to 1s. a week more than others, as they have necessary work to do on Sundays.

Nothing has been allowed in this calculation for the expense of putting children to school.

COLLECTION of POOR RATES and FINANCE RETURNS of UNIONS in IRELAND.

i.—CIRCULAR of INSTRUCTIONS from the POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS to CLERKS of UNIONS.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
20th October, 1845.*

SIR,

WITH reference to Article 47 of the General Regulations of the Poor Law Commissioners (Annual Report for 1844, App. A, No. 19), prescribing the duties of the Clerks of the Unions, No. 7. and No. 8, and to Article 49, prescribing the Collector's duties, I am directed by the Commissioners to call your attention to the column of the amended form of Monthly Return, which is entitled "Date of each Collector's last attendance for the examination of his Accounts;" and to request that you will fill it up, in future returns, in reference to each of the Collectors.

The Commissioners will understand the column, entitled "Amount of Rate Collected," to have been filled up after examination by you of the block receipts, and a comparison of the result thereof with the entries in the Collecting Book and Collector's Weekly Account Book, in pursuance of Article 47, No. 8, of the Regulations; and it will be presumed that these books agree with each other, unless some discrepancy be noted.

If any balance of rates, collected up to the close of the month, remain in the hands of any Collector at the time of the examination of the accounts, the fact should be noted in the margin for observations, and should also be reported to the Board of Guardians specially at their next meeting.

In case of the non-attendance of any Collector, you will report such non-attendance in the margin left for observations, as well as the cause of non-attendance, if known to you.

The Commissioners trust that, by a steady and persevering attention on your part to this important branch of the Clerk's duty, the Board of Guardians may be always kept fully informed of the state of the collection of the rate. The Commissioners think that this object may be further promoted by the Board of Guardians requiring from each Collector, at the end of two or three months after the time when the collection of the rate is commenced, a statement of the ratepayers who are in arrear in his district, which can be made in the accompanying printed form. The Guardians will thereby be enabled to give such directions regarding defaulters as may appear to them expedient.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

SIR,

THE POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS having had under consideration the subject of the accounts of Collectors of Poor Rate, I am directed to call your attention to Article 49 of the General Regulations, prescribing the duties of collectors, Nos. 4 and 5 of which require each collector to lay his accounts before the Guardians at the first meeting of the Board in each month, or whenever he may be specially required to do so.

By Article 47 of the Regulations, the clerk is required to examine the collectors' accounts previously to the first meeting of the Guardians in each month; and he has been instructed to report specially the non-attendance of any collector when required to attend for this purpose.

The clerk has also been instructed specially to report to the Commissioners, and to the Board of Guardians, the case of any balance of rates collected up to the close of each month remaining in the hands of a collector at the time of the monthly examination of his accounts by the clerk.

I am further directed to call your attention to the duty of collectors, under section 6 of the Accounts' Order, whereby they are required to attend the auditor with their accounts upon receiving notice to do so. On receipt of such notice, you will prepare yourself to lay before the auditor the several books accounting for the collection of the rates up to the date of the notice; and the auditor has been instructed to report any failure of attendance on the part of any collector to the Board of Guardians, as well as to the Commissioners. The auditor has also been instructed to report specially upon any balance of rates collected previously to the date of the notice, and found to remain in the hands of the collector at the time of the audit of the accounts.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,

SIR,

THE POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS having directed their attention to the subject of the accounts of the collectors of poor rate, have thought it right to address a circular letter to the collectors of the several Unions in Ireland, calling their attention to that part of their duties, which is prescribed in the Accounts' Order, section 6, by which they are required to attend the auditors with their accounts upon receiving notice to do so; in pursuance of which, they are called upon to prepare themselves on receipt of such notice, to lay before the auditors the several books accounting for the collection of the rates up to the date of the notice.

The Commissioners request that in case of any collector failing to attend with his accounts for audit, in compliance with a notice from you to that effect, you will report such failure of attendance to the Board of Guardians as well as to the Commissioners.

You are also requested to report specially upon any balance of rates collected previously to the date of the notice, and found to remain in the hands of any collector at the time of the audit.

And you are requested to certify every such balance in words at length, as well as in figures.

I am directed to enclose herewith, for your further information, copies of two circulars, which have been addressed to the clerks of the Unions, and to the collectors respectively, relative to the accounts of the collection of rates.

DIETARIES IN WORKHOUSES.

1. GENERAL ORDER of the POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS authorizing Boards of Guardians in Ireland to substitute other Food in lieu of POTATOES, in the Diet of Inmates of Workhouses.

To the Guardians of the poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule [A] hereunto annexed; to the Clerk or Clerks to the Justices of Petty Sessions, held for the Division or Divisions in which the said Unions are severally situated, and to all others whom it may concern.

Whereas by a General Order containing Rules and Regulations for the management of Workhouses in Ireland, dated the fifth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, and addressed to the Guardians of the Poor of the Unions in the Schedule to that Order annexed, and by certain other orders since addressed to the Guardians of the Poor of the Unions in Schedule [B] to this order annexed, bearing date respectively the dates set opposite to the names of such Unions in the said last-mentioned Schedule, the Poor Law Commissioners did, among other things, order, direct, and declare, as follows, that is to say :—

“That the paupers of the respective sexes shall be dieted as set forth in the Dietary Table, which may be prescribed for the use of the workhouse, and in no other manner.”

And whereas it is expedient that the Boards of Guardians of the several Unions to which the said orders, or any of them, have been addressed, should be authorized to diet the inmates of their respective workhouses in a manner different from that set forth in the prescribed dietaries, to the extent hereinafter specified :

Now, therefore, we the Poor Law Commissioners do hereby order, direct and declare, that wherever in any dietary prescribed for use in the Workhouse of any Union in the Schedule [A] to this Order annexed, potatoes are directed to be used, it shall be lawful for the Guardians, and they are hereby authorized to substitute in lieu of potatoes, soup made of other vegetables, oatmeal, rice, bread, or pudding made of the flour of any grain, as they shall in their discretion, subject to the approval of the Poor Law Commissioners, think fit, until the Commissioners shall, by any Order under their Hands and Seals, otherwise direct.

Given under the hands and seal of us, the Poor Law Commissioners, this twenty-seventh day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-five.

ii.—CIRCULAR LETTER issued, with foregoing General Order, to UNIONS in IRELAND.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
3rd November, 1845.*

SIR,

IN consequence of the apprehensions which exist on the subject of the potato crop in Ireland and elsewhere, the Poor Law Commissioners have deemed it their duty to authorise the Guardians of Unions in Ireland to depart from the established dietaries; by substituting the use of oatmeal, rice, bread, or other food, in lieu of potatoes, wherever the Guardians may deem it desirable to do so. The Guardians will thus be enabled to use for the workhouse a kind of food different from that which is consumed by the labouring classes, and to withdraw their competition from the market to the extent of the potatoes which would be needed for the inmates.

A copy of the General Order for this purpose is forwarded herewith, and the Guardians will observe that the consent of one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State has been obtained to its immediate operation.

The Commissioners will readily entertain any modification of the dietary in other respects which the Guardians may, under the particular circumstances of the Union, deem it expedient to propose.

It is desirable that the Guardians should, in their consideration of this subject, duly weigh any suggestion or recommendation which may be made to them by the medical officer of the workhouse.

I have the honour, &c.,

To the Clerk to the Guardians.

ARTHUR MOORE, Chief Clerk.

No. 17.

POTATO MEAL.—CIRCULAR to BOARDS of GUARDIANS in IRELAND, relative to the making of MEAL, &c., from diseased Potatoes, in Workhouses.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
11th November, 1845.*

SIR,

THE Poor Law Commissioners are informed that copies of the several Reports which have been made to His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, by the Commissioners appointed to inquire into the disease affecting the potatoes in this country, have been forwarded by His Excellency's command to the Boards of Guardians of the Unions in Ireland.

The Commissioners are also informed of His Excellency's desire that provision should be made for the manufacture of potato-flour or of starch and pulp from diseased potatoes, in accordance with the recommendations contained in those Reports, in the workhouses of the Unions.

The Commissioners consider that the proposed conversion of potatoes into potato-flour, or into starch and pulp, may afford a suitable employment to certain classes of the inmates of the workhouse; and the Guardians will have the goodness to consider the means by which the wishes of His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant can be carried out, with most advantage in the _____ Union.

In providing and setting up the implements and machinery requisite for carrying on this mode of employment in the workhouse, and in making the necessary arrangements for receiving, weighing, sorting, and storing the diseased potatoes which may be brought (as well as for the manufacturing, storing, and final disposal of the produce), the Guardians will feel the importance of disturbing as little as possible the present order and discipline of the establishment, and the performance of the duties of the several officers thereof; and they will especially avoid any limitation of the means which now exist for the reception, maintenance, and classification of destitute poor persons whom it may be necessary to relieve in the workhouse.

It is, at the same time, suggested to the Guardians to consider whether much benefit may not be conferred on poor persons having diseased potatoes to dispose of, by receiving such potatoes, even when tendered in small quantities, and giving back to the parties equivalent quantities of the products derivable from their manufacture, at whatever time or times it may be convenient for the parties to receive them.

In such cases it would appear proper, not only that a careful account should be taken of the quality and weight of the potatoes received, but also that both these points should be registered at the time of receipt in the presence of the owner, and that his consent should be expressly taken to the nature and amount of the equivalents which he must expect to receive in return.

The Commissioners think that this may readily be effected by the use of a proper form of receipt and counterpart; and they will take care that convenient forms are prepared for this purpose, as well as a complete method of accounting for the materials received and the produce manufactured.

The Guardians will probably not deem it right to undertake the receipt and manufacture of potatoes in the way here suggested, until their entire arrangements are completed.

After their arrangements are made, they will probably find it expedient not to receive a greater quantity of diseased potatoes daily than the quantity which it is found can daily be converted.

The Commissioners are enabled to inform the Guardians, that it is not His Excellency's desire that sound potatoes should be received by them for the purpose of being converted into starch and pulp.

The Commissioners will gladly afford the Guardians any further information in their power, and will readily entertain any proposition which may require their approval, and which the Guardians may deem necessary to enable them to carry out the proposed arrangements with advantage.

I am, Sir, &c.,

ARTHUR MOORE, Chief Clerk.

FEVER CASES.—CIRCULAR of the POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS to BOARDS of GUARDIANS in IRELAND, respecting the PROVISION for the RELIEF of DESTITUTE POOR PERSONS affected with FEVER.

Sir,

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
29th December, 1845.*

THE Poor Law Commissioners have had under their earnest consideration the various means at the disposal of Boards of Guardians in Ireland for the relief of destitute poor persons affected with fever.

There are three modes sanctioned by law, which, with the entire concurrence and approbation of the Commissioners, have been adopted in different Unions for the relief of such patients. 1st. The causing them to be conveyed from the workhouse of the Union to any fever hospital, and the maintaining them in such hospital. 2ndly. The hiring or renting a house or houses in any part of the Union for their reception and maintenance. And 3rdly. The erecting, for the same purpose, on the workhouse ground, fever wards or a fever hospital, as a separate and distinct building.

Of these three modes of relief it may be observed, that the first would scarcely ever be available for dealing with fever on a large scale, as it is only from the Union Workhouse, and not from any part of the Union, that Boards of Guardians can send patients to any fever hospital. The second mode, under certain circumstances, and in certain localities, may be regarded as highly valuable, but is a resource which may not always be readily at the command of a Board of Guardians. But the third mode, namely, the erecting on the workhouse ground fever wards or a fever hospital, as a separate and distinct building, is a provision against fever, of general if not universal application to the Unions throughout Ireland; and the Commissioners have arrived at the deliberate conclusion that it is desirable that every workhouse, except under very peculiar circumstances, should be provided with a building of this sort.

The Commissioners believe that there is no such building on the workhouse ground of the ——— Union; and they are, therefore, desirous of calling the serious attention of the Board of Guardians to this important subject. If the Board of Guardians concurs in the views above stated, or for any reason is willing to entertain a proposition for erecting fever wards or a fever hospital on the workhouse ground, the Poor Law Commissioners will have great pleasure in co-operating with the Board for this purpose, and they will request the architect of the Commission to furnish the Guardians with a plan, specification, and working drawings, for the proposed building, together with an estimate of the probable expense.

The Commissioners have only to add, that the plan which has been adopted in a few Unions, of relieving fever patients in a part of the workhouse, has never received the sanction of the Commissioners; and is, in fact, a practice of which they strongly disapprove, as being dangerous to the health of the other inmates of the workhouse.

I am, Sir, &c.,

ARTHUR MOORE, Chief Clerk.

No. 19.

TEMPORARY FEVER WARDS.—LETTER of INSTRUCTIONS from the POOR LAW COMMISSIONERS to the ASSISTANT COMMISSIONERS relative to the provision of TEMPORARY ACCOMMODATION for FEVER PATIENTS in cases of necessity.

*Poor Law Commission Office, Dublin,
12th January, 1846.*

SIR,

ADVERTING to their circular of the 29th ultimo, respecting the means at the disposal of Boards of Guardians for the relief of destitute poor persons affected with fever, the Poor Law Commissioners desire to observe, in reference to the possibility of fever spreading through parts of Ireland in consequence of the apprehended scarcity, that the erection of permanent fever wards, to be commenced early in spring, would manifestly not enable the Guardians to relieve fever patients in those buildings during many months of the present year.

The Commissioners are therefore desirous of directing your particular attention to an expedient which was adopted in the Galway Union in 1844.

In September of that year fever prevailed there to an alarming extent. Under the advice of the Commissioners, temporary fever wards were erected of timber on the workhouse ground. Between September 11, 1844, and February, 1845, as many as 1096 fever patients were received and treated there, of whom 995 were discharged cured. The whole cost of the buildings and of fitting them up was not more than 166*l*.

The Commissioners transmit herewith, for your information, a letter dated December 20, 1845, from Mr. Wilkinson, containing a sketch and estimate for the erection of temporary buildings to be used as fever hospitals in connection with Union workhouses; and likewise another letter from the same gentleman, dated the 22nd ultimo, containing detailed information respecting the temporary fever wards erected on the workhouse ground of the Galway Union.

If fever prevails to any extent in any Union in your district in which there is not already sufficient accommodation for fever patients, the Commissioners request that you will place yourself in immediate communication with the Guardians on the subject, and call their attention to the plan pursued in Galway Union, unless local circumstances should render it more advisable to hire or rent houses for the reception of fever patients.

If, however, fever does not prevail in such Unions, it is not the wish of the Commissioners that you should suggest to the respective Boards of Guardians the erection of merely temporary fever wards, lest reliance on this resource should indispose them to incur the expense of a permanent building for the same purpose.

I have, &c.,
ARTHUR MOORE, Chief Clerk.

Assistant Poor Law Commissioner.

ENCLOSURE No. 1, accompanying foregoing Letter.

Communication from Geo. Wilkinson, Esq., Architect to the Poor Law Commission, respecting the Erection of Temporary Accommodation for the Reception of Fever Patients; with two Drawings.

*Architect's Office, Poor Law Commission,
Dublin, 20th December, 1845.*

GENTLEMEN,

In accordance with your instructions, I have prepared a sketch and estimate for the erection of temporary buildings, to be used as fever hospitals, in connection with those Union Workhouses in which it may be considered advisable to make such erections, prior to the completion of any permanent building for that purpose.

Referring to those Unions in which fever hospitals have been erected, or in which plans for such have been determined on, I find that the average size of the hospital bears the proportion of about 1-15th to the accommodation of the respective workhouses. In some extreme instances, however, the accommodation of the fever hospital is not equal to more than 1-25th of that of the workhouse, while in others, in which the average is exceeded, the proportion is considerably increased: this is the case at Drogheda and Belfast; for instance, the Drogheda workhouse has accommodation for 800 inmates, and the fever hospital is to contain 100 beds. At Belfast, the workhouse is built for 1000 inmates, and the hospital for 150 beds; this number is but half of that which the Guardians wished to provide for, and still hope hereafter to effect. In nearly all recent instances, the tendency has been gradually to increase the extent of accommodation originally provided in the fever hospitals, and also, very properly, to add to their convenience by providing suitable out-offices for them.

I therefore consider that the temporary hospitals which may be provided, should contain accommodation fully equal to the average of those permanent buildings which have already been adopted in different Unions.

The accompanying sketches will show the arrangements I have to recommend for these temporary hospitals. The drawing, No. I., shows the general plan of one of the workhouses and the site on which it is placed, surrounded by boundary walls.

The two portions coloured red, and lettered A and B respectively, show where the proposed temporary buildings may be placed, viz., against a portion of the boundary wall, as at A, on the part of the site best suited for it; and the other, as letter B, in the shape of a double building, in the centre of the yards of the infirmary building, the wall at present dividing the yards for the males from that for the females being the division between the wards for men and women; this latter arrangement is, however, only suitable where the number of beds to be provided for does not exceed 25 or 30.

I am of opinion that the arrangement shown by sketch letter A will be the best to follow, and it has the advantage of being more distant from the workhouse, and admits of extension, if it should be desired; the former (letter B) possesses, however, some convenience in its connection with the infirmary offices, where arrangements might be made for cooking, &c.

The construction of the buildings (as explained by a note below the sections A and B) is intended to be of timber only, so as to be capable of speedy execution. I have no doubt that, in most instances, a building suitable for 40 beds may be erected, and made fit for occupation, within a period of four weeks; and where local facilities exist for obtaining a good supply of materials, and a respectable contractor, the work may be completed in little more than half that time.

The buildings, it will be seen by sections A and B, are 11 feet wide, which allows a passage of upwards of four feet at the foot of each bed. I propose that a space of four feet should be calculated for the standing of each bed. The length of the building (in feet), divided by four, will give its capacity. Or the number of beds required to be provided multiplied by four, will give the length of the building to be erected. In addition to this, there should be provided a cookhouse of not less than 15 to 20 feet in length, and if a washhouse and shed are to be provided, 15 or 20 feet more should be calculated for.

I find the cost of the building will be at the rate of about 9*l.* for every 10 feet in length, for the single building (as plan A); and 19*l.* for every 10 feet in length for the double building (as plan B).

Thus the actual cost of a building on plan A, which is 210 feet in length, at 9*l.* for 10 lineal feet, amounts to 189*l.*; and the accommodation it would afford would be two wards (one for males and the other for females), each 60 feet long, and two convalescent wards, each 30 feet long, with an additional 30 feet for offices; the four wards being equal to 180 feet lineal, would allow four feet to each bed, and would accommodate 45 patients; the cost of the whole would be 189*l.* as before stated.

This sum of 189*l.* being the total cost of the building, will be reduced by the value of the materials when the building shall be removed, and which may be calculated at or about one-third of the original cost, within the period of 12 or 18 months after the execution of the work. The fair cost, therefore, of a temporary hospital for 45 beds, for 12 or 18 months, may be considered to be 120*l.*; and I have no doubt that persons would be found willing to erect and maintain such a building for the period above-mentioned for the sum of 100*l.*; and in order to prevent the continuance of the building, I would suggest that contracts for the erection and removal of the building, within a specified time, would be most desirable for all parties.

I may add, that the cost of a permanent building, affording accommodation for 45 beds, with proper out-offices, varies from 800*l.* to 900*l.*

I have, &c.,

GEO. WILKINSON.

To the Poor Law Commissioners.

ENCLOSURE No. 2.

Further Report from the Architect to the Poor Law Commissioners, relating to temporary Fever Wards.

*Architect's Office, Poor Law Commission,
Dublin, 22nd December, 1845.*

GENTLEMEN,

REFERRING to my Report of the 20th instant, on the subject of providing temporary Fever Hospitals in Union Workhouses, I beg to submit, for the information of your Board, a communication I have this day received, describing the temporary buildings which have been erected and put into use in the Galway Union Workhouse. The buildings being very similar in character to those described in my Report, my chief object in submitting the documents to your Board is to show in what respects those I have recommended for adoption, differ from the buildings which have been already built and occupied.

First, there is a double shed erected in the infirmary yard, in just the same position as shown on my plan (letter B), and recommended for adoption by my Report. The room erected differs from that I proposed, in being only nine feet wide, and six feet four inches high, instead of eleven feet wide, and seven feet six inches high, in the side-walls, as shown in my sketch.

The room is also without any flooring. I have, however, recommended that boarded floors be used.

In addition to the double shed in the infirmary yard, there has been also a single shed erected in the idiot's yard. This, however, has not been occupied. The double shed building (similar to that marked B in my sketch) appears to have been sufficient.

The cost of the double and single shed is about 100*l.*; and making allowance for the smaller size of the Galway sheds, and the absence of flooring, it will be satisfactory to your Board to find that the estimate I have given closely approximates to the actual cost of a similar extent of accommodation provided by the sheds in Galway Workhouse.

In the arrangement of the beds, it will be seen that two beds are put together in the sheds at Galway, and a space of one foot eight inches allowed on each side the double beds; this gives less than three feet in width to each bed; and multiplying the width of the building by the height,—namely, nine feet in width by nine feet in height,—a cubical space of 243 feet only has been allowed to each inmate. I have proposed four feet space for each bed; the width of the building being eleven feet, and the height upwards of nine feet six inches, the cubical space to each person would equal 400 feet.

The result to be derived from the enclosed information is, that the space which I have allowed for 45 beds, may, by placing the beds close together (as has been done at Galway), be made to contain as many as 55 beds; and also, that the width of the building (eleven feet) may be reduced to nine feet, without being narrower than that at Galway.

These are changes, however, which I do not recommend for adoption, as I believe that the plans I have made are not in any respect too liberal in their arrangements for the purpose intended; and I would advise that if any departure be made from them, for the sake of greater economy of outlay, that such changes should be allowed to originate altogether with the respective Boards of Guardians. In any case, I have considered that it would meet with the approval of your Board that I should submit the above particulars for consideration.

I avail myself, also, of this opportunity to advert to the case of the Galway Union, as exhibiting the fact that the erection of a temporary fever hospital appears likely, by the continuance of the temporary building, to prevent the erection of a more suitable permanent structure.

I have, &c.,

To the Poor Law Commissioners.

GEO. WILKINSON.

Copy of a Letter accompanying the foregoing Report.

SIR,

Union Workhouse, Galway, 19th December, 1845.

THE only shed that was occupied during the fever here, was the one marked X, as it answered for males and females, the yard wall being in the centre; it contained 50 beds. The other shed, marked H, was not occupied, although it is the best of the two; it would contain 50 beds, by placing two beds together, and at each side to have a passage one foot eight inches. The Guardians ordered me to have a large shed erected to contain 100 beds; and after giving them a sketch of it, they changed their minds to the one marked H. It is well-built of yellow pine, tarred over when built, and I again gave it a coat of tar and pitch last harvest. I did not make any floors in the sheds. In fact, before it was finished, it was filled with patients. The sheds are likely to last for 20 years, by coating them with pitch and tar when required. The only accommodation allowed for the nurses was a boiler set in the small room opposite the nurses' room, where they cooked, &c. Perhaps the best information I could give on the subject is to send you the sketch that I got the sheds built by; it is rough, but you will excuse the draftsman. I have not an account of the expense of each; but between the erection of the two sheds, and making 120 beds, it came to about 100*l.*

No. 21.—continued.

The amounts included in column 8 of the preceding table consist of the sum total of the arrears ordered to be collected with each of the several Rates made. It may consequently happen, and does without doubt happen, in many cases, that arrears of rate are repeated and included twice, or even oftener, in the sum total of the arrears of the several rates. The total sums, therefore, given in this column will not accurately represent the difference between the amount of rates imposed and the amount of rates collected or cancelled. The sum given in each case is the sum total of the amounts which have been in arrear on the several rates, as given in detail in the return to the House of Lords from which this summary is made. (Session 1846, No. 8).

The amounts in column 9 include in many cases sums assessed upon the occupiers of small tenements rated previously to the passing of the Irish Poor Law Amendment Act (6 & 7 Vict. c. 92). After the passing of that Act occupiers of tenements not exceeding 4*l.*, or in certain boroughs 8*l.*, were exempted from the rate, for which the immediate lessor was made liable; and thereupon, in many instances, the Boards of Guardians cancelled rates which were in arrear on such holdings as uncollectable; and in such cases the amounts are included in the sums entered in this column.

Return of Unions in which a Rate had not been made on the 5th of August, 1845; and of Rates made since that date in such Unions.

Total; 180 Unions		18,865,565*8,174,268†	2050	3293	1050		4343

* The area of the respective Unions, given in the two preceding tables, is taken from the tabular returns compiled from such sources of information as were available on the 1st of January 1841. The area of the respective Unions, the Ordnance Survey not being at that period completed. The numbers given afford an approximation to the relative area of the Unions; although the total does not correspond with the total number of acres in Ireland, as shown by the Ordnance Survey and the Census Report (1841), in the latter of which the total number of acres is stated as 20,808,271.

† The total population of Ireland in 1841, according to the Census Report, was 8,175,194, being 856 more than the number here given. The difference arises from the difference of some of the townlands in some instances, which has prevented the return of population here given, from being made to agree with the total in the Census Report, from the necessity of identifying the small divisions in those cases.
